

GOOD FORESTRY PRACTICES PAY BIG DIVIDENDS, SAYS ROBERT S. MARSH

Extension Forester Now Available to Advise Chowan Farmers

Jack Sylvester, Extension Forester for Chowan, Bertie, Martin and Hertford Counties, is available to advise farmers in the latest scientific forestry practices, according to Robert S. Marsh, assistant county agent. If a farmer has a tract of timber which needs thinning, culling, or is diseased, Mr. Sylvester will give him advice free. In case a farmer has timber which he plans to sell, Mr. Sylvester will advise him on how many board feet of timber is in the tract, and how it can be most profitably marketed, i.e., for piling, cross ties, or lumber, provided the farmer will carry out the recommended practices. Due to a very busy schedule, Mr. Sylvester can not give an estimate on the amount of timber a farmer has if the timber is to be clean cut and the ground cleared. However, if the timber owner agrees to leave seed trees and not to cut the small trees except for thinning purposes, then Mr. Sylvester will be glad to assist him.

Mr. Sylvester will spend one-fourth of his time helping Chowan County farmers provided they request his help.

There are many acres of cut-over, burned off, idle acres of land in Chowan County which at the present time are non-productive. Taxes must be paid on this land regardless of how little it produces, so that something of value should be growing on it.

Loblolly pine seedlings, one year old, five to twelve inches high, are available to farmers for $2.50 per thousand, delivered. Orders will be taken in the County Agent's Office until February 25. Mr. Sylvester will furnish the transplanting tools and explain how to use them in order to set a seedling properly. One man and a boy can set 1,000 to 1,500 seedlings in a day. Seedlings should be set six by seven feet apart, which gives 1,037 plants per acre.

Red cedar trees can be set out along ditch banks, beside the farm roads, and other places where they will not be in the way, and in four to five years be sold as Christmas trees at a nice profit. In 1938 a 4-H Club Member in Wayne County set out red cedars on two acres of poor sandy land. Within five years after his seedlings were set, he sold 630 trees which produced a gross income of $785.33.

Red cedar seedlings are available at $3.00 per thousand, delivered, with a limit of 500 per person. Five hundred seedlings will set about one third of an acre. As a general rule, the cedars can be sold for Christmas trees as fast as they grow, however, they make excellent posts if they are left to grow for several years. Black locust and black walnut seedlings are available at $2.50 and $10.00 per thousand respectively.

If a Chowan farmer wants to get seedlings, he should order them immediately. Stocks may be used only for forest planting, erosion control, and windbreaks. It cannot be used for ornamental planting, and may not be resold as planting stock. Orders for less than 500 are not accepted. The trees will be delivered as near as possible to the date requested. Important—Orders will not be accepted after February 25.

Applications for seedlings and also requests for Mr. Sylvester may be left at the County Agent's office.
