

Chowan Trio Goes To Field Meeting

Observe Experiments at Tidewater Experiment Station Friday

On Friday afternoon two farmers and County Agent C. W. Overman attended the field meeting at the Tidewater Experiment Station, observing soybean and pasture experiments. In soybeans, the Ogden appears to be the outstanding variety at the present time, with Roanoke running a close second. It was definitely demonstrated that a sufficient amount of lime, phosphate and potash is very essential to obtaining good yields on soybeans and that with a proper balance of these food elements they pay good dividends in increased yields compared with no fertilization. In the pasture experiments Ladino Clover and Fescue looked very good, also Big Trefoil and orchard grass looked very good. Mr. Overman's preference for Chowan County is Ladino Clover and Fescue since the Trefoil is quite a new crop. It was very evident that Army worms did attack Ladino Clover and did not appear to attack the Big Trefoil. This may be of some valuable significance if Big Trefoil proves to be about as good grazing crop for cattle and hogs as Ladino Clover, according to Mr. Overman.

Edenton 1, Colerain 0
Scoring a run in the first inning and a downpour of rain which stopped the game in the eighth inning gave the Colonials a win over Colerain on the latter's diamond Wednesday night of last week by a 1-0 count.

Webb for Edenton and Dowdy for Colerain were the opposing moundmen, each going the entire route and each giving up six hits.

In the sixth inning the Colonials' manager, Gashouse Parker, was ejected from the game and fined $25 for arguing with the umpires regarding a decision. He was replaced on first base by Dick Mauney.

Edenton 8, Colerain 2
On Hicks Field Thursday night the Colonials handed Colerain an 8-2 drubbing with Blackwell on the mound for the visitors. Blackwell in his first game against the Colonials pitched a no-hit game, letting the Edenton batters down with only four scattered singles.

In Thursday night's game the Colonials chalked up nine hits, two of which were home run clouts by Trot Leary. The Colonials had a big second inning, when three hits netted three runs. Parker walked and Byrum and Murphy singled to fill the bases. Russell Wheeler then singled, scoring Parker. Herman bunted and was safe on first with Byrum coming home. Murphy scored the third run on Hoch's grounder.

In the third inning Bohonko doubled, Leary was safe on an error and Bohonko romped home. In the fifth Leary singled, but was forced out at second on Byrum's grounder. Murphy walked and Byrum scored on a wild throw. Trot Leary's first home run came in the seventh with no one on bases.

The Colonials' last two runs were made in the eighth. Bohonko was hit by a pitched ball and it was then that Leary connected for his second home run of the game.

Colerain scored its first run in the fourth. Fowler was hit by a pitched ball and scored on Moore's single. The other run was made in the ninth inning when Fowler connected for a home run.

Herman went the route on the mound for Edenton giving up only five scattered hits.

Edenton 3, Windsor 5
Playing 11 innings on Hicks Field Friday night, the Colonials dropped a hard-fought game to the Windsor Rebels 5-3.

Edenton scored a run in the first inning, when Joe Wheeler hit one over left field fence on the first ball pitched. Both teams then played airtight ball until the seventh, when Taylor hit a home run for Windsor. In their half of the same inning Joe Wheeler walked and Bohonko connected for a home run over the right-field fence. The Rebels knotted the count in the eighth, when two runs were tallied. Wade, on the mound for Edenton, developed a stretch of wildness and walked Thorne and Holland. Bell singled, bringing in a run and the second runner chased home on a long fly to center field.

Windsor won the game by scoring a pair of runs on four hits in the 11th inning. Taylor doubled and was sacrificed by Aycock. Wilhelm then bunted, scoring Taylor. Thorne made first on a bunt and Aycock scored on Holland's single.

Wade for Edenton gave up nine hits, four of which were made in the final inning. Holland, Windsor pitcher, allowed only six hits, with Joe Wheeler and Bohonko leading with two each.

Edenton 6, Windsor 2
In Windsor Saturday night, the Colonials downed the Rebels 6-2, with Lester Jordan opposing Tutweiler on the mound. The latter gave up 10 hits, while Jordan was touched for 8 hits.

Windsor scored two runs in the first inning when Jordan had a hard time finding the plate. He walked Moorehouse and Cross, who scored on a sizzling single by McComas. The Rebels were headed for a scoring spree when the Colonials pulled off a triple play, Murphy to Bohonko to Parker to end the threat. After that the Rebels were held scoreless.

The Colonials scored their first run in the third when Hoch reached first on an error and scored on Joe Wheeler's triple. Two more counters were added in the fourth when Leary singled and Stalls hammered out a home run in his first appearance with the Colonials as utility player.

In a big eighth inning the Colonials scored three more runs. Leary and Stalls singled and Murphy walked, filling the bases. Pratt then singled, scoring Leary and Stalls, followed by a single by Jordan, scoring Murphy.

Trot Leary led the Colonials at bat with three hits. Joe Wheeler and Stalls made two hits each. Taylor and Evans led with two hits each for Windsor.

Edenton 6, Elizabeth City 1
The Colonials took to the slants of Barnett, on the mound for Elizabeth City on Hicks Field Sunday afternoon, chalking up 11 hits which netted six runs to win the game 6-1.

The Senators scored their lone run in the first inning when Wright walked, Polizos sacrificed and Goodwin singled. Wright scored on Allen's long fly. For the remainder of the game, Dick Mauney, Colonial moundman, had the Senators handcuffed, allowing only four hits during the game. He fanned six, while Barnett did not have a single strike-out to his credit.

The Colonials registered two runs in the first inning. Hoch beat out a grounder, but was forced out at second on Byrum's grounder, the latter going to second on a bad throw at first. Bohonko singled, scoring Byrum, and later Bohonko was signaled to come home by the umpire due to a balk by Barnett.

Stalls, Edenton's new utility player, smacked a home run in the second, which ended the scoring until the sixth when the Colonials touched Barnett for four hits, netting three runs. Leary, Pratt and Mauney singled, with Leary coming home on Mauney's hit. Hoch then tripled, scoring Pratt and Mauney.

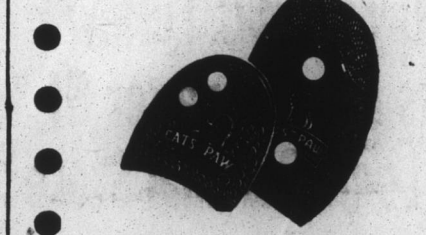

Hoch was the leading Colonial batter with three hits. Bohonko, Leary and Mauney made two hits each. Allen led the Senators with two of their four hits.

A full gorged belly never produced a sprightly mind.
