

Clara Lee Cameron Weds John Privott

Wedding Solemnized In White Hill Church September 5th

Miss Clara Lee Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex H. Cameron, and John Privott, of Chapel Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Privott of Edenton, were united in marriage on Sunday evening, September 5, at 7 o'clock in the White Hill Presbyterian Church. The Rev. C. N. Voyles, of Gastonia, former pastor of the bride, officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

In the decorations native pine was used as a background. The pulpit railings covered in white were entwined with ivy. Before the altar was a trellis with streamers of ivy flanked with seven-branch candelabra with cathedral white candles. To complete the scene were tall baskets of white dahlias and small white mums. On the piano was an arrangement of white gladioli and dahlias. The reserved pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbon and lace fern.

Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Mildred McLeon of Sanford prior to the ceremony. Mrs. Margaret Stone was vocalist, accompanied by Miss Kathryn Ann Knight, both of Sanford.

Promptly on the ceremony hour the bride entered the church with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a gown of pure Japanese silk, the material sent home from Japan by the bridegroom while serving in the U. S. Army there. The fitted bodice was finished with a sweetheart neckline with long fitted sleeves that peeked over the hand. The gathered skirt fell into a court train. Her fingertip veil of illusion net was caught back with a spray of lily of the valley and her only ornament was a brooch pin. The bride carried a bouquet of white orchids, lily of the valley and stephanotis.

Miss Lucille Cameron was her sister's maid of honor. She wore floor length dress of lavender organza and wore lavender lace gloves. Her net veil of lavender was caught back identical to the bride's. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow mums and rose buds.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Cleo Pierce of Sanford and Mrs. H. R. Peele of Edenton, sister of the bridegroom. Both wore identical gowns of yellow organza and carried colonial bouquets of pink rose buds.

The father of the bridegroom was best man and ushers were H. R. Peele of Edenton, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Carlton Privott of Edenton, brother of the bridegroom, Tom Cameron, brother of the bride, Cleo Pierce of Sanford, John C. Wicker and J. W. Hall of Chapel Hill.

The mother of the bride was dressed in aqua two-piece and wore a shoulder corsage of pink rose buds.

The bridegroom's mother was dressed in fuchsia crepe dress and wore a corsage of white rose buds.

Mrs. Privott, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cameron, is a graduate of Cameron High School and received her business training at Teachers' Training College, Boone, and King's in Raleigh. For several months she has held a position with radio station WWGP, Sanford. She has also been active in White Hill Presbyterian Church and other affairs of the community. She is a descendant of the Cameron family that once lived where the church now stands, and was active in the organization of the church.

Mr. Privott is a graduate of Chowan High School. He saw service throughout the war in the Pacific theater of war. He is now studying at the University of North Carolina, where he and his bride will live.

For going away the bride wore a two-piece fall suit of yellow with brown accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Those from Edenton at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Privott, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Peele, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Privott. From Guilford College, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Evans and Wallace Kirby of Roxboro, also Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Swans and daughter of Erwin and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Cameron of Aberdeen.

Directing the wedding were Mrs. W. A. Gaines and Mrs. G. P. Jones.

Immediately following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. John Fields entertained at their home in Sanford. Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wilson of Carthage and were introduced to the receiving line by Mr. and Mrs. Fields. The receiving line was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron, the bridal couple, Mr. and Mrs. Privott, members of the wedding party and Mrs. Kate Cameron, mother of the bride. The reception room was decorated with fern and summer flowers. On the buffet was an arrangement of white gladioli and dahlias. The table was covered with a hand-made lace cloth. The bride's cake was in the center with ivy carrying out the color scheme. Burning white candles were the only illumination.

Mrs. P. L. Dark presided at the register and Mrs. Robert Dark, Jr., stood at the dining room door. Miss Margaret Blake poured lime punch, Miss Kathryn Wicker served the cake, Miss Mildred McLeod served mints and nuts, assisted by Mrs. Wingate Branch and Mrs. Jack Fields.

Mrs. Thomas McNielle directed the guests to the gift room, where Mrs. Jack Hackney presided. Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Will Fields. Around 70 guests called.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cameron and

Mr. and Mrs. John Fields were hostesses at a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Fields home in Sanford Sunday.

The luncheon was served buffet style from a beautiful appointed table carrying out the bridal colors of green and white and consisted of baked ham, chicken, potato salad, sliced tomatoes, stuffed celery with deviled eggs, pimento sandwiches, pickles, hot biscuits, devil food cake, hot coffee and ice tea.

Invited guests were out of town people attending the wedding, the bride's family, Mrs. W. A. Gaines and Mrs. G. P. Jones.

LEAD
in our plants

Lead is absolutely vital to telephone service. Today it would require a pole 1000 feet high to hold all of the connecting telephone wires now placed in a single 3-inch lead-covered cable. Lead continues to be in short supply with vital atomic research having first claim. The telephone industry like other industries receives only a rationed quota.

Our expansion program, although proceeding at a fast pace, would be completed even faster if it were not for this continued shortage of vitally needed lead.
