

SOCIETY NEWS

Miss Rebecca Colwell, Miss Mary Lee Copeland and Miss Louise Smith plan to attend a state mid-year council meeting of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the Hollywood Hotel, Southern Pines, Saturday and Sunday, November 20-21.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Judson Peake of Churchill, Virginia, left Edenton Saturday, November 13 for Eagle Pass, Texas, where they will spend the winter. They were accompanied by their granddaughter, little Miss Milly Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Taylor of Edenton.

B. T. Boyd, Jr., of Greenville spent the week-end in Edenton visiting friends.

W. Jim Daniels and Raleigh Hollowell returned home Sunday afternoon after spending the latter part of last week attending Red Men meetings in Rocky Mount, Gastonia and Reidsville.

Miss Mamie Thomas Hogg spent last week as the guest of Mrs. Belle W. Parker at her home in Tyner.

W. M. Rhoades left early Tuesday morning for New Bern, where he is attending a Scottish Rite ceremony. He will return home today (Thursday).

Lance Bufflap of Wallace spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edwin Bufflap.

NO INTIMATION

Some misunderstanding apparently developed as the result of a story in The Herald last week to the effect that Ernest Kehayes' prize winning dog in the recent field trials disappeared after the hunt. The Herald was informed that the dog disappeared Friday night following the Wednesday trials, so that no intimation was intended that the dog might have been taken by any who attended the contest.

Welfare Conference In Ahoskie Nov. 23rd

The Northeastern District Public Welfare Conference will be held in Ahoskie in the Basnight Memorial Methodist Church, on November 23, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning. Twenty-one counties will be represented. Lieutenant - Governor-Elect Pat Taylor of Wadesboro, North Carolina, a native of Hertford County and one of the state's outstanding speakers, will address the audience on "Public Welfare Needs in North Carolina". Dr. Ellen Winston, State Commissioner of Welfare, will discuss Public Welfare objectives to be brought before the coming session of the legislature.

The members of this conference are especially anxious to have present the Chairman of all Welfare committees of civic and church groups, County Commissioners, Welfare Board members, members of the Legislature and other interested lay people. Any person who might wish to attend this conference and who does not have means of transportation will please contact the office of the local Welfare Department (telephone number 86) and transportation will be provided.

J. P. Perry Partner In White's Barber Shop

Ernest White, as of Wednesday, sold half of his interest in White's Barber Shop, to J. P. Perry. Mr. Perry has been employed by Mr. White as a barber for 6½ years, so that the new partner is no stranger in Edenton.

The name will be changed from White's Barber Shop to White & Perry Barber Shop, with the concern continuing in business on East King Street.

Three Rotary Clubs In Attendance Contest

Edenton's Rotary Club, aside from having an attendance contest among its own members, is teamed up with the Plymouth and Windsor Rotary Clubs in an attendance contest which will last through December. The inter-club contest was announced at last week's Rotary meeting by William and Frank Holmes, captains in the local club contest.

High School News

By GLENN RAE TWIDDY
The Columbia Wildcats visited the Edenton team last Friday night for a very muddy game. The Aces had a very bad casualty. Albert Lassiter had the misfortune to get his leg broken. He is in the Chowan Hospital out at the Edenton Air Base. However, the Aces won with a score of 32-0. The Aces will travel to Kinston next Friday for the last game of the season, unless there is a Thanksgiving game scheduled. After the game with Columbia the Juniors sponsored a dance. The armory was nicely decorated for this event.

The Student Council gave prizes for the best poster on keeping the school grounds clean. Two first prizes were awarded. One to Errol Flynn and one to John Kramer and two second prizes to Carolista Fletcher and Ellis McClenney.

The Junior classes are sponsoring a cakewalk in the auditorium. It will last from 11 o'clock to 12:30 o'clock. There will be cake sales and chances. This will be given on Friday.

Mr. Thompson's and Miss Walker's freshman classes are scheduled to give their program in the auditorium soon. The sophomore class postponed theirs until Thursday, November 18th. The programs are very entertaining and everyone looks forward to them.

Dinner Climax To Education Week

given by Miss Nancy Darden of the faculty. Miss Darden recently attended this conference in Washington, D. C., and brought back valuable information concerning this bill and the efforts being made to secure its passage.

Following group singing under the leadership of Miss Lena Jones, Prinicipal F. L. Larson introduced Miss Andrews, the principal speaker. Miss Andrews discussed some of the findings of the North Carolina Education Commission in its recently completed study. Miss Andrews quoted from the report, bringing pertinent information as to the needs of the schools. She emphasized the need for greater financial support, both in construction and maintenance of buildings, and in securing and holding qualified teachers.

Two Negro Quartets In Battle Of Songs

Two Negro quartets will oppose each other in a "battle of song" Sunday, November 28, when the Silver Gate Quartet of Lynchaven, Va., will oppose the Albemarle Four Quartet of Edenton. The two groups will sing in the Providence Baptist auditorium at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon and again at Ryan's Grove Baptist Church at 8 o'clock.

The contest is sponsored in Edenton by the Young People's Choir, and proceeds will be used to pay for new robes which were recently purchased.

Charlie Belch Dies As Result Of Stroke

Charlie E. Belch, 78, died Monday at the home of his son, Harry Belch, in the Macedonia section as the result of a stroke which occurred Saturday. Mr. Belch, however, had been in failing health for a number of years. He was a native of Hertford County, coming to Chowan as a young man about 60 years ago, where he engaged in farming until his health began to fail. His wife died January 5th of this year.

Surviving are two sons, Harry and
