

T. Woody Miller Dies From Auto Injuries

Former Edenton Couple Run Down By Automobile In Riverdale

T. Woody Miller, father of Mrs. Watson Bell, passed away in a hospital at Riverdale, Md., near Washington, D. C., Saturday near midnight. Mr. Miller's death was brought about as the result of an accident a week earlier when he and his wife were run down by an automobile while crossing a street in Riverdale. He never regained consciousness after the accident. Mrs. Miller was also seriously injured and is still confined to the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Miller formerly lived in Edenton but left about 25 years ago. The couple had planned to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Monday of this week. Surviving the deceased are his wife, Mrs. Lola Haste Miller; two daughters, Mrs. Watson Bell of Edenton and Mrs. Montez Clarke of Riverdale, Md.; two sisters, Mrs. T. C. Brown and Mrs. Rosa Miller, both of Colerain; and two brothers, Charlie Miller of Washington, N. C., and J. Frank Miller of Edenton. Funeral services were held at Riverdale Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

St. Paul's Divided On Kind Of Restoration

sound and extravagant. The new plan proposes substituting a flat ceiling for the present barrel ceiling. This, in my opinion, is the most destructive change advised, and would completely destroy the beauty and devotional feeling of the interior as shown in the picture. The church would look like a hall with nothing to suggest a church but the memorial window. That, I understand, was a concession by the architect to the congregation, but looks out of place in so secular an interior. In all the great churches and cathedrals I can recall in America or abroad there is a Gothic, or barrel or vaulted ceiling. It seems to be the expression in architecture of the devotion, the aspiration of man. It was Ruskin, I believe, who described the Gothic architecture as a prayer in stone. A flat ceiling in a church with a spire and a pointed roof is, indeed, an inconsistency. The architect confesses to certain inconsistencies in his design. But he condemns the present interior of the church for its inconsistency, which is, indeed, an inconsistency in him. If I admired the changes proposed for the church I would disapprove saddling future generations with a debt they did not incur and of ignoring the wishes of the living minority who do not approve the restoration, and I would disapprove, as I tried to say at the meeting, of spending so great a proportion of the funds of the church unnecessarily on the building of the church, which are needed for its life—its activities: Missions, seminaries (teaching) and relief at home and in foreign fields. This is the Living Church for which the Son of God Himself made the supreme sacrifice. MRS. MARY L. ANDERSON WOOD.
