

HOME AND GARDEN TOUR THIS WEEK

of the Jaycees, who will aid in transportation. Members of the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, assisted by juniors and seniors of Edenton High School will act as guides.
A holiday air will prevail as the Edenton Band parades Friday and Saturday.
The Edenton armory has been designated as a stop Friday and Saturday for busloads bringing box lunches. Tables and toilet facilities will be available to the visitors. Tea will be served from 2 to 5 o'clock at Pembroke Hall by Mrs. William Rosevear and at Bandon Mrs. Inglis Fletcher will serve refreshments between the same hours.
Mrs. Earnhardt stated Tuesday that reservations continue to come in for the tour, so that she, as well as club members and many other interested people, are anticipating one of the most outstanding affairs ever held in Edenton.

Through the courtesy of Robert Lee Humber of Greenville, a series of etchings by Louis Orr will be on display at the Court House for the benefit of visitors. Four of the etchings are on Edenton subjects. Mr. Orr has been commissioned to make 50 etchings covering artistic, cultural and historical monuments of North Carolina. After 10 years he has completed 35 of the ultimate 50, making it the most important work of art ever executed on any state in the Union.

Mr. Orr lived and studied in France for 35 years and is one of the two Americans represented in the Louvre Museum in France.

Mrs. Earnhardt feels that Edenton is very fortunate to secure the etchings in connection with the tour and urges every precaution in protecting them while here.

Mrs. Earnhardt also stated that a room will be available at the hotel for overnight guests who may want to play cards or enjoy a social hour. Headquarters at Hotel Joseph Hewes will be open at 9 o'clock each morning during the tour and any information can be furnished by telephoning No. 560.

Attractive signs have been placed at all places included in the tour and arrows have also been placed along the route to enable visitors to find the places. A map also appears on the back of the ticket, specifying sites to be visited and about where they are located.

Twenty-four sites are listed on the tour as follows:

The old Bond House on Court Street, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Leary.

Hayes, home of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Wood.

Martinique, in upper Chowan County, occupied by Mrs. W. H. Winborne.

Coke Farm on the Edenton-Hertford highway, home of Mrs. J. H. Haskett.

Greenfield, residence of Mrs. George C. Wood.

Bandon, in upper Chowan County, now the home of John and Inglis Fletcher.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church on Broad Street.

Chowan County Court House on East King Street.

Cupola House on Broad Street.

O'Malley's Ordinary, home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davis on East King Street.

Joseph Hewes House, on West King Street, home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Conger.

Sawyer House, West Eden Street, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Elliott.

Littlejohn House, West Eden Street, home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Byrum.

Iredell House on East Church Street, recently purchased by the Edenton Tea Party Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution.

Athol, home of Colonel and Mrs. Raymond E. Hopper at the Marine Corps Air Station.

Mulberry Hill, along the Albemarle Sound, home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Wood.

Clement Hall on the Suffolk highway, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William E. Bond.

Albania, home of Mrs. M. G. Brown, near Brown Lumber Company.

Customs House on Court House Green, home of Mrs. Clara Preston.

Beverly Hall, West King Street, home of Judge and Mrs. Richard Dilard Dixon.

Booth House, North Granville Street, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Plant.

Hotel Joseph Hewes, East King Street, headquarters for the tour and site of King's Arms Tavern and Hornblow's Tavern.

Strawberry Hill, East Church Street extended, home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Boyce.

Pembroke Hall, West King Street, home of Col. and Mrs. William Rosevear.

April Term Chowan Superior Court Ends

Paul Partin as secretary.

Walter Cohoon served as solicitor for the first term in Edenton.

Results of the criminal cases tried were as follows:

Henry W. Ewing, colored, was charged with murdering his common-law wife, Dorothy Lee Hodges. The State accepted a plea of second degree murder and Ewing was sentenced to not less than 20 nor more than 25 years in State prison.

Gordon Duncan Cummings was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants. John W. Graham, counsel for the defendant, asked that the case be remanded to Recorder's Court. The State accepted the motion, but Cummings was required to pay costs which have accrued in Superior Court.

Stancel V. Davenport, who was charged with reckless driving, was found not guilty.

James Lee Holley, colored, charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, inflicting serious injury, entered a plea of guilty of assault with a deadly weapon, which was accepted by the State. Holley assaulted Clarence Holley with a knife. The defendant was sentenced to 18 months on the roads, sentence to begin on the expiration of a term of six months formerly imposed in Recorder's Court on March 25, 1944, for assault on a female.

Mattie Gilliam, colored, entered a plea of guilty of assault with a deadly weapon on Evelyn Perry. The latter was stabbed in the breast with an ice pick. The defendant was sentenced to six months in the county jail, assigned to work around the jail under the supervision of the sheriff and jailer.

Morgan Hudson entered a plea of guilty to breaking and entering and was sentenced to eight months on the roads, execution of the sentence suspended on remaining of good behavior and not violate any law for 12 months and upon further condition that defendant agree in open court that should he be convicted of public drunkenness at any time during the next 12 months, the solicitor may pray for judgment, putting the sentence into effect in the same manner that probation judgments are put in effect, to which Hudson agreed. In the case of Leonard Randolph

Hollingsworth, colored, charged with larceny from Elliott Cleaners, the State accepted a motion for a nol pros with leave.

Mack Robinson, colored, was sentenced to two years on the roads on a charge of breaking and entering the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Taylor.

The five civil cases continued were: Town of Edenton vs. J. T. Gibbs; the matter of the purported will of Nellie E. Jones, deceased; J. Roy Winslow vs. G. B. Morgan and Brooks Morgan; Ralph Peele vs. J. C. Nixon, administrator, and others, and Willis Ray Peele vs. J. C. Nixon, administrator, and others. Clerk of Court E. W. Spires informed The Herald Tuesday night that there is a possibility of some of these cases being settled out of court.

Of the eight divorces granted, two were white couples, Grace D. Swain from George C. Swain, and Mary Leggett Browning from David C. Browning. Mrs. Browning was given custody of the two children.

Colored divorces were Mattie Tyson Tucker from John Tucker, Mary White Holley from Joseph A. Holley, Margaret Granby Sills from Warren T. Sills, Nelson Lowther from Mamie Roberts Lowther, Mary Pauline Baker from Hudson Baker, and Geneva Green Johnson from Oscar Richard Johnson, Sr.

The Grand Jury finished its work Tuesday and in the report it was found that the county's affairs were in good order.

Minor repairs were found necessary at Hudson Grove, Green Hall, Yeopin, St. John's and Ryan's Grove schools, at Edenton High School a few repairs were listed and at both the white and colored high schools the Grand Jury found the buildings overcrowded. The report listed the need for a new building at the Freemason Street colored school.

Fire drills were held in Edenton and three buildings were cleared in two minutes.
