Plentiful Foods Listed For August

Fruits and Vegetables In Abundance, Says Home Agent

Locally grown fruits and vegetables—especially tomatoes and early apples—will be plentiful on southern markets in August, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported this week.

Shoppers will find a greater variety of fresh vegetables in August than in any other summer month, Miss Rebecca Colwell, home demonstration agent for the State College Extension Service, explains, and quality should be at the season's peak. Tomatoes will be on the market from commercial growing areas as well as from nearby farms and market gardens. Early apples will be marketed from Carolina and Virginia, and in addition Miss Colwell said, August is also the peak month for harvesting California Gravensteins. The Gravenstein is the only California apple found, generally throughout eastern markets.

Other fruits listed as plentiful for August are peaches, pears, fresh plums, prunes, and cantaloups. Although the peach crop is small this year in some of the southeastern states, other areas have good crops which will be ripe this month.

Cabbage, lettuce, and onions will be the most plentiful fresh vegetables, and in the protein classification, shoppers will have a wide selection; with broilers, fryers, stewing hens, eggs, fresh and frozen fish, peanut butter, and dairy products all on the August plentiful list. The dairy products include cheese, evaporated milk, butter, nonfat dry milk solids, and cottage cheese. Supplies of these are heavy and prices are considerably below levels of a year ago, Miss Colwell stated.

Having Fun Rewards 4-H'ers In National Recreation Program

The 1949 National 4-H Recreation and Rural Arts program—a newcomer in the field of sponsored 4-H activities—is well launched in North Carolina, according to the State Extension office, State College of Agriculture.

Introduced only last year, the program has already chalked up an unusually good record which includes training 7,150 junior and 4,390 adult 4-H Club leaders in recreation. In addition, 1,005 clubs in 44 states were awarded blue ribbons for outstanding performance; 350 counties won $25 each in cash toward buying recreational equipment; 21 states received $50 each for crafts premiums, while five boys and three girls were given educational trips to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

A total of $25,280 will again be awarded in the same manner by United States Rubber company, sponsors of the program. Awards are based on well-rounded recreation activities developed and carried out by local 4-H Clubs. The eight trips are provided for 4-H'ers who have excelled in recreation leadership.

Among the events designed for club groups are indoor and outdoor games; dances, festivals, tours and plays. For members there are numerous types of recreation such as leather, metal or wood craft; stage and set designing; sports and hobbies; singing or dancing leader, and serving as a committee member.

Warren Mallard of Trenton, an eight-year 4-H'er, was one of the 1948 trip winners. Counties winning the $25 cash award were: Jones, Wayne, Iredell, Cleveland, Guilford, Mecklenburg and Johnston. North Carolina also received $50 for crafts premiums. The entire program is conducted under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service.
