LOOKING FOR PAPA AND MAMMA

Above is pictured a baby at the North Carolina Children's Home Society at Greensboro, one of North Carolina's oldest, finest and best-loved agencies a society which receives and cares for babies who need homes and places them in homes that need and want babies. The Children's Home Society takes babies from any part of North Carolina who have no families to provide for them. It gives them temporary care in its receiving home in Greensboro and then places them in carefully selected foster homes, where they will be legally adopted as the children of their new parents. Part of the operating cost of the society is met by voluntary contributions, and at present the Edenon Junior Woman's Club is sponsoring a fund-raising campaign to provide money for this worthy cause. Bottles to receive contributions are placed at Leggett & Davis Drug Store, Mitchener's Pharmacy, Albertage Any member marle Restaurant, Triangle Restaurant and Taylor Theatre. Any member of the Junior Woman's Club will also be glad to accept any contributions. It is interesting to know that from 1917 through 1945 the Children's Home Society cared for 10 children from Chowan County.

School chairmen are as follows: W. J. Taylor for county schools; Fenton Larson for the Edenton white schools, and D. F. Walker for the colored schools in Edenton.

The Fire Prevention Committee, headed up by R. C. Holland, has outlined the following program to be carried on during the week of October 9th through the 15th.

All civic clubs and schools are to have at least one program on Fire Prevention during the week; the customary surprise fire drills in the schools will fit in with the program; there will be a parade spark-plugged by the fire prevention committee of the Jaycees headed up by Luther his candidacy, was born in Woodville, Parks and including R. E. Aiken, El-N. C., on June 16, 1914, a son of Nora wood Nixon, Ray Blanchard in cooperation with the fire department, school authorities and the Edenton Band. The Jaycees will also ask all factories with whistles to blow them in unison at a given time on the date to be announced in order to make folks fire prevention conscious; a tremendous fire prevention banner is to be strung across the main street if arrangements on this detail can be worked out says Parks.

R. C. Holland states that local motion picture operators have agreed to show special fire films in both houses prepared for and purchased by the Chamber of Commerce Fire Prevention Committee for this purpose; stores and factories are putting up special signs and placards on fire prevention; Fire Chief R. K. Hall, who will soon be 84 years old, will speak on the radio, Sunday, October 9, on W.R.C.S., Ahoskie as a guest of Quinn Furniture Company and Barrow Bottling Works, bringing a brief message to · (Continued on Page Twelve)
