THIS WEEK'S BIBLE THOUGHT

WE SHOULD EAGERLY USE AND APPLY DIVINE GUIDANCE: How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation?—Heb. 2:3.

In The Midst Of Life There Is Death

Another striking example that in the midst of life there is death is reflected in the terrible calamity Saturday afternoon when two brothers, Thomas Erwin Eason and Malcolm Dawson Eason lost their lives by drowning in the Chowan River. Two fine specimens of manhood left their home hale and hearty, and suddenly the entire community was shocked to hear that their strong mortal bodies were transformed into corpses.

The writer only a little over four years ago went through a similar ordeal, except for the fact that he was on the scene and saw two loved ones go to a watery grave and was powerless to do anything to prevent it.

God moves in mysterious ways His purpose to perform, and it is not for we mortals to understand why we are called upon at some time or other to face sorrow and hardships which appear too burdensome for us to bear. It is somewhat comforting, however, to have a host of friends come to our rescue in such a dark hour, as was the case with the writer and will be borne out by relatives of the two Eason brothers. The writer, therefore, extends his sympathy to members of the mourning family. And while kind deeds and expressions of sympathy do have some effect in soothing aching and bleeding hearts, time alone is able to at least partially close the wound which brings so many tears and heartaches.

Be On Time!

Next Tuesday, November 15, a bloodmobile is scheduled to be in Edenton for the purpose of obtaining donations of blood. It is useless to argue the merits of this blood program, and it is encouraging to note the large number who have volunteered to give a pint of blood. The next most important thing is to be on time to give your blood.

Miss Rebecca Colwell was right much upset this week. She had hoped to have the Chowan County Home Demonstration Clubs' State Fair exhibit set up in Quinn's Furniture Company's window, but due to some of the material being late in arriving, it could not be done. However, Miss Colwell feels certain the exhibit will be set up at Quinn's next week.

W. W. Porter, father-in-law of the two Eason boys who drowned Saturday, is another person to learn to know how friendly people in Edenton are when one has trouble and sorrow. Mr. Porter and the two victims were real pals, and with tears in his eyes he tried to tell me Wednesday morning how nice the people were during the sad and trying ordeal. "I've had a lot of sorrow," he said, "but never have I experienced such kindly deeds and interest in one's misfortune. This kindness has been indelibly impressed upon my mind never to be forgotten and always to be cherished." I've been through the same thing, Friend Porter, and I want to shout a loud "Amen."

I'm not turning this column over into a classified section, but a pair of ladies' black gloves were found in the Methodist Church after the funeral of J. W. Cates last week. Anybody who lost the gloves should contact Mrs. Edward Speight.

Col. Bill Rosevear has won the most football guessing contests at the Rotary Club and, as I stated before, he does not allow sentiment to enter into his predictions. And speaking about sentiment, Comdr. A. von Keller takes the cake. He's a real booster for the Edenton Aces, and in the last two games he predicted the Aces would score 95 points against Hertford and last week he marked down 100 points for the Aces against Washington. That's sentiment all right, but how about making Friend von Keller's predictions come true, Aces?

Major W. R. Lucius has returned from the rifle range at Cherry Point, and told me he had a chickens of a hard time seeing the target. What he needs, he said, is to have a pretty girl hold the target, for then he could see it. Yeah, he'd miss the whole plan of salvation to be sure.

J. B. Small, Negro County Agent, was lucky enough to buy two tons of coal from a friend who started using oil. What Friend Small needs now is a safe to put the coal in.

Calvin Wright Named President Of GI Class

Calvin Wright, young Navy veteran of Edenton, was unanimously elected to the presidency division of the G. I. Education Center in operation in the Edenton High School.

Superintendent of schools John A. Holmes, himself a veteran of World War I, congratulated young Wright and expressed his pleasure over the democratic way in which the veterans that come from surrounding counties, as well as Edenton, are conducting their meetings, and in enthusiasm in learning displayed by the G. I. students. Mr. Holmes wishes it to be known that a veteran can register any time in the elementary or high school divisions of the G. I. Center. He urged that vets take notice of the fact that their G. I. benefits run out in 1956.

There has been a noticeable increase in the enrollment in the school in the last two months. Classes are held from 4 o'clock until 9:30 P. M. for elementary division, and from 5 till 10:30 to the high school divisions.

Veterans who wish to finish their schooling may apply to Mr. Holmes any time up to 5 o'clock at his office in the Edenton High School.

Negro 4-H County Council Elects Officers

The Council members set as their goal for 1950, better home gardens, quality canning and room improvement; dairy cows, better quality chicks and improved swine.
