Regarding Local Accidents

In a very forceful and interesting field representative of the Highway Safety Division, impressed her l ers with the grave necessity for a broader educational plan for school children in order to cut down the growing number of accidents and fatalities upon our highways and if they attend the meeting in the Red

"Right here in your own county of Chowan," said Mrs. Futrell, "you had a property damage of $20,000 as a result of 42 serious accidents through October of this year which were reported. There were probably many unreported ones.

"Eleven of these accidents were due to driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages; eight were speeding; six had improper lights; six drivers made incorrect left-hand turns; five were driving recklessly; four were driving on left side of the road; one was a pedestrian and one a bicycle rider," said Mrs. Futrell.

Speed has been the greater cause of accidents throughout the nation,' continued the speaker. "Our youth under the age of 25 years have been by far the larger group of such offenders. The property damage caused by youthful drivers last year amounted to over $600,000,000 in the United States. Is not this an astounding

Mrs. Robert J. Boyce First to Give Pint Of Blood

Chowan County's first bloodmobile visit Tuesday was in every way a big success and everything worked as scheduled. The bloodmobile arrived at the Episcopal Parish House at 9 o'clock accompanied by two custodians. Dr. R. W. Sturgis, chief nurse, Miss Ann L. Siegried and four assistant nurses, Misses Sylvia Rawl, Sadie Myers, Mary L. Huddleston and Margaret Cordovana. Also present for the opening of Chowan County's blood bank were Miss Margaret Margrave, blood program field representative of the American Red Cross and Miss Janet Cox of Rocky Mount, field representative from Southeastern Anca, Atlanta,

By 10 o'clock everything was in perfect order and readiness for the volunteer blood donors.

Edenton's first blood donor was Mrs. Robert J. Boyce who lead the donors by checking her name at the entrance, then into room No. 2 where staff volunteers kindly helped her to register. After being given a glass of crange juice the donor proceeded to room No. 3, where she gave her medical history and received a blood test. Having passed her test here she was sent to room No. 4, where she was given her bottle in which her pint of blood was stored. Mrs. Boyce was none the worse for her experience and like all the rest who donated blood was happy to be among the first to help in such a worthy cause. Each donor, after giving a pint of blood was directed to the canteen quarters where volunteers were served ham, cheese and egg sandwiches, doughnuts and cookies, also coffee, milk and Coca Cola.

Dr. Sturgis at this point pointed out the large number of capable volunteer workers present and how mobile visit was that it brought 12 pints of blood to be sent immediately to the local nospital, usually it is 72 hours before a community hospital has its first pint of blood. This has not always been done but due to the success of the blood program an effort is being made to supply community hospitals which are members of the National Red Cross Blood Program with blood as soon as possible.

Dr. Frank Wood reported how pleased he was to receive this blood as a full day of surgery was scheduled for the day and if blood was needed it would be available. "Now." Dr. Wood stated, "we will have all the blood we need and will not have to resort to other sources which some time cause loss of time so important to the patient's response to an operation and recovery.'

Dr. W. S. Griffin, chairman of the blood program of the Chowan Red Cross Chapter and J. M. Boyce, recruitment chairman for the donors express their thanks to all those who gave a pint of blood.

Chairman Griffin said, "the neighborly spirit which is characteristic of our community has been amply demonstrated by the individuals and groups who responded so generously. We are most grateful for the large turn-out Tuesday and it is most gratifying to know that our citizens as a whole are back of this far-reaching project and will see it through to a successful conclusion. This blood bank must come from human beings and our program must be successful if we are to provide the quanity of blood so badly needed by our community."

A large percentage of the donors Tuesday were members of organizations which assumed the responsibility and gave not only blood but time and energy to the project.

Appreciation is also expressed to the Marines who voluntarily gave blood to help fill the quota.

One nundred and fifteen donors reported during the day. At the end needed to fill the quota of 100 pints, J. M. Boyce, recruitment chairman
