

BPW's Christmas Party Gala Affair

About 60 Members Enjoy Thursday Evening In Club Room

An enjoyable affair was held Thursday night in the Hotel Joseph Hewes when the Edenton Business and Professional Women's Club put on an old fashioned Christmas party. Approximately 60 members and their guests joined in the evening's fun.

The club room was attractively decorated in Christmas colors and boasted a beautifully lighted tree, under which were loads of Christmas presents. The Christmas theme was also carried out in favors.

The party got underway with the singing of Christmas carols, under the direction of Miss Lena Jones with Miss Dorothy Williams at the piano. The group especially enjoyed the beautiful solo selections by Mrs. Frank Elliott, who sang "Gather Around the Christmas Tree," and "Gesu Bambino" and "Auld Lang Syne," sung by Mrs. Elizabeth Corbett, a British nurse at the Chowan Hospital, and "Silent Night," by Clyde Stamps, in which the group later joined in.

The American version of the Virginia Reel created much fun as the dancers jumped all over the place. The dance figures were called by Mrs. Marie Davis, who with Miss Fannie Sue Sayers had charge of the entertainment.

The husband-calling contest was won by Mrs. E. T. Rawlinson, whose demonstration on how she gets her husband was so effective. Other games played included a relay race and a spelling contest. Much excitement prevailed in the opening of gifts, which were distributed by drawing numbers. The refreshment table was attractively decorated, centered with Christmas greens and huge punch bowl flanked with tall lighted red candles. Refreshments consisted of crackers, potato chips, cheese squares, olives, cheese sticks, pickles, nuts, candy and punch.

Those attending received a miniature box of cigarettes as favors from Mitchener's Pharmacy.

The entertainment, music, and refreshment committee were given a rising vote of thanks by the group for making the party the huge success it was.
