

Dotmegan Lane And Thomas Rogerson Wed On New Year's Ceremony Performed In Chappell Hill Baptist Church

Miss Dotmegan Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Julian Lane of Tyner, and Thomas Glenn Rogerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rogerson of Winfall were united in a quiet but beautiful ceremony at the Chappell Hill Baptist Church on New Year's afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Rev. A. H. Outlaw of Elizabeth City performed the ceremony before a background of palms, schefflerii, white gladioli, snapdragons and candelabra.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Ralph R. White of Belvidere. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Thelma White sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "The Lord's Prayer." During the ceremony "Ave Maria" was played softly.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of cloud white Goddess lace over satin and net, ruffled underskirt fashioned with a sheer marquisette yoke outlined by a petite seed pearl trim and bertha of selfsame lace. The long fitted sleeves ended in wedding peaks over the hands and the snug basque bodice buttoned up the back with tiny self-covered buttons. The full gathered skirt sweeping into graceful court train, accented the slim waistline. Her finger-tip length veil of delicate imported illusion was arranged from a pearl studded bonnet of lace with illusion ties. She carried a colonial nosegay of lily of the valley centered with a white orchid and wore a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Locke Baker, of Tyner, sister of the bride and matron of honor, wore a pink satin dress with V-net yoke and full skirt caught up in scallops, and a pink ostrich headdress. She carried a colonial nosegay of variegated carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Elmer Lassiter of Belvidere, Mrs. Paul Smith, Miss Harriet Lou Layden and Mrs. George Fields all of Hertford.

Flower girls were little Miss Sandra Baker, niece of the bride, and Evelyn Johnson, cousin of the bride who carried baskets of rose petals.

Mrs. Norman Larabee, of Elizabeth City, was mistress of ceremony.

Best man was Earl Rogerson, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Locke Baker and Fentress Lane of Tyner, Paul Smith and Josiah Smith of Hertford.

Honorary bridesmaids were Miss Madge Copeland, Miss Maxine Lane, Mrs. Forrest Lane and Miss Gladys Copeland, all of Tyner.

The bride's mother wore a kelly green suit with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray gabardine suit with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride where a bridal color scheme of green and silver was carried out. The receiving line was composed of the bridal couple, the parents of the bride and bridegroom, best man, the bridesmaids and matron of honor, Miss Olive Layden, cousin of the bride, of Winfall presided at the bride's book.

Following the reception the young couple left for a Florida honeymoon. For traveling the bride wore a taupe suit with navy blue accessories and the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return the young couple will reside at Winfall.

Mrs. Rogerson is a graduate of Perquimans High School and attended East Carolina Teachers College. For the past year and a half she has been employed in Elizabeth City.

Mr. Rogerson, also a graduate of Perquimans High School served in the army for 19 months during the war and is currently serving as instructor for the Veterans Training Class at Hertford.

"I'll be waiting for your call"

That's a phrase you'll hear every day from businessmen, housewives and well-dated young people. Why? Because most people just automatically think of the telephone as their first line of communication. Doing business, shopping, making dates by telephone are typical of the American idea of swift, modern, efficient ways of getting things done.

The widespread use of telephone service is also one of the best examples of an everyday American low cost necessity that is a luxury in the rest of the world.
