

Legion Auxiliary Seeking Members

Drive Now In Progress Directed By Mrs. D. M. Reaves

Increased strength for greater service to America and to those who have defended the nation is being sought by the American Legion Auxiliary in a membership drive which began Monday of this week.

An invitation to come into the Auxiliary and take part in its activities during the coming year is extended to all eligible women in the county by Mrs. James Bond, president of the local unit. Eligible for membership are wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of American Legion members or of deceased veterans of either World War, and women who themselves were in war service.

The campaign is being directed by Mrs. D. M. Reaves, membership chairman.

"We believe that at this time all women of war-service families want to serve actively for our country and its defenders," said Mrs. Bond. "In the American Legion Auxiliary we can offer them opportunity for effective service in many fields. We are well organized and already in action. Nearly one million women already are serving in the Auxiliary's 13,500 units throughout the country. But the situation today calls for even greater strength. We have places for two million women in our work. Every woman who joins gives us that much more strength to carry out our activities for the security of America and for the welfare of our war veterans and their families."

November 7 Time To Give Pint Of Blood

Dr. L. P. Williams Points Out Importance of Program

Lives are being saved in every corner of the nation by blood transfusions according to a statement made by Dr. L. P. Williams, chairman of the Medical Advisory Committee of the Chowan Red Cross Chapter's National Blood Program.

Each week brings in more and more illustrations of the saving power of human blood and blood derivatives. These illustrations drive home the necessity of having a well developed National Blood Program through which whole blood and its derivatives may be made available to every person in the community no matter what his race, creed, or financial status may be.

Many instances wherein patients require large amounts of blood demonstrate the life-saving power of the fluid which can be obtained only from healthy men and women. A child in Washington required nine transfusions in February and March of 1948 before he could undergo an operation. The child possessed an unusual type of blood which was easily matched by the National Blood Program center in Washington, D. C. For the family to find the particular donor with this type of blood would have been almost impossible.

Not only does the National Blood Program eliminate suffering and save lives by making blood supplies adequate but it also eliminates worry and apprehension. Dr. Williams pointed out that when transfusions are needed close relatives were usually suffering with a great deal of emotional tension because of anxiety for the patient and that the necessity of securing donors is an added worry. When an additional financial burden is added because of transfusions, he said, the burdens were greatly increased.

A campaign is now underway to sign up donors to give blood at the Parish House, November 7. Everybody is urged to give a pint of blood and save a life.
