

Further Plans For Civil Defense Made At Meeting Tuesday

Control Centers Selected For Communications Committee

RED CROSS HELPING Three Schools Outlying Headquarters In Case Of Emergency

Chowan County's civil defense coordinator, Ralph E. Parrish, met with various civil defense chairmen in the Municipal Building Tuesday night to further the county's civil defense program.

First on the agenda was selecting control centers, with the police station being designated as the master control center for communications and the home of John Ross as the secondary control center.

Mr. Parrish pointed out that effective at once a two-stage public warning code will be used to announce imminent attack and the subsequent "all clear." The "red alert" public warning signal will be of three minutes duration. It will consist of fluctuating or warbling signals of varying pitch by sirens, or a series of short blasts by horns or whistles.

The "all clear" signal will be a series of three steady one-minute blasts by sirens, horns or whistles, interrupted by silent periods of two minutes each.

In the event the red alert is the first alarm received, mobilization of civil defense forces should be delayed until immediately after the attack rather than risking the exposure of the organized services to the hazards of attack.

At the meeting Chief of Police George I. Dail, in charge of police and traffic control, announced that he will use 22 auxiliary police and 40 auxiliary firemen.

In case of an emergency, Chowan High School, Rocky Hook School and White Oak School were selected as outlying headquarters to house citizens and render first aid.

The Red Cross chapter has offered its cooperation and will, among other things, teach nursing, nurses' aides and first aid.

John Ross was instructed to appoint a group of assistants to serve on the communications committee.

J. Edwin Bufflap was assigned to the public works committee and will have the responsibility of seeing to it that streets are kept open in case of an emergency. For the most part members of the Street Department will be asked to serve on this committee.

R. N. Hines will be responsible for the sanitary sewer and water lines as well as power.

In order to properly carry out the civil defense program, Marvin Wilson has been instructed to prepare proper legal papers to present to Town Council in order to put in force certain ordinances.

Of course, there will be some expense to the civil defense program, and after an estimated budget is prepared, Town Council and the County Commissioners will be asked to make the necessary appropriations.

Center Hill Club's Dreams Come True

Group Secures Building To Use For Various Activities

In every community, whether it be a large or small one, there is a crying need for a place to gather for recreational entertainment and other activities. It is only through complete cooperation of individuals that such a feat can be accomplished. With the cooperation and hard work now existing in the Center Hill Home Demonstration Club of Chowan County, this hard and rough road has at last become a passable one. For years they have needed a building to provide a place for meetings and activities for young people, as well as adults.

The Center Hill Club has undertaken the responsibility of seeing that a Community Center be established. Their long-cherished dreams and hopes have at last become a reality. For their 1951 project, the organization has secured a building and members, assisted by others in the community, are now busy as beavers remodeling and painting the structure. They are justly proud of their accomplishment, too.

Bills Introduced To Boost Salaries Of Chowan Officials

Introduced In General Assembly By Representative White

Three bills have been introduced in the General Assembly by Representative John F. White, all three having to do with increases in salaries for county officials.

House Bill 320 calls for fixing the salaries of the judge, solicitor and clerk of Recorder's Court. If passed the bill sets the salaries as follows: Judge, $175 per month; solicitor, $150 per month and the clerk, $150. First payments under the scale are to be made July 1, 1951, for the preceding month.

House Bill 31 is to fix the salary of the Sheriff of Chowan County. If passed the monthly salary of the Sheriff will be $350, the first payment under the scale to be made July 1, 1951, for the preceding month. In addition to salary the Commissioners are to pay the Sheriff on July 1 each year, beginning in 1951, the sum of $1,000 for expenses to travel and maintenance of automobile to be furnished the Sheriff of the county.

House Bill 322 fixes the compensation of the chairman and members of the Board of County Commissioners of the County. For attending each regular, special or called meeting of the Board, the chairman is to receive $30 and each member $15. The bill also sets the monthly salary of the clerk of the Board at $150, the first payment to him under the scale to be made July 1, 1951, for the preceding month.

All three bills passed in the house on February 16, received in the Senate the following day and sent to the committee on salaries and fees.

WEEKLY LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY

Despite a marked increase in activity in each house this week, the progress of the General Assembly could not be measured in concrete terms. Less than 20% of all bills introduced have received final decision, and scarcely one could be termed significant legislation. While legislative hostility toward the governor's program has been assumed by most observers, only Senate action on state aid for city streets could be termed revealing. Whether the governor's radio appeal to the people will strengthen legislative support for his program remains to be determined.

State Aid for City Streets
Governor Scott's radio address on Friday night left no doubt that he favors state aid for city streets if financed by new revenues as recommended by the State-Municipal Roads Commission, but he is opposed to diversion of existing highway revenues for this purpose. The Senate has passed SB 120 which, as amended, would give the cities 1/4 of the present gas tax and place streets forming links in the state primary and secondary road systems under the Highway Commission. This action, the governor charges, is false economy, will weaken the primary highway program, might undermine the rating of North Carolina securities, and will not provide a permanent solution of the street problem. While the governor does not advocate submitting a tax increase to the people, with the 1949 secondary road bond issue as a precedent, he has said he is not afraid to carry it to the people.

With SB 120 on its way to the House, the strength of the governor's position is due for a positive test. The House finance committee has already voted to report unfavorably HB 262 which would place exclusive responsibility for all city streets in the Highway Commission if a 1c gas tax increase were approved by the voters. It now has before it HB 331 which would allocate the proceeds from 1c of highway taxes to the cities, would increase the gas tax by 7 mills, and would give the Highway Commission responsibility for all streets forming links in the primary and secondary road systems, all contingent upon approval by the people. There are reports that the smaller towns do not feel that SB 120 will meet their needs, and it was charged in the Senate that the distribution formula based on population and street mileage in both bills will be difficult to administer because "streets" have not been sufficiently defined. HB 331 may provide the basis for a compromise if one proves necessary.

Dr. B. B. McGuire Speaker At BPW Meeting Thursday

Delightful Dinner Meeting Held at Hotel Joseph Hewes

At a dinner meeting of the Edenton Business and Professional Women's Club held in the Hotel Joseph Hewes Coffee Shop Thursday night, Dr. B. B. McGuire, health officer of the District Health Department, was the principal speaker. Dr. McGuire used as his subject "Public Health," which he stated at the outset was not only for the indigent but for all.

The speaker presented a very informative address about the functions of the Health Department and the spread of communicable diseases. Dr. McGuire pointed out that deaths from communicable diseases have been greatly reduced due to immunization, but that many die annually due to lack of immunization.

Degenerated diseases, such as cancer, heart disease, hardening of the arteries, etc., he said were increasing.

The speaker referred to venereal diseases, which, he said, if not treated result in victims being forced to enter hospitals, and when this is necessary, the public must pay the bills. "No home is safe," he said, "until all homes are safe."

Dr. McGuire also urged people not to kill a dog thought to have rabies. He recommended that the animal be penned up and if no illness developed in 10 to 14 days there is no danger of rabies. The treatment, for rabies, he said, has often proven fatal. Dr. McGuire was introduced by Mrs. (Continued on Page Twelve)
