

Good Harvest Of Honey In Chowan

Beekeepers Advised to Condition Hives For Winter

Beekeepers who properly cared for their bees obtained a good harvest this season, according to County Agent C. W. Overman. George W. Bunch, Jr., of Rocky Hook, harvested 100 pounds of honey per colony, leaving a bountiful food supply for the bees to winter on. Charlie Overman's four colonies yielded approximately 125 pounds per colony. Alphonso Spivey of Macedonia community, captured a swarm of bees early in the season and reports having taken one super of 35 pounds of honey leaving a good food supply. Many other beekeepers also had good harvests.

Beekeepers who have not done so, should examine their colonies very carefully at once, and get them in condition for winter. To winter a colony, all honey should be left in the brood chamber and one extra super, or where two brood chambers are used, the honey in both brood chambers should be left. Be sure the colony has a queen. If the colony does not have a queen it should be re-queened or combined with another colony.

This Week's Poem

By WILBORNE HARRELL

BEAUTY FORSAKEN

To go and leave forever this beauty,
This world, its raptures, ecstasies of tone,
Its joys of color and medleys of forms,
And, enmantled in death, wander alone
Into the mystery; and leave no good,
No lasting deed behind is to have known
A futile life, to fail in what we could,
To eschew the plow when we might have sown.
He, who in his heart would not know
beauty,
So insensate inward joys pass him by;
Who places no prayer or simple offering
Before the muses—that surely is to die,
To know the greater death of dying within,
Of being dwarfs in soul when gods
we might have been.

GARDEN TIME

ROBERT SCHMIDT
N. C. STATE COLLEGE

A few years ago all farmers were urged to plant home orchards. As a result, there are many run-down, neglected, home orchard skeletons to be seen today.

Tree fruits should not be planted unless you intend to take good care of them. That means pruning, spraying, cultivating and fertilizing. And it also means having the proper equipment to do these jobs. You cannot spray a large tree with a hand sprayer, and you will not have worm-free, disease-free fruit unless you carry out a spray program.

If you want to plant tree fruits, secure your trees from a reliable nursery even if they are a little higher in price. Recommended peach varieties in order of ripening are Early Red-Fre, Dixiegem, Red Haven, Golden Jubilee, Hale Haven, Belle of Georgia, Elberta and Lizzie. Recommended

Seedlings Offered To 4-H Boys And Girls

North Carolina 4-H Club members have been offered a total of 1,250,000 free pine seedlings for planting this winter, according to John E. Ford, assistant forester for the State College Extension Service.

Ford says any 4-H member will be allowed up to 5,000 seedlings at no cost, provided he has a suitable place to plant them. Application should be made through the local county agent.

The seedlings are being provided by two pulp and paper companies to en-apple varieties in order of ripening are Lodi, Golden Delicious, Red Delicious, Stayman, Winesap, and Rome Beauty.

Some apple varieties such as Red Delicious, Stayman and Winesap will not pollinate themselves and, therefore, must be planted with Golden Delicious, Rome Beauty, or Grimes Golden in order to set a crop of fruit. Where space is limited and apples are desired, dwarf apple trees can be planted. They are much smaller in growth than the standard trees and may be planted as close as eight feet apart. The same varieties may be obtained as in the standard trees but they are much higher in price.

A list of recommended varieties of other tree fruits may be obtained from the Department of Horticulture, N. C. State College Extension Service, Raleigh.

Low-Down on a high-powered Performer

Let us tell you this:
The Buick pictured here packs more power than you find in any other car of its size and room and price.

That's the power of Buick's newest high-compression valve-in-head eight—the F-263 Fireball Engine, that really gets miles from a gallon of gas.

Add to this the fact that it tips the scales at 3817 pounds curbside—and you begin to see why this big-powered beauty is such a nimble-footed number out on the road.

But that's only Chapter I of the performance story.

There's a big-car feel to the way this trim traveler covers the ground—hugs the curves—holds its course on the straightaway—smothers the bumps with its big soft coil springs on all four wheels.

There's big-car room inside—six-passenger room—headroom, hiproom, shoulderroom, kneeroom, front and back.

Come in, look it over, and we think you'll agree—it's big in everything but price.

And that's where it really shines. If you've shopped around you'll know what we mean when you read the price tags, and what they include in the way of standard equipment that shows up as "extras" on so many others. Such things as an oil filter, air cleaner, vacuum booster, built-in summer ventilation are all yours at no extra charge.

It's hard to believe but it's true. If you can afford a new car, you can afford this Buick at the prices we're quoting today.

Better come in and look this smart buy over.
