

Shaw Asks Second Look At National Peanut Allotment

In a letter to a Department of Agriculture official Monday, Farm Bureau Executive Vice-President R. Flake Shaw, urged that "a second look" be taken at the 1.7 million-acre national peanut allotment with the idea of making certain that this year's production would be adequate to meet the needs of the trade before the planting season begins.

Shaw's letter stated, "if the Department of Agriculture makes acreage adjustments after the beginning of the planting season, it would favor those producers who have deliberately exceeded their allotments and would hurt growers observing quota regulations."

Under the new peanut law, it would be unprofitable for growers to overplant, but if the need arises, acreage allotments can be adjusted upward after they have been announced. The Secretary of Agriculture does not have the authority to decrease acreage once this announcement has been made.

Shaw also pointed out that consideration be given to the year's resale policy, and requested the Department of Agriculture not to authorize co-ops to make peanuts available to the trade at less than 105 percent of the support price plus reasonable carrying charges. He said this policy should follow the same pattern now in effect under the cotton loan program.

The letter made it clear that "if co-ops are permitted to sell peanuts placed under loan at a figure slightly in excess of the loan rate, it would discourage sheller or anyone else from encouraging individual peanut loans, and quite likely would result in a marketing ceiling slightly in excess of the loan rate."

Under the 1952 price support program for peanuts no direct purchases are authorized. Loans will be available to producers for both on-the-farm and off-the-farm storage.

Peanuts will carry a 90 percent of parity support as of February 15, 1952, which will be a minimum of $239.40 per ton. This is nine dollars higher than last year's minimum support of $230.56 per ton.

Providing care for crippled children is an ideal way for the American public to find such gratification. The Easter Seal campaign which raises funds to support direct services to crippled children and adults presents a genuine opportunity for personal service.

Chowan Trio Attends State Council Meeting

The tenth annual State Council meeting of Negro Home Demonstration Clubs met Wednesday, March 26, at the Memorial Auditorium in Raleigh with Mrs. Irene Yeates, the president of the State Council, presiding.

Music was furnished by the Carver Elementary Glee Club of Winston-Salem.

The guest speaker was Dr. Hornell Hart, professor of sociology, Duke University. His subject was "Alchemist Of Family Life." Problem: How can we turn lead into gold in family life?

Problems of discord in family life were termed as lead by Dr. Hart. He gave two types of reactions, right and wrong. Some wrong reactions are just take it lying down, escape, and trying to lash out at the person who hurt you. Right actions are to be courageous, be a good teammate, and finding and using the power of the spirit.

Dr. Johnson of Chapel Hill, North Carolina gave a very inspiring speech on "Citizenship." She stated that our responsibilities as a citizen of the world are to be an informed citizen, an active citizen and a voting citizen. She stressed the idea of having study groups in Home Demonstration Clubs for the purpose of becoming qualified to vote. In closing she said the key to better family living is found for women in the Home Demonstration Clubs.

Mrs. Roth Current, State Home Demonstration Agent, installed the officers for the new term.

Delegates from Chowan County were Mrs. Bessie Holley, White Oak Home Demonstration Club and Mrs.
