

State's Inland Ports Subject Of Study By Group This Week

Michigan Expert Helping To Increase Use Of Harbors

Plans for greater development and utilization of North Carolina's inland ports and waterways are being studied fully this week, George R. Ross, director of the State Department of Conservation and Development, has announced.

Ross said that Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams has loaned Bert Robb, director of the Michigan State Waterways Commission, to the State for the purpose of making a study of North Carolina's inland ports and harbors with a view of making them of greater use to those who use them to gain their livelihoods.

Robb, a former Naval officer and ports authority, is accompanying members of the Board of Conservation and Development's Water Resources committee on a tour of several North Carolina inland ports. The tour is being made aboard the department's commercial fisheries boat, the Cape Lookout, and began Wednesday at Elizabeth City.

Among the State's inland ports to be visited are: Hatteras, Englehard, Manteo, Elizabeth City, Oriental, Vandemere, and possibly some others. Fishermen and others using the inland ports are invited to meet the committee and Robb and give their views with regard to development and greater use of the ports.

Water resources committee members making the trip are: Aubrey L. Cavenaugh of Warsaw, chairman; Charles H. Jenkins of Ahoskie, vice-chairman; Walter J. Damtoft of Canton, Ferd Davis of Zebulon, and Mrs. Roland McClamroch of Chapel Hill. Buxton White of Elizabeth City, a board member and W. H. Riley, the department's hydrologic engineer and head of its water resources division, will accompany the group on the tour. Ross plans to join the inspection party before the tour ends at Morehead City on July 27. Robb will report to the C. and D. Board on Monday, July 28, at the Morehead City meeting.

Robb is said to have gained a national reputation for directing the development and use of Michigan's many inland ports and Ross said "we are very fortunate to be able to have Mr. Robb's counsel and advice in our efforts to make our own inland ports more useful."

Ross said the department has been at work for some time with a view of making the commercial fishing lanes and small harbors so useful that they will bring larger financial returns to those using them.

Cotton Infestation Low In Chowan

Last week 144 out of '76 treated fields of cotton in North Carolina's cotton growing counties were infested with weevils at the average rate of 6.1 per cent. Of the untreated fields checked, 110 out of 113 were infested at the average rate of 19 per cent.

According to the report of July 20 last year the average infestation for treated fields was 5.9 per cent and 19.2 per cent for untreated fields. Chowan is considerably below the state average. Seven fields of treated cotton were examined and infestations found in six with the average squares punctured being 1.7 per cent.

In five untreated fields examined in the county infestations were found in each field with 14.2 per cent of the squares punctured.

Why do they last so long ?

—because 1/2- to 2-ton trucks built by GMC have all these heavy-duty features—features most other manufacturers reserve "for big trucks only!"

Compare GMC point by point with any other truck!

Full-pressure lubrication protects all main bearings—force-feeds even to the piston pins!

Airplane-type main & rod bearings stand up under heavy pressures and high speeds—last longer!

Deep, rigid frame construction—just like the big GMC's—backbones the rugged, truck-built chassis!

"Shockproof," four-point cab suspension—same as heavy-duty

GMC's—prolongs the truck's life and protects the driver!

Recirculating ball-bearing steering mechanism assures "passenger car" ease in handling!

Long, "pillow-action" springs smooth the going, cushion the load!

"Luxury-type" seat cushions have individually wrapped coil springs like the big GMC road-liners—contribute to driver comfort and efficiency!
