Specialist Gives Advice On Washing, Ironing

The way your clothes are washed and ironed has a great deal to do with the way they look and thus the way you look, says Mamie Whisnant, State College extension specialist in home management.

The sorting of clothing prior to washing is a very important step in laundering. Miss Whisnant suggests that you divide the clothes into piles or washer loads. This procedure should generally be done as follows:

1. Slightly soiled white and colorfast articles.
2. Sleeping garments, underwear, and hand and bath towels.
3. Colored cottons and linens.
4. Very dirty work clothes.
5. White silks, rayons, nylons, etc.
6. Colored silks, rayons, nylons, etc.
7. Fine fabrics and articles to be washed by hand: hose, sweaters, laces and gloves.

Miss Whisnant advises that while you are sorting clothes you remove pins, ornaments, clean out pockets, and close zippers to prevent damage to the zippers and to the washing machine rollers.

Soaking makes clothes easier, if the clothes are soaked no longer than 20 to 30 minutes. Clothes are apt to re-absorb dirt from dirty water if they are allowed to soak too long. For soaking clothes properly, place them into a tub of warm suds not more than 30 minutes before you plan to begin washing. And of course, colors that may fade should never be soaked.

Wash woollens with care. Strong soap, too cold or hot water, and hard rubbing and twisting will cause woollens to become hard and matted. Therefore when washing sweaters or woolen socks use a mild soap and luke warm water. Repeat if one quick sudsing does not leave the garment clean.

Not On The Program

"I hear you had dancing at your lawn party yesterday."
"It was quite unpremeditated; one of the guests accidentally upset a beehive."

A WOUNDED SOLDIER received blood plasma just a few yards from where he was hurt in Korea. Army Medical Corps men have reduced the death rate among wounded who reach medical care to 2.4 per cent, compared to 4.5 per cent in World War II and eight per cent in World War I.

North Carolina burley growers lost two to three million dollars this year by mixing such damaged tobacco, which is usually without support price, with good tobacco, and by tying frozen and fat stem tobacco into hands before it was dried out.

Farmers can hasten the drying out of such damaged tobacco and avoid further losses next year by using the following practices, Bennett says:

1. At the end of a day's stripping Question: This year I mixed frozen and fat stem tobacco with undamaged burley, and my tobacco was without support price at the market. How can I market this damaged tobacco without hurting the price of good tobacco?

Answer: Keep the frozen and fat stem tobacco separate from good, dry tobacco, and dry out the damaged and fat stem tobacco before tying it into hands, according to R. R. Bennett, tobacco specialist for the State College and sorting, the frozen and fat stem leaves can be strung on a stick—two leaves to a hand as primed tobacco is strung. These sticks of leaves should be hung in a dry place.

2. An alternate plan would be to tie a string loosely around a handful of these frozen and fat stem leaves about 1/3 the way down from the butt end of the stems. These bundles of leaves can then be hung astride a stick and hung up to dry. The bundle of leaves should not be larger than about 8 to 10 inches in diameter. If this tobacco can be hung in a tight room where heat can be supplied with a stove or similar heating unit, drying can be greatly increased.

3. These uncured leaves can be piled loosely on a short length of a wide board for convenience in placing the stem end of the leaves toward the sun in a sunny place on warm days. The board provides a convenient way to move the tobacco into a dry place at night and on cloudy days.

4. The frozen and fat stem tobaccos then may be spread out in a dry place on wire suspended well above the ground or floor. The frozen and fat stem tobaccos should not be tied into hands until the stems are thoroughly dried.

Question: When is the best time to use methyl bromide gas in tobacco plant beds?

Answer: In the fall or spring—any time the outside temperature is 50 or 60 degrees or higher, according to R. R. Bennett, tobacco specialist for the State College Extension Service.

Bennett says that the methyl bromide gas treatment, when properly applied, has proved effective in controlling grass and weeds in tobacco plant beds. It also helps control nematodes.

In 1950, demonstrations with methyl bromide were conducted in plant bed soils in 32 tobacco counties in North Carolina. Prior to that time, the treatment had been tested by the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station, and 24 demonstrations were conducted in 10 counties in 1949.

Results prove that the treatment is "very effective," according to Bennett. Methyl bromide gas penetrates the soil best when the soil is not too wet, Bennett points out. An air-tight cover of plastic or tough kraft paper can be bought in suitable widths for the purpose of confining the gas in the plant bed.

Methyl bromide is a poison, but tear gas is mixed with it as a warning agent, Bennett notes.

For details on using the gas, see your local county agent.

The Final Test

"I thought you said this bathing suit was in fast colors," said the customer indignantly. "Why, every confounded stripe in it has come off on my back."

"Ah, but wait," said the shopman, suavely, "wait until you try to get them off your back—then you'll see."

This Week's Poem

By WILBORNE HARRELL

THE PLOWMAN

His face is seamed by the hand of time
Where the wind and the rain have taken their toll;
His eyes look forth from a soul sublime,
Ripe in years, yet unbowed nor old.
On his brow serene from the plow of God
Furrows and deep-bitten etchings abound—
Even as he in his field turned the sod
And furrowed and etched the ground.

VETS' QUESTION BOX

Q—I intend to go to college under the Korean GI Bill. The way I figure it, I will be entitled to three years of training. Does that mean I can get only three years of college?

A—Not necessarily. You would be entitled to three years of actual training time. If your school, for example, is on a nine-month basis, you could train for four school years on your 36 months of entitlement.
