

Cancer Clinic Will Be Held On Friday

No Limit to Sex, Race, Physical or Economic Status

The Northeastern Cancer Clinic will be held Friday, April 3, in Elizabeth City at the Health Center with registration from 12:45 to 2 o'clock. No appointment is necessary, but a priority may be secured by writing the Cancer Clinic for one. Everyone attending the clinic is requested to bring a wrapper or house coat.

It is estimated that cancer will strike one in every five Americans at some time during their lives. Last year some 70,000 cancer patients who might have been saved died because treatment was begun too late.

Citizens are urged to attend the Cancer Clinic and receive an examination of the five areas of the body where cancer is most easily found and cured. There are no limitations as to sex, race, physical, or economic status at the Center. However, there are age requirements. Women should be 35 or more; men should be 40 or over unless referred by a doctor, or unless one has one of the "Seven Danger Signals" or "Symptoms."

The devotion period was conducted by Miles Williams of the Edenton Training Union and judges appointed for each tournament declared the following winners:

Rotarians Postpone Entertaining 4-H Boys

Edenton's Rotary Club will meet as usual this (Thursday) afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Parish House. The club had planned to entertain the 4-H Club boys who participated in the 1952 peanut growing contest and their fathers at a night meeting, but it was learned that another meeting caused a conflict.

President W. T. Harry has announced that the 4-H Club boys and their fathers will be entertained in the Parish House Thursday night, April 16th.

Mayor Haskett Makes An Appeal To Clean Up

The Mayor is very proud of Edenton's reputation for being a clean town and every now and then he receives some very favorable comment from tourists who have either stopped over or passed through Edenton on their journey. Mr. Haskett is very anxious that Edenton maintains this reputation, so he is appealing especially at this time for wholehearted cooperation.

The Street Department, as usual, will cooperate in the clean-up drive by making every effort to collect trash as soon as possible after it is put out. This should be done, however, during the early part of the week in that visitors for the pilgrimage are expected to begin arriving Thursday of next week.

Red Cross Ready To Provide Relief

Dr. Downum said the Chowan chapter has a disaster preparedness plan which has been worked out in cooperation with county officials and organizations also having obligations in time of disaster emergency.

"Specially trained and experienced disaster relief staff of the Red Cross national organization are available for assignment to this community," Dr. Downum said, "to work with our chapter volunteers and other groups of the community if they're needed. They also may remain for the rehabilitation job, which sometimes requires weeks, or months."

Funds for this disaster relief job are donated by the general public during the annual fund campaigns of the organization. The Chowan Red Cross Chapter last year contributed its proportionate share of funds toward a disaster relief job, which nationally, cost the organization over $21,000,000. Receiving this aid were 236,000 persons in the U. S., its territories, and possessions, who were the victims of tornadoes, floods, hurricanes, major fires, and other natural catastrophes.

Important Meeting Of Pocahontas Friday

Edenton Pilgrimage April 10th and 11th

(Continued from Page One) Edenton Green) 51 ladies gathered to endorse the first Provincial Congress and resolve: "We the Ladies of Edenton do hereby solemnly engage not to conform to that pernicious practice of drinking tea, or... We wear of any manufacture from England, until such time that all acts which tend to enslave this our native country shall be repealed."

A large bronze teapot mounted on a Revolutionary cannon marks the site of the Tea Party. The home of Penelope Barker, which was built about 1782, has recently been moved from its former site in what is now Edenton's business district, to a new waterfront location where its double galleries overlook Albemarle Sound and are within sight of Edenton played prominent parts in defying the British crown, assisting the Revolutionary forces, and launching the new Democracy. Edenton's merchant prince, Joseph Hewes, was one of the three North Carolina signers of the Declaration of Independence and placed his ships at General Washington's disposal. The men of Edenton dispatched to beleaguer Boston a shipload of corn, flour and pork.

It was at Edenton, in 1774, that the first Revolutionary Tea Party was held, with Mrs. Penelope Barker presiding. At the home of Mrs. Elizabeth King on the Public Parade (now Green and the Tea Party Marker. The home is being restored to its original beauty by the Woman's Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Business and Professional Woman's Club.

All visitors who come to Edenton for the Pilgrimage are invited to a tea at the Barker house. For the tea, the modern ladies of Edenton will bake hundreds of teacakes from Penelope Barker's recipe. This will be the first year that the teacakes have been prepared for a public occasion since a tea was given some years ago to celebrate the opening of Edenton's oldest building, the famous Cupola House, as a public library and museum.

The Woman's Club members, demonstrating much of the same enterprising spirit shown by their predecessors in 1774, have enlisted the wholehearted support of Edenton residents and civic organizations in staging the Pilgrimage. The modest admission ticket price includes the services of a guide. Those who come by bus will find cars and drivers available to take them on the tour from the Pilgrimage headquarters at the Joseph Hewes Hotel, and there is no charge for this extra service.

Two classes are to be given for guides who will be available to visitors desiring them. Both classes will be held in the audio-visual room at the high school under the direction of Mrs. J. M. Thorud. Seventy-five high school students and explorer scouts, of the Boy Scouts, will be given instruction. Mrs. Richard Goodwin, chairman of hostesses, will give to each of the hostesses typed information concerning the home or building where each is to serve. Mrs. Goodwin suggests that hostesses meet with the home owner a few days before the tour in order to better familiarize herself with the home.

Information concerning the Pilgrimage has been given numerous times from radio stations. On April 9 at 12:45 P. M., three members of the pilgrimage committee will be interviewed on the Home Demonstration Club program over WGAI, Elizabeth City. The April 4 issue of State Magazine carries a complete story on the tour and the cover of the magazine features four of the old homes in Edenton. Newspapers throughout the state and in many other states have carried articles on the Pilgrimage from time to time. Members of the Woman's Club feel that information on the tour has been more far-reaching this year than ever before and they are anticipating the largest number of visitors for this event than for any other ever held here.

This week brief histories are given of four of the homes to be open for the tour. Ten homes and buildings were listed in the last issues of The Chowan Herald.

Sycamore—On Albemarle Sound. Open 2 to 5 P. M. Plantation owned by the Norcom family for about two hundred years, until 1903. The house was built before the Revolution. All the original woodwork is intact. Present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Grayson H. Harding.

The school house and several of the dependencies belong to Parson Earl's day. Present owners, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Fletcher.

Elision House—W. King St. Open 10 to 12 M., and 2 to 5 P. M. Present owner, Mrs. F. P. Wood. Built by Robert Lenox and later owned by Benjamin Elison, who was a Tory. House was confiscated during the Revolution. Greenfield—On Albemarle Sound.

Pre-School Clinics April 7 To May 14

(Continued from Page One) ents are urged to bring their children to these clinics at the appointed hours. Practicing physicians in the four counties are urged, and many will be contacted by phone or in person, to assist in the clinics.

"We hope that many of them will be able to spend at least sometime during the clinic hours in examining the children," says Dr. McGuire. "Many parents will not get a letter from the Health Department, announcing the clinic due to the fact that the list is always incomplete.
