A LIFT FOR TODAY

★ . . . I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue; I will keep my mouth with a bridle. —Ps. 39:1.

LISTEN NOT to a tale-bearer or slanderer, for he tells thee nothing out of good will; but as he discovereth of the secrets of others, so he will of thine in turn. —Socrates.

Merciful Father, keep us from evil speaking and evil hearing.

An Important Meeting

"What this town needs is more smoke stacks" is an expression one often hears in Edenton as well as in other North Carolina towns. And lately some small towns are getting new industries to move into their midst, the latest being announced only Wednesday morning of this week when it was learned that a northern needlecraft factory will locate in Ahoskie.

The concern proposes to open with a minimum employment of 150 and a yearly payroll of $300,000, with the expectation that these figures will be tripled within a few years.

This concern did not just happen to decide to locate in Ahoskie and the same goes for other industries moving into North Carolina towns. Local communities must take the initiative and sell a bill of goods that their community is a good place to do business. This, of course, entails experienced procedure and the Department of Conservation and Development realizing this fact is cooperating in a campaign to attract industries to smaller North Carolina towns.

In order to more adequately acquaint those interested in securing new industry, the Department of Conservation and Development is sponsoring a series of development forums, one of which will be held in Elizabeth City next Tuesday night, October 27. The meeting will be held in the Pasquotank County Court House, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

New industry is needed to provide additional revenue in Edenton as well as in other Eastern North Carolina towns. Industry is needed if the Albemarle section is to go forward.

At the Elizabeth City meeting will be heard speakers who are in the know-how regarding steps necessary to attract industry. Heading the list of speakers will be Lieutenant Governor Luther H. Hodges and Cecil E. Blass and climaxing the meeting will be a question and answer period, when those present will be permitted to ask any questions for enlightenment.

Edenton at present is angling for a northern garment factory to locate here, so that it behooves all who are interested in the progress of Edenton and securing new industry to bring about a better balance between agriculture and industry to attend this meeting in order to be better informed and thus be in better position to seek and attract new industry.

These meetings have been well attended in other parts of the State, so that many from Chowan and adjoining counties should make a special effort to attend Tuesday night's meeting in Elizabeth City.

Your children will tell you what's wrong with you, without the necessity of questioning.

Most people when confronted with their favorite meal, make a spectacle of themselves.

Human beings are different and no rule can be applied to them en masse.

Private George Hassell, who is now stationed in Korea wrote a letter to his mother this week in which he told her a Christmas party is being planned for unfortunate Korean children. Presents will include discarded shoes and clothes, toys and in fact just about anything. Private Hassell says the GI who gets the most stuff for the Korean kids will be allowed to attend the party. He would like to go to the party, so he will appreciate it if anybody in this neck of the woods will send anything to give the little Koreans. His address is:

According to the way I hear, squirrels had a hard time Thursday morning of last week, opening day of the season, and for several mornings after the first day for that matter. Not enough wind was stirring to shake a leaf, so that it wasn't hard to find Mr. or Mrs. Squirrel hopping around in the branches. In some sections of the county it sounded like a battle was in progress. Then quite a few hunters tried their luck to shoot a deer and at least one, Dr. Roland Vaughan was either lucky or wise enough to bag a deer. The way I heard it, Doc has a new way of hunting deer. I was told he stood on a stand about four hours and not seeing or hearing any signs of a deer, he parked himself in his car and fell asleep. His slumber was aroused when a colored man driving a log truck stopped and, giving Doc a shove, said, "Say, partner, do you want to kill a deer?" Doc sleepily said, "Yes, where is one?" "There swimming in the water," said the colored man. Then Doc asked, "Is it a buck?" The colored man replied, "I don't know, but it has horns." Completely awake by this time, Doc crawled from his car, sneaked along the edge of the water and when Mr. Deer hit land, Doc bagged himself a deer. Well, that's another example of cooperation, for had the colored man not cooperated or had the deer decided to swim to the other side, Doc would have come home like a lot of others—empty-handed.

So far as my fishing is concerned the bloom' speckled perch have knocked off biting lately, but J. A. Wheeler says things are picking up. The other morning he tried his luck and caught three. I was told that he usually catches one speckled perch and a catfish, so that things must be looking better for him.

Bill Goodwin, who is a certified Masonic lecturer, spent last week down around Hatteras, where he lectured a lodge. Before he left Edenton he borrowed Dusty Rhoads' rod and reel, but that's not used in the Masonic work. Maybe he wanted it as "protection" in event he was held up. At any rate, he brought back a couple of nice bluefish, so that maybe he had to do some lecturing along the water's edge. But then a fellow can buy bluefish, you know, but Bill still contends that all the bluefish cost him was some extra muscular effort.

Rummage sales are very popular these Saturdays with one in progress at almost every street corner and between corners, too. With so many of these sales going on a fellow better check on his Sunday suit before going to the closet to get dressed for Sunday School or church—yep, Sunday School and church services are held every Sunday in case you've forgotten.

The menu in the press box at Hicks Field Friday night was lemonade instead of hot coffee—the weather made the difference. Sponging on Bus Wozelka has affected my conscience, so that I'm going to have charge of the menu this Friday night, which will be doughnuts and coffee—be it hot or cold night. (The press box accommodates only a limited number of people and the same goes for the doughnuts). The press box was full last Friday night, with radio workers broadcasting the game over WCPS, the Tarboro radio station. Incidentally, members of the "working press" are wondering what has become of Joe Webb, Jr., the "Yeopim Daily" correspondent—he's been absent the last two games.

Here's one who is either too darned busy or mighty absent-minded lately. Some weeks ago my friend Harry Jordan sent me some good (and I mean good) cigars from Missouri. I intended to write him and thank him for 'em, but due to procrastination, I saved three cents for a stamp. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan are now spending some time in Edenton, so that when he dropped in the office Tuesday he poked out a cigar, which reminded me to thank him for the ones he sent me some time back. When I saw him it was one of those "most embarrassing moments," but I thanked him just the same.

Beauty Operators Given Instructions

Mrs. Kermit Layton, Mrs. Clarence White and Howard C. Jackson attended two-day sessions of the College of Beauty Knowledge in Norfolk, Va., this week.

Among the interesting features offered in the course was classes in hair styling by Enrico Caruso. Mr. Caruso is a nationally known stylist, being foremost in his line in America. M. A. Aolph, Style Creator for Warner Bros. discussed problems and hair cutting, giving valuable information to all who heard him.

Edenton Hornets Win From Winfall 15 To 0

Edenton's Hornets, colored high school football team, defeated the Winfall Phantoms 15-0 Friday night on the Hertford gridiron.

It was a nip and tuck battle during the first half, with neither team being able to make much headway. However, in the third quarter the Hornets began to click and Robert Coston crashed through right tackle for the first touchdown. Bernard Fleming's kick for extra point was good.

Two more points were added when a safety was made. The second Hornet touchdown resulted when Winfall fumbled and Henry Bond bulled his way to the goal line from the 15-yard line.

The Hornets play in Scotland Neck tonight (Thursday).

Colored Woman's Club Plans Party October 30

Members of the Colored Junior Woman's Club are making arrangements for a pre-Halloween entertainment for all. The party will be held at the colored playground on Friday night, October 30.

The parade will start at 6 o'clock from the Brown-Carver Library. There will be three prizes given for the most appropriately dressed contestant in three divisions, First grade to eight years old; Second, nine years to 14 years old, and third, adults.

A pretty girl in a 1953 bathing suit is something to see.

It's In The Book

What Do You Know About Motor Vehicle Laws?

I've driven in several states and noticed hand and arm signals vary considerably. What exactly are the correct signals to be used in North Carolina?

M.O.—Brevard.

This is one of the easiest driving regulations to remember. The Motor Vehicle Manual describes correct arm and hand signals as follows: Left turn—hand and arm horizontal, forefinger pointing; Right turn—hand and arm pointing upward; Stop—hand and arm pointing downward. The law further says the signal must be given from the left side of the vehicle and continued for the last 100 feet traveled prior to stopping or making a turn.

"I'm a John Deere man, myself"

Of course. And he comes by it naturally. For two of his greatest heroes are John Deere men—Dad and Granddad.

That's why your young one will take such pride in owning and riding a John Deere Tractor-Cycle—the toy tractor that looks just like the new John Deere Model "60"—that's built to take the punishment that youngsters are bound to put it to.

That's why your boy or girl will delight in the John Deere "miniature" line, too—the tiny scale models shown below that actually have functional parts and that bring a note of realism to the toyland farm.

Order early in time for Christmas. See us soon.
