A Gallery Solomon

In a London theatre a tragedy was being played. The aged king tottered to and fro on the stage as he declaimed, "On which one of my two sons shall I bestow the crown?"

A voice came from the gallery, "His says guv'nor, myke it 'arf a crown apiece."

Suggestion Made To Plan Room Schemes

To plan a decorative scheme for an attractive and comfortable room, list the steps in the order of their importance. You can then proceed with ease without making mistakes or omitting some vital part of your plan.

It is surprising how quickly the job can be done by following a few simple rules recommended by J. H. Thorp fabric authorities. Here they are:

1. First, determine the exact size of your room by measuring its length and width. Make a floor plan to scale allowing one-half inch to a foot. Indicate doors and window spaces, and keep in mind the height of the ceiling.

2. Select from your present furniture what you wish to retain. Often a new upholstery fabric will give that desired new look to old furniture. Or a new finish, color or bleach will bring lightness to old tables and chairs. Make a notation of any new pieces you need to buy.

3. Cut out cardboard to represent furniture pieces, and move these around until you have the best arrangement. Heavy furniture should be placed opposite another heavy piece, in a conversation group, or to balance some architectural feature, such as a picture window or fireplace.

4. Your next step, choosing a color scheme, is of utmost importance. Color and fabrics can do more than anything else to carry out any desired effect. Cold rooms need warm colors, such as red, rose, yellow or gold. Sunny rooms fare best when cool colors, such as blue, gray or green are selected. Walls, rugs, fabrics in monochromatic colors give a spacious effect.

fect. Avoid darker tints on ceiling unless you want to lower it. Light ceiling shades give an effect of greater room space. Draperies usually look best when made floor-length, and should be full enough to draw across the entire window and frame, or a group of windows. Allow twice the width of the window and frame, permitting pinch pleats about five inches apart.
