

North Carolina 45th In Per Capita Income

According to a recent survey of income payments to individuals in the United States, made by the U. S. Department of Commerce, North Carolina, with a per capita income of $1,049, ranks 45th, followed by Alabama, Arkansas and Mississippi. While the State's per capita income is far down the ladder it is encouraging to note that North Carolina showed an increase of 239 per cent in per capita income from 1929 to 1952, being led only by New Mexico, Georgia and South Carolina.

The following table shows the total and per capita income payments to individuals in North Carolina from 1929 through 1952:

Year	Total Income (in millions)	Per Capita income
1929	$ 966	$ 309
1930	812	255
1931	690	214
1932	576	176
1933	677	205
1934	845	253
1935	915	270
1936	1,006	294
1937	1,077	312
1938	1,011	239
1939	1,090	308
1940	1,131	316
1941	1,436	396
1942	1,872	519
1943	2,270	627
1944	2,536	713
1945	2,651	757
1946	3,012	808

1947	3,223	860

1950	3,880	951
1951	4,350	1,052
1952	4,383	1,049

It is interesting to note the major sources of income in North Carolina and how we compare with the nation, as a whole, in these items. The following table shows the percent of total income derived from various sources for North Carolina, and for the United States. One outstanding observation is that in the United States 6.7 per cent of income is derived from agriculture, while in North Carolina, it is 15.4 per cent. There is not much difference in the per cent distribution from government payments, manufacturing payrolls, trade and service, and miscellaneous items.

Percent Income by Sources

	U. S. Pct.	N. C. Pct.
Agriculture	6.7	15.4
Govt. payments	15.9	16.1
Mfg., payrolls	24.5	25.8
Trade, service	25.6	22.9
All other	5.6	3.5

The total income of the state in 1952 amounted to $4,383 million. A breakdown shows that wages and salaries accounted for $2,818 million; proprietors' income $952 million, which was a reduction from the $1,021 million of 1951; property income $353 million and other income $260 million.

THE FACE

The face may serve various purposes. The kid may often be subjected to the unhappy ordeal of having his face washed and sometimes scrubbed. Some one has said, that children are dirty faced angels.

Boys and sometimes men by getting their faces in the wrong places get them slapped.

A face is a thing that some girls spend much time powdering and painting.

Some faces look as though they were made to be kissed and that they ought to be kissed.

There are some faces that have become so low down that it is necessary to have them lifted before they can make a decent appearance in public.

Many people have become so entangled that it is a tremendous job for them to save face. Others have completely lost face.

Too many people while it may not be easily detected carry around with them two faces. Both faces do not make one creditable face.

Sometimes politicians are driven to desperation in an effort of trying to save both sides of their faces.

Often people try to put bold fronts on their faces.

Faces are so changeable and different that no two have ever been found that look exactly alike.

All faces are or should be the property of their owners.

There are easy faces and there are hard faces. There are bold faces and there are timid faces. There are pretty faces and there are ugly faces. If faces cannot be improved they should be kept.
