

Program Started In State To Combat Rheumatic Fever

Eastern Counties Represented at Seminar In Elizabeth City

The State Board of Health, through the Crippled Children's Section, in cooperation with North Carolina Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill, have recently started a State-wide program for rheumatic fever patients.

There was a rheumatic fever seminar held in the Pasquotank County Health Department recently with eleven counties represented—Pasquotank, Perquimans, Camden, Chowan, Dare, Currituck, Washington, Tyrrell, Hertford, Bertie and Northampton. Miss Lillie Fentress, Orthopedic Director, Crippled Children's Section, and Miss Ann Parish, Physiotherapist, from the State Board of Health, Raleigh, were also present.

Dr. B. B. McGuire, Health Officer, presiding, welcomed the visitors and introduced the speakers.

Madeline E. Morecy, M.D., Pediatric Consultant for Maternal and Child Health, from the State Board of Health, Raleigh, opened the program with the etiology, pathogenesis and the relation of rheumatic fever patient in the community.

Dr. William R. Thomas presented the clinical manifestations of rheumatic fever showing in complete detail how the nervous, skin skeletal and cardio-vascular systems were involved.

Dr. William F. Harrell, Jr., presented the epidemiology, therapy and case presentation, stating that children between the ages of 6 and 8 years are more susceptible to rheumatic fever. That rheumatic fever is a recurrent disease which can be prevented—it is now generally agreed that both the initial and recurrent attack of the disease are usually precipitated by infections with beta hemolytic streptococci. Therefore, the prevention of rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease depends upon the control of streptococcal illnesses. This may be successfully accomplished by early and adequate treatment of streptococcal infections in all individuals, and prevention of streptococcal infections in rheumatic subjects.

The afternoon program was conducted by Miss Mary Louise Free, consultant for the Crippled Children's Section of the State Board of Health. Miss Free explained the State program on rheumatic fever, and the role of the public health nurse in a rheumatic fever program.
