

Carolyn Swindell Becomes Bride Of D. C. Lewis Sunday

Ceremony Performed In Baptist Church at 4:30 O'clock

In a formal candlelight ceremony, Miss Carolyn Swindell became the bride of Dempster Chase Lewis, Jr., on Sunday afternoon, August 1, at 4:30 o'clock in the Edenton Baptist Church. The Rev. R. N. Carroll performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Swindell of Edenton. Mr. Lewis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dempster Chase Lewis, Sr., of New Hartford, New York.

Prior to the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. J. J. Ross, organist. Mrs. C. A. Phillips and Mrs. William Hagley, cousin of the bride, were vocalists.

The vows were spoken before an altar banked with palms, fern and tall baskets filled with white gladioli, snapdragons, stephanotis and fern, lighted by cathedral candles in branched candelabra. Pews for the family were marked with sprays of white carnations tied with white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of imported chantilly lace over bridal satin. The closely molded lace bodice was fashioned with long sleeves and a queen's collar set on an illusion yoke. Each of the three tiers of bouffant lace skirt was scalloped at the edge. At the neck of her gown, she wore a topaz brooch which belonged to the great-great grandmother of the bridegroom. Her finger-tip veil of imported illusion was attached to a scalloped halo of seed pearls and rhinestones on satin. She carried a white Bible with a chantilly lace cover on which was showered a white orchid with streamers.

Mrs. H. Cullen Swindell of Greensboro, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. W. D. Terry, Jr., of North Charleston, S. C., cousin of the bride, were matrons of honor. Their gowns were of mint green satin and nylon tulle which featured a fitted bodice of satin topped with nylon tulle folds making a V-neckline and forming cap sleeves. The floor length voluminous billowy skirt of nylon tulle was over net and taffeta. Their head pieces were halos of shirred nylon tulle which matched the dresses. They carried wedding rings of rubrum lilies and asters.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Webster Gridley of Syracuse, N. Y., sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Leonard Small, Mrs. Tommy Cross and Miss Bebe Evans of Edenton. Their dresses of lilac were fashioned like those of the honor attendants. They carried wedding rings of rubrum lilies.

Honorary bridesmaids were Miss Smith, Jr., Miss Carrie Bennett, Cand-

Laura Satterfield, Miss Peggy Williams, Mrs. Melvin Evans, Miss Lillian Leary, Miss Faye Dail, Miss Cora Ed Bond, Mrs. Thomas Ward, Miss Nancy Boswell, Miss Charlotte Bunch and Mrs. Alva Bunch of Edenton, and Miss Ida Kay Jordan of Elizabeth City and Miss Lucy Cofield of Burlington.

Mrs. Swindell wore a formal of aquamarine marquisette and crepe with matching gloves and an orchid corsage. Her maline hat was of matching color. The mother of the bridegroom wore a formal gown of ashes of roses lace and matching gloves and an orchid corsage. Her flowered hat was of shaded color of the gown.

The bridegroom had J. F. Smith, Jr., of Greensboro for his best man. Cullen Swindell of Greensboro, brother of the bride, Maynard Embhof of High Point, Donald E. Ward of Andover, Mass., and Raleigh Shore, Jr., of High Point were ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a reception at the James Iredell House. Miss Lillian Leary and Miss Peggy Williams presided at the bride's register. Receiving at the front door were Mr. and Mrs. West Leary, Jr. Mrs. Wood Privott introduced guests to the receiving line, which was composed of the bride and bridegroom, their parents, honor attendants and the bridesmaids.

Mrs. Malvern Spivey directed guests into the dining room where Mrs. W. J. Daniels presided at the punch bowl. Assisting throughout the house were the honorary bridesmaids. Good-byes were said by Mr. and Mrs. N. J. George.

All white flowers and crystal were used to decorate the house. The bride's table was covered with a white linen cut work cloth with a white floral arrangement flanked by crystal candelabra off centered.

Later the bride and bridegroom left for a trip to the Thousand Islands in New York State where the bridegroom's family has a summer home. After August 15, the couple will be at home in Greensboro.

For travel, Mrs. Lewis wore a suit of brown and beige with avocado accessories. Her corsage was the white orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride attended Woman's College of the University of North Carolina as a voice major and later attended the Medical College of South Carolina and Roper Hospital in Charleston, South Carolina.

Mr. Lewis was graduated from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, Michigan, where he received an A.B. degree in political science. He served three years in the Navy, two of which were spent in the Asiatic-Pacific Theatre. He is now employed as assistant secretary of the Textile Insurance Company of High Point.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dodge, Bruce L. Pickard, Mrs. Willie Harper, Miss Edith Harper, Philip Levine, Miss Christine Burton, Mr. and Mrs. H. Cullen Swindell, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Smith, Jr., Miss Carrie Bennett, Cand-

WINS MASCULINE VOTE

Cotton sports shirts get the masculine vote for summer comfort. Elsa Schiaparelli has used cotton lawn in a modern geometric print for this new sport shirt that is both smart and cool. Side vents are added for greater ease of movement. This cotton shirt is designed in tan, old gold, light blue, and peach.

60 - SECOND SERMONS

TEXT: "Prejudice is the reason of fools." — Voltaire

There was a forthright old lady who met a neighbor at a political rally. "Why," said the surprised neighbor, "I always thought you were a staunch member of the other party. What are you doing at this meeting?" "Well," sniffed the old lady, "I came with a perfectly open and unbiased mind to listen to what I am convinced is pure rubbish."

Unfortunately prejudice does not confine itself to politics. We are prejudiced for and against every action of our fellow men. When that prejudice refuses to see why others act as they do, or refuse them the right to act on motives of their own, then that prejudice can be wrong. People act to reach goals of their own choosing. Not only are many different goals sought, but these goals have different degrees of intense attainment. In addition, each man has his own method of reaching his goal. Either the goal or the method may differ from our own. To have blind prejudice about a goal or a method is to set up a personal dictatorship, more limited, perhaps, but as real as that which rules a slave state.

Percy Saunders, Miss Eunice Hayman, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Jordan and Miss Ida Kay Jordan of Elizabeth City; Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Winston and Robert Winston of Youngsville, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. George Kelly, Durham; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Sexton, Knoxville, Tenn.; Mrs. Della Furlough, Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thigpen, Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ward, Tyner; Miss Lucy Cofield and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Norwood of Burlington.

Saturday evening after the rehearsal the bridal couple were honored at a cake cutting given by Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Swindell at the home of the bride.

The bride's table was covered with a deep green organdy cloth with lace inserts and draped with white net bows from which white satin wedding bells were showered. Tall white tapers in crystal candelabra flanked the tiered wedding cake which was encircled with greenery and pom-poms. The punch bowl was showered with greenery and white pom-poms.

After the couple cut the first slice of wedding cake, Mrs. D. C. Lewis, mother of the bridegroom, completed the serving. Mrs. James D. Swindell, mother of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Guests were members of the wedding party and the two families.
