BPW Club Enjoys Interesting Meeting

Jesse Harrell and Elliott Sisters Present Program For Club

An interesting program was presented at the October meeting of the Edenton Business and Professional Women's Club held at the Triangle Restaurant Thursday night, when talks were made by Jesse Harrell, president of the Industrial Development Corporation, Miss Elizabeth Elliott and Mrs. Ruth Elliott Turner, who have recently returned from Stam and Japan. Mr. Harrell spoke briefly on the organization and aim of the Industrial Development Corporation, which was organized, he said, by the civic-minded citizens of Edenton to help promote industrial activities into the town. Miss Elliott and Mrs. Turner gave very interesting talks on their travels in the Far East and showed colorful moving pictures along with the comments. A letter was read to the group from Mrs. Inglis Fletcher, honorary BPW member, in which she thanked the club for her membership card. A letter was also read from Miss Louise Coke, "Woman of the Year" for 1954-55, expressing her thanks for the honor bestowed upon her, as well as a letter from Mrs. Dess Gurganus, who is organizing a tour to Europe next summer for BPW members. The club secretary was instructed to write for more information concerning the trip. The Mid-Year Council meeting to be held at Statesville November 6-7, was again brought to the attention of the club. There was an uncertainty as to who could attend, but reservations will be made for those who are able to make the trip. A letter was received from Myra P. Mitchell of Ahsokie, district chairman of home projects, who asked the club to participate in a hose selling project. It was decided to reject this offer at the present time, due to the club's many activities now in progress. The president reported on the recent Penelope Barker benefit breakfast. To date the following amounts have been accounted for, there being some committees not heard from: BPW Club, $112; Woman's Club, $89; and Jaycees, $60, approximately. Members of the public affairs committee, now have on sale "donation tickets", for a chance on a turkey to be given away soon. Benefits will go toward the note on the Penelope Barker House. Mrs. Annie Mills reported that the annual Christmas gifts to Italian orphan, Paola Selip, had been mailed. In the absence of the recording secretary, Mrs. Emma Perkins, treasurer, called the roll and read the minutes of the September meeting. Miss Goldie Layton, Public Affairs Chairman, introduced Mr. Harrell and Miss Minnie Hollowell, chairman of International Relations, introduced Miss Elliott and Mrs. Turner. Mrs. Adelaide Chesson, president of the club, presided over the meeting.

W. B. Rosevear Speaker At Rotary Club Meeting

W. B. Rosevear was the principal speaker at last week's Rotary meeting, when he read portions of a book

"Building a Better Community." The book was written by a newspaper man, taking Bloomington, Ill., as an example for proper planning for expansion. The author urged young people to return to their home town to help build better communities.

After reading excerpts from the book, Mr. Rosevear expressed the opinion that for proper expansion a town should have a planning commission rather than a corporation. "If a town is ready for growth, it will come," he said, adding that industry in the east and north is concentrating in moving to the south and west and a number of them are willing to pay their own way if the towns are adaptable to their needs.

White Oak School PTA Installs New Officers

The PTA of the White Oak Consolidated School met in the School Library Tuesday night, October 19. The main feature of the evening was the election and installation of officers. The following were chosen for the 1954-55 school year: Frank Costen, president; S. M. Rountree, vice president; Mrs. Mattie Jordan, secretary; Mrs. Arizona Fleming, assistant secretary, and Mrs. Pauline Reddick, treasurer. Mrs. Jordan is serving as secretary for the third consecutive year. Impressive installation exercises were conducted by Mrs. E. L. Byrd, supervisor. Refreshments were served by members of the faculty. The whole community is talking about the big Halloween Carnival planned for Friday night, October 29, at White Oak School. There will be fun for all and everyone is invited to come and share the fun.

Delta Kappa Gamma Meets At Nags Head

Pi Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society held a luncheon meeting at the Carolinian Hotel at Nags Head Saturday, October 16, with a splendid attendance and a highlighted program. The history of Delta Kappa Gamma was reviewed by Miss Thelma Elliott of Hertford, Mrs. Essie Wescott of Manteo, Mrs. Clarine B. Brite of Elizabeth City, Miss Carolyn D. Brinkley of Plymouth and Miss Mary Lee Copeland of Edenton. Following this, Miss Minnie Hollowell of Edenton reported on the National Convention of the society, which she attended in Boston during the past summer. Miss Ethel Perry of Plymouth, president of Pi Chapter, presided over the meeting. Miss Perry, along with her committee, mapped out the year's work and announced that the December meeting will be held in Plymouth. Prior to the business session, which was held in the Carolinian Pine Room, an enjoyable coffee hour was held with the Manteo sorority as hostess. Following a three-course buffet luncheon in the hotel's private dining room, the program for the day got under way with Miss Copeland acting as program chairman.
