A LIFT FOR TODAY

The meek will He guide in judgment; and the meek will He teach His way.—Psalms 24:9.

By distrusting our own strength and learning of Him who was meek and lowly in heart, we find rest for our souls.

O God, may we become seekers of Divine Wisdom and learn from the Master Teacher the Way of Life.

Money Well Spent

Town Council at its meeting Tuesday night complied with a request by Father Francis Smith, chairman of the Edenton USO Committee; Mrs. R. P. Badham, aid to the USO director, and Chaplain Veltman of the Edenton Marine Corps Auxiliary Landing Field, to sponsor Pal's Day which will be observed next Thursday night, November 18. Parties will be held in the Edenton armory for white Marines and at the Brown-Cayser Library for Negro Marines.

The purpose of Pal's Day is for Marines and townspeople mingle and become better acquainted, thus making the service people feel that they are welcome and more at home. All Marines, officers and enlisted men, will be invited, as is every citizen of Edenton, to attend the parties. It was pointed out that the Marines are a fine set of boys, who have been obliged to sacrifice their home life and family connections as well as making other sacrifices in order to be prepared to protect the peace of the nation, and are not here of their own choosing.

Of course, to sponsor Pal's Day entails an expenditure of money so that Town Council appropriated $300 for the purpose. The celebration will not be so elaborate, but light refreshments will be served and music provided for a dance, together with some sort of program so that those attending may become better acquainted.

There may be some criticism for spending $300 for this purpose, but The Herald ventures the guess that if word was received that the base is again to be closed, there would be no hesitancy whatsoever in spending $300 in an effort to keep it open. It is a splendid gesture of goodwill and friendship, so that many Edenton people should attend and help to entertain the Marines.

Support The Aces

With luck on their side, Edenton's Aces won the opportunity to represent the Albemarle Conference in the State Class A football championship race and will meet Scotland Neck on Hicks Field Friday night in the first of the elimination games.

The Aces and their coaches, William Billings and Alton Brooks, are to be complimented on rounding out the best football machine Edenton has had in many years and, of course, The Herald hopes they can overcome all competition and win the State championship, as was the case in 1934, when with only two or three reserves, they went through the season and championship race without a single defeat and in a stronger conference.

The game with Scotland Neck should be well attended, for by attendance the athletic program will be benefitted financially. The gate receipts will be split between Edenton and Scotland Neck, although the expense of the visitors coming to Edenton must be borne by the Aces' take. So, the more people who attend the game, the more will be realized by the local school for its athletic program.

Scotland Neck will come to Edenton with an undefeated season's record, so that a hard-fought game is in prospect. So make your plans to attend Friday night, thus enjoying a good game of football and at the same time helping to swell a lean athletic fund.

HEARD & SEEN

Yours truly on Saturday received a check for $10 from The Associated Press which represented a prize for submitting first complete county returns in last week's general election. The check was made out to me, but if distributed among all who contributed to the early report, each would get about a thin dime. For example, there's Eddie Spiers who opened his office to get the returns. Then there's the group who picked out and assorted the ballots, and those who called out and tabulated the vote. And not to be forgotten are the long distance telephone operators who lost no time in getting calls through to Raleigh. Shucks, there's so bloomin' many who are entitled to a slice of the ten bucks—I'll keep it myself.

Edenton's Aces were lucky Monday night when their name was drawn from three, Edenton, Ahoskie and Plymouth, placed in a hat to decide the Albemarle Conference football champions for 1954. They will play Scotland Neck on Hicks Field Friday night in the first of the elimination games for the State Championship. Here's hoping they will be as lucky in playing their opponents as they were in being drawn to compete for the honor.

One of Judge Marvin Wilson's hobbies is homing pigeons and on Saturday he took about 60 of 'em to Chapel Hill and turned them loose. He has tried out some of the pigeons before which have returned home from distances not quite as far and some in the group have never been tried. But Judge Wilson said he's trying out the whole works so that if and when they do return home they'll be stumped down good.

Were I a girl and young enough to participate in a beauty contest or a contest to decide a King and Queen, I believe I'd insist on having the contest held before it's so cold. Diked out in long underwear, wearing my heavy fishing shoes and an overcoat, here's one who had the shivers at the football game Friday night. The contestants in the King and Queen contest, as well as the majorettes, scantily dressed, must have had a double dose of the shivers. But then, maybe their blood is thinner and runs faster to keep 'em a bit warmer. Then, too, maybe some of the reason for my shaking was the tenseness of the game, for up until the last minute it appeared as though it was anybody's game. Excitement and cold weather mixed together is enough to make anybody shiver.

Last week when the youngsters were carrying on their trick or treat practices, a few called at my house. When told we were "fresh out" of things to give, one of the little boys piped out "Ain't you even got an old worn-out Chowan Herald?" It so happened that not even a copy of the paper was on hand, so the kids went away empty handed and without even playing a trick.

The Penelope Barker Association has adopted a rather unique way of raising money. Members plan to get up a community birthday calendar which will list birth dates of residents as well as dates of various club meetings and other community events. More will be said about the scheme next week.

In The Herald office hangs the picture of the Gay Philosopher and his son, but the other day a fellow asked why I haven't Marilyn Monroe's picture stuck up somewhere. Well, it might be in one of my desk drawers—or maybe on top of the desk. Who knows what's on my desk?

At the Methodist Church next Sunday an offering will be taken in response to the Bishop's appeal for funds to rebuild churches in Korea. The new pastor, the Rev. J. E. Richardson (I remember his initials for they're the same as mine) has on hand small cloth bags, saying the Koreans bring bags of rice to church for tithes and offerings. Well, an offering is needed, but Preacher Richardson doesn't want rice in the bags—he wants hard cash.

With deer season now open, I understand quite a few Edenton sportsmen have gone hunting for the fleet-footed animal. But the way I hear it all they did was "went." Somewhat like I do quite frequently—go fishing but just went also.

New 1955 Model Plymouth Displayed In Edenton Nov. 17

Local Dealers Very Enthusiastic About New Model

Plymouth's bigger and more powerful 1955 model cars will be displayed by the Chowan Motor Company beginning Wednesday, November 17.

The 1955 Plymouths are entirely new, both in styling and engineering detail. They are lower, longer and wider than previous Plymouth cars.

They are the most powerful cars Plymouth ever built. The 1955 engines are a 117-horsepower Power-Flow six, a 157-horsepower Hy-Fire V-8 and a 167-horsepower Hy-Fire V-8. The latter engine also is available with a four-barrel carburetor and special manifold which increases its horsepower to 177.

The 1955 line is made up of 12 models, including for the first time four-door versions of the Plymouth Suburban, the all steel body "station wagon" type car which Plymouth pioneered in 1949.

O. B. Perry and P. G. Perry of the Chowan Motor Company attended the showing of the new Plymouths in Richmond last week and are very much enthused over the new models.
