

Irene Taylor Peck Weds R. C. Jordan

Ceremony Performed on Shelby Monday, December 27

Central Methodist Church at Shelby provided the setting Monday afternoon, December 27, at 5 o'clock for a beautiful candlelight wedding in which Miss Irene Taylor Peck became the bride of Robert Calhoun Jordan, Jr., of Elizabethtown. The Rev. James G. Huggin, pastor of the church, heard the vows of the double ring ceremony.

Lewis B. Peck, Jr., only brother of the bride, gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of lustrous white satin with low neckline and deep lace yoke applied over satin. A sculptured bodice, long sleeves, and very full skirt with train were other features of the gown. Her elbow-length veil of illusion was draped from a tiny satin hat sparkled with pearls and sequins. She carried a cluster of white orchids.

Mrs. P. Z. Dunn of Chapel Hill was her sister's matron of honor and Miss Lu Ellen Jordan of Elizabethtown, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. The list of bridesmaids included two other sisters of the bride, Misses Nancy and Betty Louise Peck of Shelby and Misses Frances Ann Thompson of Claverack, N. Y., and Elizabeth Brewer of Jamesville, Little Carole Shuford of Shelby was flower girl.

Robert C. Jordan was best man for his son and P. Z. Dunn, Jr., of Chapel Hill, Kos Weaver of Louisville, Lloyd C. McCaskill of Louisville, Reginald Tucker, Jr., of Hertford, John Harney of Edenton, and R. Hector Lupton, Jr., of Raleigh served as ushers.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. George W. Weaver and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Taylor of Louisville and Mr. and Mrs. George W. French of Charlotte, uncles and aunts of the bride, entertained for the bridal pair at a reception at Cleveland Country Club.

Mrs. Jordan, second daughter of Mrs. Louis Bernard Peck of Shelby and the late Mr. Peck, was graduated from Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, in 1953 with a B.S.S.A. degree. She now holds a secretarial position in the School of Education at UNC, Chapel Hill.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Calhoun Jordan of Elizabethtown, formerly of Edenton, the bridegroom was graduated from University of North Carolina and is now a senior in the UNC School of Medicine. He is a member of Phi Chi, medical fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa, and Phi Eta Sigma, social fraternity.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Jordan left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. Later they will be at home in Chapel Hill.

Aside from John Harney, among those from out-of-town attending the wedding was Robert S. Marsh of Edenton.

60-SECOND SERMONS

BY FRED DODGE

TEXT: "To be positive is to be mistaken at the top of one's voice."
—Ambrose Bierce.

During a heavy Spring rain, a lunatic peered over an asylum wall. He saw a man fishing at a nearby stream and called down to the drenched fisherman.

"Caught anything?"
The man on the river bank looked up and shook his head, glumly.
"How long you been there?" the inmate demanded.

"Three hours," was the answer. The lunatic grinned hospitably and called back.

"Come on inside."

Most of us do things which would be considered insane by many others. Yet we have reasons for doing them which are entirely satisfactory to us. The other fellow cannot know our hearts and minds. We are right in resenting his judgment of our actions. And he is just right in resenting our demand that he measure himself against our standards. Even God does not judge a man until the end of his days. What right, then, has any one of us to force someone else to conform to the standards we set for ourselves? In another world, or in another country, our "fishing in the rain" may be considered quite insane.

ANSWERS

TIMELY FARM QUESTIONS

Question: Is there such a thing as an "overeating" disease?

Answer: Yes. It is called hemorrhagic enterotoxemia, a disease that affects lambs, and calves a few days to a few weeks old. Many animals die within a few hours. A preventive vaccine or serum has been developed for use on bred cows or ewes two to four months prior to the birth of their offspring.

Question: How can I get around buying expensive feed for my livestock?

Answer: By using cottonseed meal and molasses along with roughages such as ground corn stover, cottonseed hulls, or ground corn cobs. Cows utilize roughage well and it is their most economical source of supplemental energy.

Question: How did the Agricultural Conservation Program get its start?

Answer: A major depression, a dust bowl, numerous floods, and millions of acres of gullied and devastated land combined to bring a realization that something had to be done to prevent the nation's resources from being ruined. The program started in 1936.

Question: How can I prevent "salt poisoning" my hogs?

Answer: Swine that have not been fed salt in the feed or had the opportunity of free choice should be started on salt slowly.

Question: Is liquid nitrogen effective?

Answer: Yes. Field tests at State College have shown that liquid nitrogen acts both as a fertilizer and a weed killer.

Question: Why should I fertilize second year corn?

Answer: Tests show that fertilizing second year corn hastens silking as much as 13 days over non-fertilized corn, thus reducing the danger of frost injury.

Question: Taking The Joy Out Of Life. There would be fewer half-blinds if glasses were fitted to the lips.

WOMEN AND WHEELS

New Car; New Color!

By Mary Lou Chapman

We called up a number of our women friends the other day just to satisfy our curiosity on a certain point. We asked them, "What is most important to women in a new car?" Almost without exception they replied, "Color; both inside and out."

What colors are preferred? The lighter and brighter hues.

Miss Chapman

Corals, golds, mustards, a whole new range of turquoise, pinks and plenty of reds—these are the sparklers women want. So to please the women, the automobile industry has really done an about-face since the days of the old expression: "Make it any color as long as it's black." The ratio of black today is down to about eight out of every 100 cars produced. (As late as 1951 twenty cars out of 100 were black.)

New Lighter Colors

When paint companies a few years ago came up with a new white mixture that wouldn't yellow in the sun, they gave the trend to lighter colors a big push forward. Last year pastels and off-white shades began to blaze on every street in America. For the new 1955 models there are some breathtaking colors which go way up the color scale.

Some of today's brilliant finishes resulted from experiments with special "show-car" colors. It was found that customers liked and wanted the hues they saw at auto shows, even though told some of them were special colors, not offered in production automobiles. As a result, some of these special "show-car" colors now are among the most popular offerings.

The contemporary woman has been delighted and will continue to be by the color of her automobile. She was already well versed in ideas of color harmony from her study of food preparation, fashions and interior decorating. The new colors in automobiles are an exciting extension of these interests.

(Fashion writer, artist, and TV personality, Miss Chapman is a native of Detroit and has won the last several news-reading contests with her witty, stylish, distinctive and engaging at Chrysler Corporation.)

Weekly Devotional Column

By JAMES MacKENZIE

A keen student of present day religious trends is Dr. A. W. Tozzer, past-president of the Christian and Missionary Alliance denomination, which is very much like the current issue of Moody Monthly Magazine. Dr. Tozzer lists nine "right-old" Christian truths which need to be brought back into focus by evangelical Christians. They are:

1. A return to the right divine-human relationship. By that he means we must put God again where He properly belongs and man where he belongs. "Over the last fifty years in America there has been a slow dimming down of the glory of God among us and a corresponding rise of the importance of mere men. And I believe that we evangelicals will never have back upon us again the old glory until we return to the faith that places God on the throne of His glory, and humbly kneels before Him and takes the low place."

2. There can be no Saviourhood without Lordship. We must cease to preach Christ only as Saviour, which He is, and must preach Him also as Lord of our lives. If Christ is not enthroned as Lord of your life, neither is He your Saviour. There is a lot more to being a Christian than just coming forward in a revival meeting somewhere and being baptized.

3. We must get back again to the letter of the Word. The Bible was written to point us to God, not to give us something to argue about.

4. We must repudiate the evil liaison between the Church and the world. No where is this so evident than in the blasphemous attempt by the gambling and baroque show interests of our country to cover up their hypocrisy and sin by a "Back to Church" campaign. Our churches, too, I fear, are guilty of encouraging this evil liaison when they solicit funds from unsaved people. Brothers, God does not need—and does not want—the devil's help.

5. We must emphasize anew that when a man becomes a Christian he becomes dead unto sin—sin no longer has dominion over him. To say that a Christian can continue on in sin is to deny a very basic teaching of the Word of God.

6. We need to return to internalism as opposed to externalism. That is, we must emphasize the need for a change of heart rather than that of just an outward show of piety.

7. We must recapture the holy art of worship. Between primadonna preachers, clap-trap exhibitionism, and Tin Pan Alley religious songs we have tended to get away from real, genuine, reverent, heart-felt worship.

8. We must return to New Testament methods. It is entirely possible to preach an evangelical message, and cancel out the value of that message by non-Biblical methods. Orthodoxy in creed is not enough. We must have Bible methods as well as a Bible message.

9. And lastly, we must get free from our strange fear of the Holy Spirit. Only our Holiness friends seem to have any realization of the important place of the Holy Spirit in the life of the believer. The Holy Spirit is our Friend, our Comforter. He convicts us of sin, reveals Christ to us, illumines the sacred page, and empowers us for life and service. May God grant we may see the peril before us, and return again to pure Biblical Christianity with all its power, its satisfaction, its reverence and humility.
