niacin; they contain large amounts of riboflavin. Because peanuts are a terrific energy food they are regularly found in the training diets of famous athletes.

The vines on which peanuts grow constitute a rich vitamin hay of premium quality for feeding livestock.

Peanut hulls have many industrial uses. They are used as a grinding and polishing abrasive and sound insulation. They are also sold as poultry litter and for roughage in poultry feed.

Protein fiber made from peanut hulls is used in the manufacture of synthetic fabrics such as upholstery materials and draperies. It has also been used in making bathing suits.

Peanuts are used in the treatment of Pellagra because they are rich in the pellagra preventive factor, nicotinic acid.

Peanut oil forms the base of many face creams, shaving creams, hair lotions and other cosmetics because it energizes the skin.

Peanut oil is used extensively for massaging polio patients. It is also used as a carrier of adrenalin in the treatment of asthma and other ailments.

Peanut hearts (the little seed inside the kernel) are removed before making peanut butter. They are used in poultry feed and bring a good price because of their high nutritive value.

Petition Presented To Put Hard Surface On Third Township Road

Chowan County Commissioners on Monday morning received a petition asking them to request the State Highway and Public Works Commission to hard surface what is known as the Wingfield Road. The road is in the Third Township and runs from Dillard's Mill road to Dillard's mill and Cannon's Ferry, a distance of about three miles.

The petition was signed by 25 property owners and was approved by the Commissioners and will be sent to the Highway Commission for consideration.
