

Methodists Plan Barbecue Dinner At Church Sept. 28

Conference Lay Leader Will Be Principal Speaker

The Commission on Finance of the Edenton Methodist Church is sponsoring a barbecue dinner at the church Wednesday evening, September 28, at 7 o'clock. The objective of the Commission, of which J. W. Davis is chairman, is to bring at least 100 members of the church together for the consideration of the theme, "Stewardship of Possessions," and to promote an interest in a building fund campaign soon to follow.

The Methodist layman is giving significant leadership in the church in the area of stewardship. One of the men in North Carolina Methodism who has done most in this field is Jasper Smith of Bethel. He will be guest speaker at the dinner next Wednesday evening and comes to Edenton in his capacity as the North Carolina Conference lay leader.

Plans for this stewardship rally are in the hands of two committees. The Ticket Committee is headed by Jess Wilson and the Arrangements Committee by Rufus Carraway. In order to relieve the women of all responsibility for the preparation of food, admission to the dinner will be by ticket only. If anyone interested in attending should be overlooked by the Ticket Committee, he should call Mr. Wilson.

ly 80 per cent of the peanuts are dusted to control the leaf-spot disease (thus increasing peanut yields). Good corn hybrids and better fertilization has about doubled the corn yield. Improved livestock and poultry breeding and practices is paying dividends. Four new community centers have developed. There have been many State 4-H project winners in Chowan. Nearly 2,000 acres of improved pastures have been established. These and many other accomplishments have been made by our farm people, with agricultural agencies helping.

Overman says there is much to be done beyond the realm of regular activities to make this a better world in which to live. Along the way he has served as Sunday School teacher and superintendent and as choir member and leader. He has been a Rotarian for 18 years, filling practically every office in the Rotary Club. He has attended six of the last seven National Agricultural County Agents' Association meetings, serving on committees and as a National Committee Chairman one year. He has been a Mason since 1936, serving in various offices and is master of Unanimity Lodge No. 7, this year.

Record of 458,000 Man Hours Without Major Accident

Officials of the Edenton Cotton Mills are proud of the record recently established by supervisory staff and employees in accumulating over 458,000 man hours of regular work without a disabling injury to personnel.

This record was established through the diligently planned and executed safety program in operation by Edenton Cotton Mills employees and managerial staff. All are to be congratulated for the initiative and leadership contributed to the prevention of injury and suffering of man.

In recognition of this outstanding achievement the workmen's compensation insurance carrier for the mills, American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, August 24 presented the Edenton Cotton Mills with their special safety award which is given only to plants developing a minimum of 250,000 accident-free man hours over a period of not less than one year unblemished by disabling injury.

Edenton Aces Win From Great Bridge By Score Of 19 To 6

Billy Bunch Leader In Victory With Two Touchdowns

Although greatly outweighed, Coach Bill Billings' Edenton Aces on Friday night took on the fighting spirit of last year's championship team to defeat Great Bridge 19-6 in the new stadium at Great Bridge.

The entire Edenton team, plus a goodly number of reserves, played a bang-up game against their heavier opponents, with Billy Bunch especially taking the spotlight. The 140-pound halfback scored two of the Aces' touchdowns, one on a thrilling 82-yard jaunt and the other 15 yards out. Early in the first quarter he uncoiled a neat 53-yard run and ran over 50 yards for a touchdown which was called back when officials claimed he stepped out of bounds.

Aiding considerably on offense were Jerry Downum, who broke loose for a few thrilling runs, as well as Chan Wilson and Stuart Holland, who added yardage during the night. The entire Edenton line as well as the line backers played an outstanding game in helping to box down the offensive thrusts by the Virginians. It was a scoreless game until seconds before the whistle sounded the end of the first half, when the Aces scored their first touchdown.

Edenton kicked to open the game and the ball was brought back to the Great Bridge 28. The Wildcats registered two first downs, taking the ball to midfield. However, the Aces strengthened and Great Bridge was forced to kick. It was Edenton's ball on their own 20 and after Great Bridge was penalized 5 yards the Wildcats recovered an Edenton fumble on the 24. Great Bridge in three plays made a first down on the Edenton 13. A penalty put the ball on the 18, at which point the Aces formed a veritable brick wall and Great Bridge lost the ball on downs. Wilson and Holland carried the ball to the 25 as the quarter ended.

At the start of the second quarter the Aces lost the ball on downs and it was the Wildcats' ball on their own 25. The Aces gained possession of the ball on a fumble on the Great Bridge 20. The Aces chalked up a first down carrying the ball to the Wildcats' 9 1/2 yard line. However, the ball went over to Great Bridge on downs on the 11. The Wildcats made a first down, but after three downs netted only three yards they kicked. The ball was returned to the Great Bridge 45 and after Wilson picked up 8 yards the Wildcats were penalized 15 yards, giving the Aces an other first down. The Aces gained 6 and a pass lacked only inches of being a first down, so that the ball went over to Great Bridge on their own 25. The Wildcats chalked up a first down to their own 43, and they were then penalized 15. At the 27 yard line they fumbled but recovered and after an unsuccessful pass they again fumbled but recovered, after which they kicked. It was the Aces' ball on the Great Bridge 32. Wilson ramed through the line for 3 yards, after which Johnny Kramer passed to Wayne Emminizer, who carried the ball to the Great Bridge 5. The Aces were pushed back one yard and in two plays Holland bulldozed his way to the two-foot line, from where he crashed over on the fourth down for the touchdown as the half ended. The try for the extra point failed, so that the Aces led 6-0 at half time.

Great Bridge scored its lone touchdown early in the third quarter. Great Bridge kicked to start the half but the Aces lost the ball on downs on the Great Bridge 43. At that point Tommy Thompson broke through the Edenton defense to score. The try for extra point failed, thus knotting the score. The tie did not last long, for after Great Bridge kicked, the ball was brought back to the Edenton 29, and shortly after that Billy Bunch thrilled the fans when, with good blocking, he raced 82 yards for the Aces' second touchdown. The try for extra point again failed so that the Aces went out in front 12-6.

After the Aces kicked, Great Bridge kicked after three plays netted only six yards. Billy Bunch got away for a first down to the 45. In three plays the Aces registered another first down to the Great Bridge 41. They carried the ball to the 15, from where Billy Bunch wiggled through for his second touchdown. This time, Holland broke through the line for the extra point, putting the score Edenton 19, Great Bridge 6.

After the Aces kicked Great Bridge was unable to gain, so that the Aces again got possession of the ball on the Great Bridge 49 as the quarter ended.

As the fourth quarter opened Wilson gained a yard, Holland lost 4 and gained 2, after which the Aces kicked. Great Bridge made a first down but while resorting to the air Jerry Downum snagged a pass and raced to the Edenton 45. Chan Wilson made a first down and Holland picked up a yard. The Aces fumbled on the 50 and Great Bridge registered a first down to the Aces' 40. They were thrown for a 15-yard loss, so that the Aces got the ball on their own 35. They kicked on fourth down and after Great Bridge tried two passes, the Aces intercepted a pass as the final whistle blew.

Many homemakers can chicken, beef, fish, pork, and other home grown meats to help spread the supply throughout the year.

With can meat on the shelf you can quickly have a savory stew, meat pie or many other good dishes that are time-savers for busy women.

Beef, veal, mutton, lamb, pork, poultry and rabbit are all successfully canned at home. Meats of large game animals may be canned like beef. Meat of game birds and small game animals may be canned like poultry.

Mixtures such as the following should not be canned at home: Chili Can-Corne, hash and stews made with vegetables, head cheese, liver paste or mush, pork and beans and soups made with cereals and vegetables.

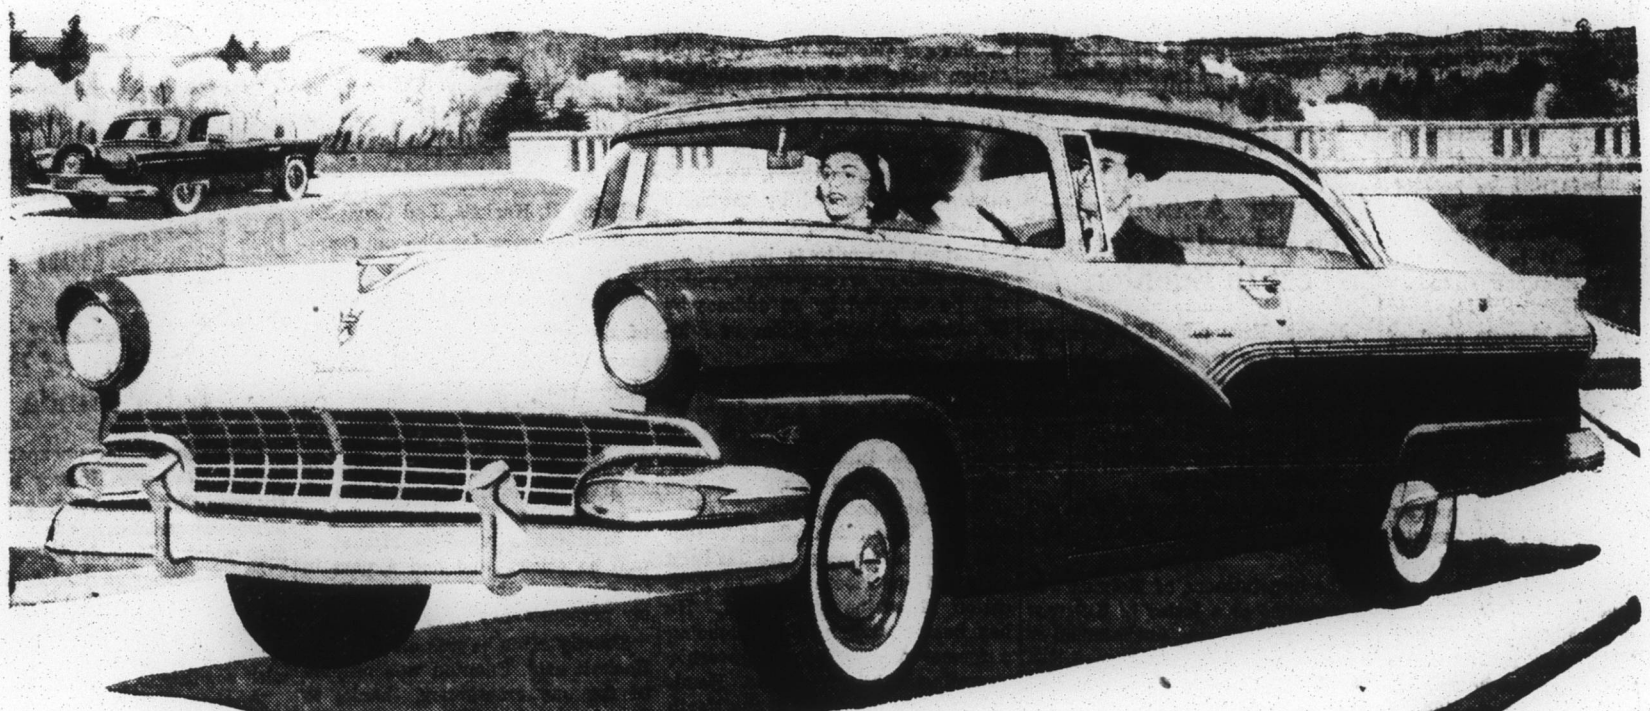

Commercial canners succeed with these specialties because they have the needed equipment and laboratories to check their results. For the home canner, it is safer to can each food by itself and then combine when ready to serve.

Complete instructions for canning meat at home are available at the Home Agents' office.
