

James Speaker At First PTA Meeting For Current Year

Principal Urges Members to Seek Facts About Schools

A large and enthusiastic group of Parent Teacher Association members were on hand for the initial meeting of the new school year held Tuesday night of last week, when Gerald James, principal of the Edenton Junior-Senior High School was the principal speaker.

"If you know nothing about your school," James stated. "Mr. James at the end of his remarks, advised that when you discover for yourself what is going on in your school."

Mr. James referred to a report that had been turned in by parents of children entering the high school from the elementary school this year, called the high school the "big school".

Mr. James believed that we have an excellent organization for our school, and Mr. James pointed out what a student goes through when entering the Junior-Senior High School and the part they play during the high school years.

Join and work actively in your PTA, urged James, "learn from every source possible the true facts about your high school; attend as many school events as possible; call and make appointments before coming out to discuss problems; try to have some knowledge of what your child is studying; and be sure to let your child know that you are backing the teacher.

A social hour followed the meeting staged by the Social Committee, headed by Mr. and Mrs. West. Refreshments were served the large gathering by members of the Home Economics Department and PTA members.
