"I want to exchange these snake-skin pumps," a woman in a crowded shoe store told the salesman. "They are imperfect—the scratches."
The clerk agreed and brought another pair out. "But those are imperfect, too," said the lady.
A few minutes later the man returned with eight pairs of shoes. The customer found a flaw in each pair. "They're all imperfect," she finally said.
"Madam," the salesman said wearily, "I'm not perfect, you're not perfect. How can you expect a snake to be perfect?"

Honor Society Taps New Members Here

Candlelight Ceremony Held at School Friday Night

On Friday, November 18, seven new members were tapped into the National Honor Society by the old members at the Edenton Junior-Senior High School. This was done in an impressive candlelight ceremony with the parents of the seven members present.

Frances Boyce, president, opened the program by welcoming everyone to the first annual induction ceremony. Each member interpreted each phase of the Society.

Clinton Davis read certain sections of the constitution. The emblem, which is the key-stone and flaming torch, was explained by Alma Hardison.

Each of the four principles was discussed by old members. A candle to symbolize each principle was lit from the torch by the member and placed on the stand representing that principle. The four principles are: Character, explained by Albert Ward; Scholarship, Lillian Whiteman; Leadership, Lin Jordan, and Service, Dick Lowe. These are the four characteristics each member must obtain before belonging to the Society.

"I Believe" was then sung by Jeannine Stathopolous. The president then announced the moment which had long been awaited by the members of the junior and senior classes as new members come only from those classes. As the band played softly an old member walked into the audience and tapped a fellow member. They walked together back to the table and the old member lit first his candle from the torch and then the new members'. After placing the candles in the arbor they remained standing until all new members were tapped. Everyone then sat down and the president stepped forward and asked the new members to rise and repeat the pledge after her.

Each new member was called forward to receive his or her membership card. The old members were called forward to receive their pins. They then pinned the member they had tapped. After the receiving of pins Principal Gerald James gave a short talk, welcomed the parents and closed the program, after which the parents, faculty, and members enjoyed a social in the home economics room.

The following members were tapped into the Society: Faye Haste, Billy Adams, Billy Bunch, Jerry Downum, Barbara White, Rachel Wilder, and Bonnie Wright.

The seven old members are as follows: Frances Boyce, president; Clinton Davis, vice president; Lillian Whiteman, secretary; Alma Hardison, treasurer; Albert Ward, Dick Lowe and Lin Jordan.

Mrs. W. H. Hollowell, Jr., is the sponsor of the Edenton Chapter.

SUNPOST—Arrows in this symbolic three-dimensional representation of our solar system proceed outward from the sun, initial source of all energy. Symbol of the Association for Applied Solar Energy. It's a "sunpost" to a tomorrow when man hopes to harness the sun's energy directly for performance of the world's work. Several hundred scientists recently met in Arizona to discuss technical and practical aspects of harnessing solar energy.

After the receiving of pins Principal Gerald James gave a short talk, welcomed the parents and closed the program, after which the parents, faculty, and members enjoyed a social in the home economics room.

Question: What preparations should I make for growing spring flowering bulbs?

Answer: If you plan to grow them for several years, it pays to prepare the soil thoroughly and fertilize liberally. Use a fertilizer such as 8-8-8 at the rate of about four pounds per 100 square feet. Mix the fertilizer thoroughly with the soil and make sure that some of the fertilizer is placed as deeply as the bulb is planted.

Question: How can I keep my pullets from going into an autumn pause in production?

Answer: Keep a close watch on them. If you notice them losing body weight or shedding, not eating normally, or if production is not on the gradual increase at this time of the year, you may need to "stimulate" them. The object of this is to get the chickens to eat more mash. This may be done by placing them on a 14-hour day with lights, feeding wet mash or pellets.
