

Forest Industries Add $537 Million To N.C. Economy

Tree Farm Program Encourages Repeated Tree Crops

The forest industries of North Carolina are adding over $537,400,000 annually to the state's wealth, according to Carr Gibson of Lumberton, chairman of the North Carolina Forest Industries Committee.

Gibson, whose committee sponsors the industry-operated Tree Farm Program in North Carolina, said the Department of Commerce's newest Census of Manufacturers shows forest industries of the state in 1954 and $331 million in value through manufacture, paid out more than $188 million in payrolls and spent approximately $16 million for capital improvements.

The $331 million value added through manufacture represented an increase of over 41 per cent since 1947, Gibson said.

North Carolina's forest industries, the report shows, employ nearly 74,000 persons. Forest industries in this state are those which manufacture lumber, furniture and fixtures, pulp, paper and other paper and wood products.

The industry chairman said expansion of the Tree Farm program, which encourages private landowners to grow repeated tree crops through careful management and protection of their woodlands, will broaden the base of the state's vast forest economy.

North Carolina presently has more than 1,000,000 acres of commercial timberland enrolled in the industry-sponsored program to grow timber as a crop.

New Regulations For Veterans' Insurance

Veterans discharged since September 2, 1956 no longer have 120 days after separation to apply for government insurance according to the North Carolina Veterans Commission. Men separated from the armed services since September 2, 1956 with the exception of service-connected disabled veterans have only until December 31, 1956 to apply for GI insurance.

This change in applying for government insurance is due to legislation passed by the last Congress which prohibits the issuance of insurance after December 31, 1956 except to men who have a disability resulting from service.

All veterans interested in applying for government insurance are urged to contact J. L. Wiggins, Veterans Service Officer, Edenton, or the District Office of the North Carolina Veterans Commission in Elizabeth City.

Married Thanksgiving Day

Miss Patricia Sanders Howard, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Turlington Howard of High Point, and Thomas Eric Haste, Jr., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eric Haste of Edenton, were united in marriage Thursday afternoon, November 22, at 5:30 o'clock. The wedding took place in Wesley Memorial Methodist Church at High Point. The pastor, the Rev. Walter J. Miller, officiated.

Miss Mae Kirkman of High Point, former music teacher of the bride, played a number of selections before the ceremony and used Schubert's "Serenade" during the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches by Wagner and Mendelssohn were used.

Howard Coble, minister of music at the church, sang "I Love Thee" by Grieg and "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white pure silk taffeta dress, fashioned with beaded Chantilly feather and flower lace on point de ve neckline and a gored bodice. The paneled skirt, extending into a court train, was appliqued with Chantilly lace. Her veil of illusion was caught to a lace cloche embroidered with seed pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white camellias centered with cymbidium orchids and showered with Stephanotis tied into narrow satin ribbons.

Miss Mary Jo Douglas of Raleigh, a roommate of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Chrystal and Faye Haste, sisters of the bridegroom, Misses Sherry Kearns and Elizabeth Reese of High Point.

All attendants wore beauty velveteen, princess line dresses with scoop neck, empire waistline accented with satin band with streamers to him of dress in back. Their headdress was a bandeau of pressed matching velvet flowers with circular veil, sprinkled with rhinestones. They wore satin opera pumps also dyed to match. They carried cascade bouquets of Rubrum lilies.

Little Caroline Amos of High Point, flower girl, also wore beauty velveteen and carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses and wore a bandeau in her hair of pink rose buds.

The bride's mother wore a sheaf-dress of Dior blue chantilly lace over crepe with matching accessories and a purple-throated orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore a sheaf-dress of mauve French brocade and satin with matching accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's father was best man. Ushers were William Gardner, William Bond, Frank Adams and Albert Byrum of Edenton; Sutton Flythe of Martinsville, Va.; Clifford Towse of Hertford, and M. J. Mann, Jr.

Following the ceremony the couple, with their parents, received the wedding guests in the vestibule of the church.

After a short wedding trip the couple will return to Chapel Hill to complete their senior year studies at the University of North Carolina and will be at home in the Glenn-Lennox apartments.

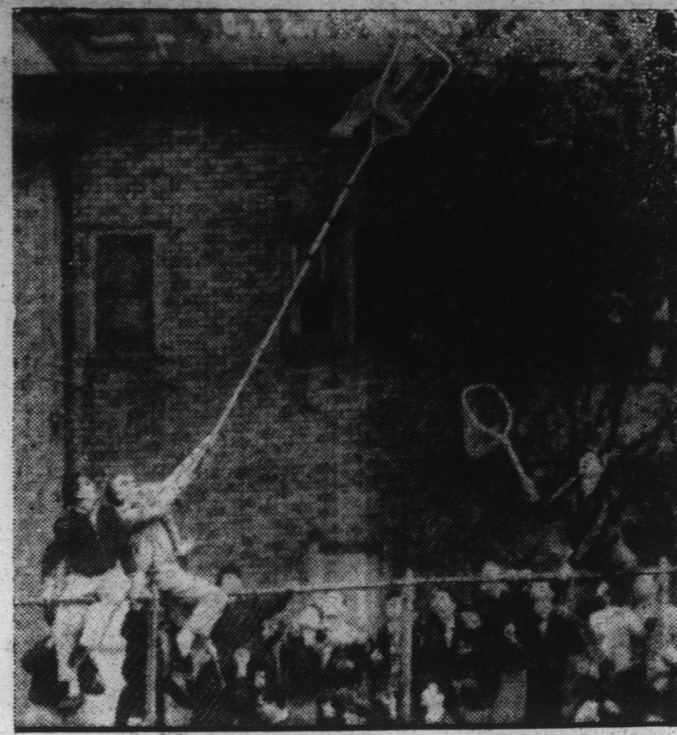

The bride graduated from Stuart Hall Preparatory School at Staunton, Va., and studied two years at Salem College in Winston-Salem. Now a senior at the University of North Carolina, she is majoring in primary education. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority and made her formal debut at the 1954

NEW SPORT: KICK-SNARING—In Chicago, an unidentified fan, equipped with net, turned in the "play of the day" during a recent Bears-Green Bay Packers pro-football game. After an extra point was kicked by a Chicago player, the death-defying fan, straddling a fence 20 feet above street level, snared the pigskin, above. "Kick-snarer" with short pole, at right, didn't have a chance.

Hot Bird!
Recently, after attending a football game, several out-of-town college boys put up for the night at a certain Southern hotel. When one of their number passed out of the picture from drinking too much corn whiskey, his friends decided to have a little fun with him. They conveyed their unconscious comrade to his room, smeared his body with vaseline, and then gave him a coat of feathers from the pillow. Then, as a parting gesture, they turned up the heat in his room full force. The following morning the inebriated student awoke in the stifling heat of his room and gazed bleary-eyed into the full-length mirror opposite his head. "My God," he croaked. "Gone to h—l and turned into a bird."
