awarded at the national level to 4-H Club members whose 1957 records of achievement in their chosen projects are tive Extension G. L. Noble Service. The scholarships will be presented to the national champions next December during the 36th annual 4-H Club Congress, Noble said. Among the 4-H activities offering awards of scholarships as well as trips to the Club Congress are the Boys' Agricultural, Poultry, Garden, and Electric programs. Donors of the awards espectively are: International Harvester, Sears-Roebuck Foundation, Allis-Chalmers, and the Westinghouse Educational Foundation. All have supported 4-H work for many years through programs arranged and announced by the National Committee and the Extension Service. Last year 4-H awards and leader training funds distributed through the National Committee amounted to $469,397. A similar
