also enjoyed a copy of the booklet "Historical Edenton." All guests received small burlap bags filled with North Carolina peanuts and bearing the inscription, "Edenton, North Carolina." Peanuts for the bags were donated by the Albemarle Peanut Co., Edenton Peanut Co., Jimbo-Jumbo and Spedic Peanut Co. Members of the Edenton Woman's Club sewed and filled the bags and prepared the labels.

The cradles were designed and made by Cecil Fry, Hubert Willford, Nick George and Jimmy Earnhardt. Material for the cradles was donated by the Edenton Veneer Mill. Mrs. Earnhardt donated and arranged the miniature pine cone buttonaires.

Two special packages representing Edenton's historical background were prepared by Mrs. Earnhardt and presented to Vice President Richard Nixon as gifts for his two daughters. The Vice-President was principal speaker at the convention.

Miss Kathryn Brown, delegate from the Edenton Women's Club, assisted Mrs. Earnhardt at the Western States Conference Banquet. The convention will extend through Friday, June 7.
