Sunday School Lesson

AMOS, CRUSADER FOR RIGHTEOUSNESS (Temperance)
International Sunday School Lesson For August 25, 1957

Memory Selection: "Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live."
—Amos 5:17.

Lesson Text:
Amos 1:1; 6:4-7; 7:10-15.

About twenty-six centuries ago Amos wrote one of the earliest books of prophecy. It was just about a century after the time of the Prophet Elijah.

The prophetic works of the Old Testament are divided into four Major Prophets and twelve Minor Prophets. Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel and Daniel constitute the four great prophets of the eighth century B. C. The distinction between the "major" and "minor" prophets is purely arbitrary, based on the volume, and not on the importance, of writings.

Amos was a shepherd and farmer, living at Tekoa, a little village which was six miles south of Bethlehem. He was not a trained prophet but belonged to that select company of great men in the Bible who were humble workers. Amos cared for a special variety of sheep, and was also a dresser of sycamore trees, which bore a small fig. This was pinched to hasten its ripening. Hence,

Amos was a fig-pinchers. The Book of Amos is not very long, but it is our first literary monument of its kind. The Book, as Rev. George L. Petrie once said, "has not the charm of poetry, but it has the fascinating power of oratory; an oratory, not of the schools, but of nature; not ornate, but rugged. The illustrations of the Book are objects of nature and scenes familiar to plainest country life. Of all the prophetic Books, this is the one which the plain, unlettered laborer on the farm, in the field or forest, may most easily read."

Amos was an able writer, however. Prof. Bernhard Dhum says of him: "Amos speaks with unpolished plainness. But he can handle his language with a master's skill; every sentence is full of meaning, and every word strikes the mark. This reforming soul belongs among the classic writers of Israelite literature."

Although Amos lived in the country, he understood the life of his age. He saw and disliked the wickedness of the cities when he carried his produce to market. He also saw many other evils. As Rev. Bernard C. Clausen outlines: "Unscrupulous judges condemned the innocent for paltry bribes. The rich grasped the small possessions of the poor. Prices were fraudulently increased and measures were fraudulently diminished, and bad grain was

GO TO SOME CHURCH EACH SUNDAY

RAILS THAT NEVER RUST

Gleaming in the midday sun... shimmering under the moon's pale glow... afire with gold as the night headlights bear down... rails that never rust.

Rolling wheels won't let them! Some folks wonder whether it's important to go to Church every Sunday. Why not twice a month—or now and then—or at certain special seasons?

When the wheels stop rolling: RUST! When we relax in our quest of God or interrupt our pursuit of faith, then all the destructive influences in life begin to attack the soul.

The Church helps us keep open our spiritual right of way. And not only church-worship, but personal prayer, Bible reading and family worship rightfully deserve a place on our timetable.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
