A LIFT FOR TODAY

... be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life. —Rev. 2:10.

Things of God that are marvelous are to be believed on a principle of faith, not to be pried into by reason. For if reason set them open before our eyes, they would no longer be marvelous. —S. Gregory.

O God, let no disloyalty steal from us the heritage of our faith.

Should Be Appreciated

Two very important events, especially from the standpoint of children, are announced this week. One is the annual Christmas parade and party sponsored by the Edenton Business and Professional Woman's Club, and the annual Halloween party which is sponsored by the Edenton Woman's Club.

Of course, the Christmas party is anxiously looked forward to by the youngsters, many of whom want to see Santa Claus and receive a present. But it also ushers in the Christmas season, a time when friendliness and good cheer are more in evidence than any other time of the year.

The Halloween party, too, is an enjoyable event anticipated by youngsters by the hundreds. This event, however, was planned primarily for the purpose of providing wholesome enjoyment for boys and girls in an effort to eliminate rowdiness and the nuisance of trick or treat tactics.

The Halloween party is put on almost entirely through the cooperation and liberality of business concerns and individuals, some of whom have registered complaint for being bothered with the trick or treat callers long after the annual party is over. The complaint is justified, for members of the sponsoring organization work hard and long to make the necessary preparations and arrangements. Everything at the Halloween party is free, so that there is little reason why youngsters should aggravate and even torment citizens when so much has been done for their evening's entertainment.

The Halloween party has by and large reduced damage which was all too often done by rowdiness before the parties were begun some ten years ago. It is hoped that parents will prevail upon their children to refrain from bothering anybody either before or after the party, which is staged especially for their benefit, and that damage to property by pranksters will be a thing of the past.

Both the Woman's Club and BPW Club are to be commended for their efforts in behalf of children of the community by sponsoring these parties for their entertainment and pleasure, and it is to be hoped that the motive for them will be realized.

You can go a long way if you are interested in other human beings.

When you begin to please everybody, it's time for you to examine yourself.

Heard & Seen
By Buff

In the mail this week was a letter from Mrs. William S. McCaslin, Jr., whose husband was stationed at the Edenton Naval Auxiliary Air Station. The McCaslins are now living at Costa Mesa, California, and with a check for a subscription to The Herald Mrs. McCaslin had this, in part, to say: "Please start sending me The Chowan Herald. If you have any old copies of The Herald, please send them to me. We left Edenton the middle of August, so you can see I have missed quite a few issues. We miss Edenton very much, but it's wonderful to be back in California again. My husband says that his tour in Edenton was one of the best in his time in service. We made lots of friends there, and some day hope to be back in that section of the country."

George Twiddy likes to go deer hunting, but this sport for him is over for this season. You see he, together with a group of others, went hunting the first day and George shot two deer and says he had a perfect shot at another after he bagged his season's limit. Anyway, he has been going deer hunting for seven or eight years, and it was the first time he shot a deer. It doesn't worry him, for he says he'd rather have the vengeance in the freezer locker than to keep on going hunting in the hope of shooting a deer.

A group of Pocahontas members, realizing that the Red Men allowed their hall to get pretty darned dirty, pitched in Tuesday to clean up the place and they had a real job. In fact they didn't get done during the morning and had to work an afternoon shift, so that Elsie Lee, Ella Mae Parrish and Arlene Keeter went to my house for a coffee break and a little snack. One of 'em said "We're not hungry," but Ella Mae Parrish chimed in "You speak for yourself—I'm 'hungry'."

And speaking about coffee, the Methodists served coffee between the church school and church hour. If that don't get 'em out it might be a good idea to add ham and eggs to go along with the coffee.

The Parish House was filled with smoke after the Rotarians had finished eating Thursday. No, there was no fire, but Don Dalton passed out cigars. He was a little late due to missing the previous meeting, but he "paid up" for a new 7-pound son.

Jimmy White, one of the "boarders" at my house, was in the bath room one morning this week messing with a razor. "Why, Jimmy," said his mother, "you're not starting to shave, are you?" However, he continued messing and replied, "Why, mamma, I've been shaving for about a year and I cut myself both times."

A week or two ago I had something to say about a football team in Edenton 51 years ago. C. P. Wales, after reading the article, brought in a picture of the football team of Central High School of Binghamton, New York, taken in 1896, about 61 years ago. Though Mr. Wales was on the picture, it was hard for me to recognize him, and it is interesting to note the sort of uniforms and paraphernalia they wore back in those days. He played fullback on the football team and was a member of the track team, specializing in the hammer throw. He enjoyed showing the picture, but he can't get around as fast now as he did then—just like a lot of us.

What might be the last home game the Aces will play this season will take place Friday night when they lock horns with the Ahoskie Indians. Here's one who hopes they will turn back Ahoskie and Plymouth the following night at Plymouth, and go on toward another state championship. How about going out to see 'em play Friday night?

Record Crowd
At PTA Meet
Tuesday Night

That interest in the Edenton Parent-Teacher Association is at a high level is reflected in the fact that attendance at Tuesday night's first PTA meeting of the season was one of the largest in attendance ever experienced in Edenton.

The group met in the auditorium of the Edenton Elementary School and was presided over by the president, Joe Conger, Jr. The meeting opened with prayer by Chaplain Iley of the Edenton Naval Auxiliary Air Station, after which President Conger welcomed those present and expressed his appreciation for the splendid attendance. Ernest Swain and Gerald James introduced the teachers of the Elementary and High Schools respectively and John A. Holmes introduced members of the school trustees.

The meeting was termed a "buzz" session with various groups separating to consider the sort of program desired at forthcoming PTA meetings and many suggestions were advanced. The theme of the program was "Looking to the Future," which proved to be very interesting and informative with many participating in a general discussion to evaluate the needs and desires of the community.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served.

Tom Ridgeway Is
Auxiliary Speaker

One of the features of last week's Chowan Hospital Auxiliary meeting was a talk by Tom Ridgeway, manager of Chowan Hospital, giving suggestions to the Auxiliary for successful cooperation. Hostesses are needed between 6 and 8 o'clock P. M., to help the staff during visiting hours. Until a schedule is worked out, volunteers will be appreciated. He suggested a plan, adopted by vote, for the daily operation of a hospital cart to supply the patients with needed accessories. He told of a Chowan Hospital sign being made and donated by Hubert Williford, which will be placed on the grounds and flood-lighted.

Mrs. W. O. Elliott reported that the Girl Scouts, under the leadership of Mrs. Roland Vaughan and Mrs. John Kramer, have volunteered to make tray favors for Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas. A scrapbook of clippings saved since the opening of the hospital is being assembled. Mrs. J. H. Conger, Sr., Mrs. Joe Thorud, Mrs. J. W. Davis, Sr., and Mrs. Lyn Byrum will take care of the mending and serving this week. A further payment of $200 was made on the oxygen tent, which has been the big project of this year's work. Tea was served by Mrs. Albert Byrum and Mrs. J. C. Leary, Sr.

The bridge marathon has completed two rounds of games with the following scores:

Hospital Care has already printed more than 50,000 of the leaflets, Cranford said, and will mail them out this week to all North Carolina hospitals, public health departments, doctors and other health agencies. Additional quantities will be printed as needed.

While pointing out that "it is impossible to know when or where an epidemic may occur or how extensive it may be, the folder says that judging by experience elsewhere, health authorities believe many communities will have epidemics this fall or winter."

A new authoritative folder on Asian flu, published by the Public Health Service of the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, is being distributed as a community health service by the Hospital Care Association of Durham.

H. C. Cranford, Jr., public relations director of the Blue Cross Plan, said his organization has been authorized by the federal health agency to reprint the folder and distribute it in North Carolina.

Center Hill Club
Doing Good Job

Chowan County Fair Week of October 7-12 means a lot of planning, hard work and pleasure for the ladies of Center Hill Home Demonstration Club.

Each year this group of ladies work long and hard hours dishing out hot dogs, hamburgers, fried chicken plates, delicious home made cakes, pies, and tarts with plenty of hot coffee and soft drinks.

Every one pitches in to help and there are usually four ladies on duty each day. Much credit is due the buying and planning committee as well as those who volunteer to work during the week and those who bake the delicious cakes, pies and tarts. There is a wonderful feeling of unity in working together as well as the satisfaction of seeing friends and selling them goods.

Center Hill Home Demonstration Club has paid rent on the local community building and equipped it with furnishings enough to comfortably serve approximately 75 people from proceeds of the concession stand at the Fair. They also sponsor Boy Scout Troop 154 as well as being ready and willing to cooperate with the churches and civic organizations in preparing and serving dinners whenever needed.

Mrs. H. T. Hollowell is president of the club and Mrs. Lillian Bunch, secretary.
