by altar vases of white snapdragons and white chrysanthemums.

Miss Elizabeth Wiese of Lenoir Woman's College, roommate of the bride, rendered a program of organ music prior to the ceremony. Selections included "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte; "O Hail This Brightest Day of Days"—chorale and prelude by Bach; "O Perfect Love" by Barnby; "Arioso" by Handel; "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach. The Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" by Wagner was used as the processional and the recessional was the "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Richard Eric Cofield, Jr., of Oak Ridge, Tenn., wore a ballerina length dress of candlelight satin, styled with scalloped marquisette yoke and short sleeves with long mitts of Chantilly lace that ended in points over the hands. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to a half-net of candlelight satin trimmed with pearls and she carried a nosegay of white gardenias.

Miss Lucy Bright Cofield of Burlington was her sister's maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a ballerina length dress of lavender net over taffeta and carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Mr. Gardner had as his best man C. David Jenkins of Chapel Hill and ushers were Daniel Stix and Lennard Pepper, both of Chapel Hill.
