Brotherhood Week Observed Feb. 16-23
The President of the United States has again designated the week of Washington's birthday, that is, February 16 to 23, as Brotherhood Week.

This is the twenty-fifth annual observance of Brotherhood Week sponsored by The National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Again, as during the past quarter of a century, Americans of all walks of life, in schools, churches and synagogues, civic and service organizations, will rededicate themselves to the old ideals of brotherhood, fair play and justice which have been the proud tradition, the beauty and the strength of our country.

The twenty-fifth observance of Brotherhood Week takes place under ominous circumstances. The challenge to our religious and humanitarian ideals by a relentless and powerful foe is felt by all good Americans—which means by all of us in the town of Edenton.

In proclaiming February 16-23 as Brotherhood Week Mayor Ernest Kehayes says he urges his fellow citizens to meet the challenge of Soviet sputniks and missiles by an untiring and courageous effort to build, here in our own community, the spiritual American unity in brotherhood as the foundation of our material strength.

Chowan County Commissioners appropriated $450 toward wiping out the debt for erection of the new Edenton armory.

Chowan and Perquimans County Commissioners arranged to jointly employ J. B. Small as Negro County Agent to serve both counties.

Stewart Stephenson, former Edentonian, was elected president of the Southeastern Class B Baseball League.

A distinguished jury of three art experts chose 47 paintings to be exhibited from the 440 that were submitted.

In addition to selecting the pictures for the exhibition, the three-man jury named ten outstanding paintings to be known as award pictures, as recommendations for possible purchase prizes. A local committee will later make choices for purchase from this group to become part of the museum's collection of contemporary Virginia and North Carolina paintings.

Linda M. Downum, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Downum, now living in Philadelphia, is represented in the exhibition by her oil painting, "Still Life With Red Door," which is also one of the ten award pictures. This is the second Irene Leache Memorial Exhibit in which Miss Downum has achieved this honor.
