Highway Officials Hint At 4-Lane 17

Continued From Page 1, Section 1 discuss problems, Mayor Ernest Kehayes was the first to make a request. Mr. Kehayes pointed out that completion of the bridge-tunnel across Chesapeake Bay, is expected to greatly increase traffic which, coupled with the fact that a large seaplane base is to be established at Harvey Point and the historical significance of the Al-amarle area, makes it necessary or U. S. 17 to be made a four-lane highway. Mayor V. N. Darlen of Hertford and Mayor Levir Culpepper of Elizabeth City joined Kehayes in urging a four-lane highway through North Carolina on U. S. 17.

Mr. Babcock, who has made a tour over U. S. 17 north of Edenton, assured the group that serious consideration will be given this project, but, of course, could not state definitely when action will be taken. To do the job now, he said, would use up all the money the Highway Commission has. He also stated that if and when four lanes are constructed it will be for the most part along its present alignment, but that some towns of necessity will be by-passed.

Another local project called for a road which will reduce the mileage from Edenton to Harvey Point. It was pointed out that when the Seamount base is in full operation, Hertford will not be able to cope with the housing situation, so that families will be seeking living quarters in Edenton and Elizabeth City. Mr. Babcock was rather optimistic about this road improvement, saying that the Highway Commission is very cooperative in providing adequate roads to military installations.

Various problems were presented from other representatives, the most important one being a request for a road from Aurora to Washington in Beaufort County. A number of other requests were made and in only one instance was criticism aimed at the Highway Commission in its new road program. The criticism was made by Merrill Evans of Ahoskie who complained about six-tenths of a mile in Hertford County. Mr. Babcock pointed out that funds for some roads are available from the 1957 allocations and that due to a lapse of time from the termination of the old highway commission until the new commission's program began functioning, much of the work was not done.

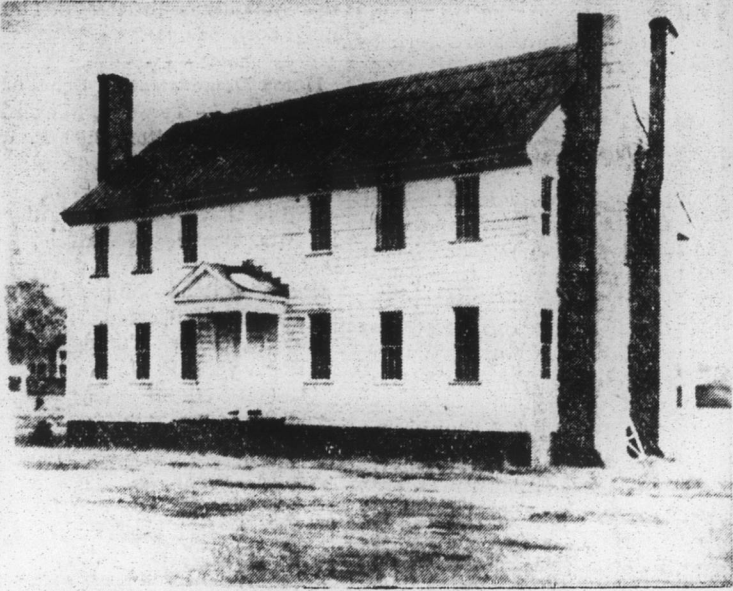

Other requests made were given encouragement and it was stated that very shortly the amount of highway funds allocated to the various counties will be made known, at which time it will be largely at the discretion of County Commissioners if the money should be used on new roads or improvements.

The highway folks stated that it was the purpose to improve roads in each county where the need is greatest and that their visit here was to hear requests and complaints and that they were very appreciative of the cooperation on the part of county and municipal governments.

Attending the meeting from the State Highway Commission were J. M. Broughton, chairman; W. F. Babcock, director; Harold Makepeace, secondary roads officer; William Ingram, assistant secondary roads officer; Sam Beard, public relations officer; E. A. Crump, assistant chief engineer; W. N. Spruill, division engineer; Fletcher H. Gregory, highway commissioner; E. L. White, highway commissioner, and George K. Mack, district engineer.

Others at the meeting included T. J. Stallings and C. H. Carter of Hobbsville; Tazewell Eure, register of deeds of Gates' Coun-

Bank Adopts New Speeding Device

R. Graham White, cashier and trust officer of the Peoples Bank & Trust Company, has announced that the Edenton bank has installed an internal proof machine operation which is designed to speed service for the bank's customers at the teller windows and to improve the efficiency of the internal operation of the bank. Mr. White said the proof operation is being installed by Burroughs Adding Machine Company and that the improvement should be noticed immediately by the customers who will have their checks cashed and deposits made with greater speed and efficiency. "It is expected," Mr. White said, "that this innovation will be of particular advantage on peak days and rush hours during the day. We think this improvement will be received well by the people of the Albemarle area."
