

Emmett Winslow Optimistic About Future Progress

J. Emmett Winslow of Hertford was the speaker at last week's Rotary meeting, when he stated that he was now very optimistic about the economic situation in Eastern North Carolina.

Mr. Winslow based a goodly portion of his optimism on the proposed tunnel and bridge across Chesapeake Bay and the development of Harvey Point as a Navy installation. He said the next 10 years should be one of the best in history.

Mr. Winslow said he cannot see why this section cannot compete with any other section of the state, especially in regard to processing foodstuff. The tunnel and bridge will provide faster delivery to markets, he said, and will also attract many citizens to this section to make their homes. Mr. Winslow said he feels certain bridges will cross Alligator River and Oregon Inlet, thus causing travel to increase and predicted that U. S. 17 highway will be made a four-lane highway.

Jerry Holmes and Sid White, Edenton seniors, were guests of the Rotarians.
