43 Persons On Garden Tour

A tour of four new homes and the garden of Mrs. John G. Wood last Wednesday highlighted the activities held by Chowan Club women in observance of National Home Demonstration Week, Forty-three persons made the tour.

House arrangements planned for convenience and efficiency, modern interior and exterior design, and new ideas in decorating were especially noted in those homes visited. Each of the homes is exceptionally well planned and very beautiful. Special features of each house were pointed out to the group as they made the tour.

The four homes visited were: Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jordan of Ryland, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gilley, Rt. 1, Edenton; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Spruill, Route 1, Edenton, and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Harrell of Edenton.

The group thoroughly enjoyed their visit to the gardens of Mrs. Wood at Hayes farm, Edenton. They were particularly interested in the lay-out of the garden, as well as the variety of luxurious plants and shrubbery. In spite of the rainy weather, flowering plants added color and charm to the scenic landscape.

The tour was concluded with a tea at the Joseph Hewes Hotel. Delightful refreshments were served by Byrd Club, hostess.

J. A. ROWLAND harvests 3,121 lbs. of peanuts per acre using HEPTACHLOR!

... one application kills rootworms and thrips!

> Littleton, N.C. Jan. 14, 1958

I used 10% Heptachlor dust on my peanuts in May last spring, applied at the rate of 18 to 20 pounds per acre. Heptachlor was applied before first cultivation,

On 13.9 acres (A.S.C. Measure) I harvested 461 bags of peanuts that weighed 43,392 pounds (Buyer's weights) which is an average yield per acre of 3121 lbs.

I am well pleased with the results of heptachlor for the control of thrips and rootworms in peanuts. I plan to use it again next year. Signed

Il Rawland

SOUTHERN CORN ROOTWORM DAMAGE: Feed on roots, pegs, peanuts. Stunt plant growth, reduce yields and quality.

DAMAGE: Feed on young bud leaves. Suck plant sap. Crumpled, spotted leaves result. Stunt early growth.

CONTROL: 5% or 10% Heptachlor dusts or granules, N.C. State College recommends 1½ lbs. technical Heptachlor per acre (15 lbs. of 10% dust). Consult your state college, county agent, or dealer for exact recommendations in your area!

MAKE UP TO $47.00 MORE PROFIT PER ACRES Heptachlor, applied and worked into the soil just ahead of the first cultivation, controls thrips and rootworms all season! It costs only $3.00 to $4.00 per acre, and saves you $20.00 to $50.00 per acre by preventing insect damage.
