

Refresher Courses By VA Helping Mentally Ill Vets

Refresher courses in business skills, taught by volunteer teachers, are helping bring mentally ill veterans on the road back to normal living.

Such courses are conducted by volunteers from the community for patients at most Veterans Administration mental hospitals, under supervision of staff therapists, the agency says.

VA cited its hospital at Roanoke, Va., as an example of the program. There, patients are re-learning typing, shorthand, mathematics, accounting, and statistics.

Dr. Joseph B. Bounds, manager of the hospital, and several of the patients in the courses formerly worked as secretaries, typists, or clerks.

After a few weeks in the classes, they begin to regain part of their lost skills, Dr. Bounds said, and more important, comprehend that they can re-learn and hope to resume useful work when they leave the hospital.

As patients gain confidence in the courses, many perform tasks in offices of the hospital, for the therapeutic value of the work, he said.

Dr. Bounds said although the courses have been organized at the Roanoke hospital only six months, one of the patients, a former legal secretary, has returned to her old job in her home state at a salary of $70 per week.

Membership is holding its own at the Edenton Post but our State Commander urges each member of each Post throughout North Carolina to bring in a new member before the State Convention in June. How about it fellows...

Season tickets for all the Edenton Colonials' home games are still being sold by the VFW members. If you haven't got yours, plan to get it while you can save some money. We also operate the concession at the park.

Anyone see the Edenton bit in the VFW Leader? Archie really did a fine job for 9280. I'm sure you will agree.

"VFW Man of the Week" this week has been selected and the member chosen is Mack Rogerson. Mack is extremely active in Post-sponsored activities and is deserving of recognition. Congratulations Mr. "VFW Man of the Week", Mack Rogerson.

Sunday School Lesson

LEADERSHIP REQUIRES CHARACTER

International Sunday School Lesson for June 1, 1956.

Memory Selection: "Be strong and of good courage; be not frightened, neither be dismayed; for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go." —Joshua 1:9.

Lesson Text: Numbers 27:12-23; Deuteronomy 34:9-12; Joshua 1.

Our lesson for today concerns Moses and Joshua, their characters and their qualities of leadership, and is intended to inspire us to develop the character traits that all good leaders should possess.

Taking up our Bibles and studying the lesson text, we find an accounting of the Lord commanding Moses to "lay his hand upon Joshua, the son of Nun," and the succession of Joshua to the leadership of the Israelites upon the death of Moses. We also read of the conditions of leadership imposed by God upon Joshua, in which is defined, very clearly, the sort of man God considered suitable to be a leader, and one who would be admirably suited to carry out God's wishes for the children of Israel. As in so many instances cited in the Bible, we can apply the principle broadly to ourselves and to the world in which we live today, and to the situations which confront us in that world.

Let us analyze the characteristics of a good leader. Let us take one of the greatest leaders in Biblical history, specifically, and see what made him "tick". Let us, in other words, take Moses.

Firstly, Moses was a scholar. He was wise in the ways of practical living. This was experience, a great necessity in leadership. But Moses' leadership rested on much more than this, although we ought not to forget that God, in Moses' case, used a prepared mind, just as he can use a prepared mind today.

Secondly, Moses was a man of faith. He knew God personally, and out of this fellowship he was commissioned with leading the children of Israel to the Promised Land. But, primarily, he was a man of character. One of the most basic assets of Moses' leadership was his thoughtfulness for others. We see this in his concern for a fellow Hebrew who was being abused, and we see it again when he protected the seven daughters of Jethro at the watering place, and in his prayer for food, water, and divine protection for his people. This concern for others continued right up to the last day of his life, when he prayed God to give his people a leader in his place. Still another of his characteristics was

GO TO SOME CHURCH EACH SUNDAY

PULL HARD!

All's fair in a tug of war! At least, that's what the children think. And, as I watch them playing, I realize how relatively simple life is when you're a child. Then, a tug of war is something purely physical. Later, it is more apt to be mental—a matter of personal decision.

Some of the most important moments of our life present us with mental tugs of war. Then, we need a lot more than a rope to hang onto. We need courage and faith, a high sense of moral values, and the ability to distinguish between right and wrong.

These are the kind of things the Church teaches. That is why my children attend church regularly. One day, I know, they will be facing another kind of a tug of war. Their church training will help them make the proper choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
