

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS

Washington — The last few days of a Congressional session are always hectic.

Early And Late Last week the Senate was an example of the arduous sessions in which urgent legislative matters vie for consideration.

As the number of legislative matters increase with the complexity of our times there seems to be no practical way to complete action and adjourn in a reasonable time.

First Step At times I feel that the first step toward a more effective procedure for Congress would be to adopt the policy that my fellow-townsmen, Lum Garrison of Morganton, advised me to follow when I first went to the North Carolina General Assembly.

"NO COMMENT" is a report of incidents on the national scene, and does not necessarily reflect NAM policy or position.

Washington. — "Completely irresponsible labor leadership has been the net result of the absence of adequate legislation to regulate the concentration of union power that has developed in the United States.

This is the conclusion reached by the staff of the Senate Republican Policy Committee in a study of "The Labor Bosses—America's Third Party."

If an "apathetic citizenry" ignores the realities of the existing situation, the report asserted, the United States will be faced with the grim prospect of a virtual one-party political system controlled by the labor bosses.

The trend toward greater dependence upon the Federal government for action in virtually all areas of public and private affairs results in the congestion that Congress faces.

The committees to which I am assigned are the Armed Services, Judiciary, Government Operation and the so-called Senate Rackets Committee.

"The ultimate goal of the labor bosses," it added, "is not merely to take over the Democratic Party, but to eliminate it—along with the Republican Party—as a decisive force in American politics.

"That the labor bosses do not hesitate to consolidate their power in a high-handed fashion completely alien to accepted American standards is no mere partisan speculation; it has been revealed by their own spokesmen before a duly authorized Senatorial investigating committee."

This referred to hearings before the McClellan Investigating Committee on the United Auto Workers' strike against the Kohler Company of Kohler, Wisconsin, and the Perfect Circle Corporation in Hagerstown, Indiana.

These hearings, the report says, "provide, perhaps, the most graphic example of these high-handed tactics of the labor bosses — tactics involving violence, disregard for the law, and wholesale intimidation."

Economy Moves An official forecast of at least a $12 billion deficit during the present fiscal year—coupled with the Administration's request to elevate the d. b. ceiling to $288 billion — has helped to stimulate some signs of economy in Congress.

Unfortunately, however, the signs thus far evident are overwhelmingly counter-balanced by continued heavy spending tendencies in other respects.

The worsening federal fiscal picture contributed — how much is a matter of conjecture — toward these favorable developments:

1. Legislation to provide $2 billion in loans for local public works projects was rejected outright in the House. It refused, 187 to 133, even to consider the measure, known as the Community Facilities Bill.

A long fight has been waged by Senator Byrd (D.-Va.) against this practice. Recently, his colleague, Sen. or Robertson (D.-Va.) also attacked the procedure and claimed that it was unconstitutional.

Wasteful Spending Urging the elimination of wasteful Government spending, Rep. Mason (R.-Ill.) suggests that something should be done about "an extravagant and amazing public printing program that produces such publications as:

"Marine Annelids from the Marshall Islands." "Absolute Viscosity of Water at 20 Degrees." "The Problem of the Cochrane in the Late Pleistocene Chronology."
