

Edenton Methodists Plan To Observe 50th Anniversary Of Church Sunday, October 12th

Bishop Paul N. Garber Scheduled to Preach Sesquicentennial Sermon

The Edenton Methodist Church will observe its one hundred fiftieth anniversary on Sunday, October 12. Bishop Paul N. Garber will preach the anniversary sermon in the morning worship service.

The Edenton Methodists are observing their sesquicentennial with a homecoming emphasis. It is hoped that several former pastors will be present. One of the most beloved of the former pastors of the Edenton Methodist Church is Dr. H. I. Glass, now living at Lake Junaluska. He has already indicated his intention of being present. Mrs. Glass will be with him.

A dinner will be served by the church for all in attendance at this noteworthy occasion. Members of the planning committee for the dinner are Mrs. Lloyd Burton, Sr., chairman, Mrs. T. B. Williford, Mrs. A. F. Downum and Mrs. Jesse Harrell.

Members of the Program Committee for the sesquicentennial are Mrs. W. J. P. Earnhardt, chairman, Mrs. Mary Leggett Browning, Mrs. David Holton, Mrs. J. W. Davis, Mrs. Herbert Hollowell, and Mrs. A. F. Downum. These persons are arranging an interesting souvenir program booklet which will contain the order of morning worship for the day, a brief history of the church, and a list of the nearly seventy pastors who have served the Edenton Methodist Church over the past one hundred fifty years.

Of this program committee, two members, Mrs. Mary Leggett Browning and Mrs. J. W. Davis, are doing a fine job of getting out the salient points of the history of Edenton Methodism for publication in the program booklet.

Almost the first hundred years of history has been preserved fully and graphically in an old tavern account book now in the possession of Mrs. Browning. Both the tavern accounts and the history of the church are still intact.

Episcopal Picnic Scheduled Sunday

Saint Paul's Episcopal congregation will gather Sunday afternoon on the Parish House grounds for a picnic beginning at 4:30 o'clock. Stunts and games will be provided for the children and some special events are planned.

The picnic marks the beginning of the Debt Drive under the chairmanship of John W. Graham. It will also be held on the location of much-needed additions to the Parish House.

J. H. Conger, Jr., advises that all bring supper to be distributed "ole-fashioned style" and that he will have beverages on hand. The Young Churchmen will be available to assist and a large gathering is expected.

Edenton's Aces Lose Second Game Of Season To Strong Wallace-Rose Hill Eleven 19-0

Although playing an improved brand of football than the previous week against Roanoke Rapids, Edenton's Aces fell victim to a strong and well rounded Wallace-Rose Hill football machine Friday night in Wallace by a score of 19-0. The Bulldogs outplay the Aces in every department of the game save possibly the exception of passing and the score was a pretty good indication of the relative strength of the two aggregations.

Wallace-Rose Hill scored their first touchdown the first time they got possession of the ball and near the end of the third quarter Sonny Shelton gathered in an Edenton punt, pranced around a little while until his interference gathered and ran 60 yard down the sidelines untouched for the touchdown. The third counter was scored in the waning seconds of the game. Lloyd Lassiter dropped back to

Prospect Brighter For Resumption Of Fiberglass Plant

About Half of $25,000 Minimum Goal Is Reported In Sight Tuesday Night

At a meeting of stockholders of Edenton Industries, Inc., held Tuesday night in the Court House, enthusiastic reports were made adding confidence to the belief that enough money would be subscribed to resume operation of the local fiberglass industry. The plant has been closed for a number of weeks now and it is hoped that in about another week enough capital will be available to again start making fiberglass swimming pools.

Gilliam Wood presided over Tuesday night's meeting and stated that no more time should be lost if the plant is to be reopened. He, like a number of other stockholders, is very optimistic as to the future of the fiberglass industry and it is the general opinion that if enough capital is forthcoming, a bright future is ahead for the local industry.

It was announced that a minimum goal of $25,000 has been set, and it was reported that a small group of stockholders had subscribed $12,000 and that $1,250 was also subscribed by a resident of Gatesville.

With about half of the $25,000 in sight, it was decided to contact other stockholders to increase their subscription and a committee will make an all-out effort to secure new stockholders, so it is

Edenton Marines Are First To Qualify In New 'Buddy System'

"Buddies one and all" might be an appropriate motto for Marine Aircraft Group 14 based at the Edenton Naval Auxiliary Air Station, MAG-14, Commanded by Colonel Joseph R. Little, Jr., became the first Marine Aircraft Group to qualify an entire squadron in the "Buddy System" refueling utilizing the A4D-2 Skyhawk jet bombers.

The first squadron to report full qualification in this technique was VMA-225 commanded by Lt. Col. A. R. Boag. VMA-225 is assigned as a part of Marine Aircraft Group-14; 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing.

According to a group spokesman the buddy system refueling technique might work this way: A flight of Douglas A4D-2 Skyhawk jet bombers are assigned a bombing mission. Due to necessity the distance to the target is of a greater range than is the normal jet full capabilities of this bomber. By utilizing their own A4D-2 Skyhawks for tankers, the bomber and the tanker can takeoff together. At a certain range, the bomber refuels from the tanker, the tanker returns to base and the bomber continues on its assigned mission.

The "Buddy System" got its name from the fact that two or more of the same type aircraft are used for air to air refueling. This is accomplished by fitting a special fuel tank to the under-cargo of an aircraft to be used as the tanker. The bomber is equipped with a special probe device protruding from the nose. The bomber in order to refuel, must maneuver this special probe device into a fuel line with a funnel-like-end trailing from the tanker aircraft. Airborne refueling of this type may take place several thousand feet in the wild blue yonder at very high speeds. This reduces costly loss of time and helps expedite the accomplishment of the mission.

The Skyhawk may be small, but with this type refuel capabilities it can deliver a mighty punch for the Marine Corps almost any place, any time.

Fashion Show Big Feature At Meeting Of Woman's Club

Mrs. Julian Porter, District President, Guest of Club

An informal showing of fall fashions and a brief talk by the 16th District president were features of the September meeting of the Woman's Club held here in the Parish House.

The fashion show, in which members of the club participated as models, was presented by The Betty Shoppe under the management of Mrs. Graham Robbins, and proved a delightful feature for the club. Fifteen of the latest in fall fashions were modeled including a number of fall hats. Mrs. R. H. Vaughan was commentator for the showing of fall clothes. At the conclusion of the affair, a drawing was conducted with Mrs. Helen Kramer winning a lovely Beltone hat.

Mrs. Julian Porter of Severn, 16th District president, spoke briefly to the club. She used the story of a destitute immigrant girl who came to America and grew to wealth and position but maintained a feeling of humbleness and consideration for her fellowman. "This theme should be the motive for our club membership," Mrs. Porter said, "through your club be a service to your community and its citizens," declaring "this will afford you a sense of satisfaction of having served mankind through your club."

Mrs. Porter is scheduled to preside over the first 16th District meeting to be held here in October. Mrs. W. J. P. Earnhardt, former district president, reported to the club plans are progressing nicely for the affair and all members are urged to attend. The district meeting will begin with a coffee hour, a business session will be held at the Court House and a luncheon will be held at the Masonic Temple.

Reports were heard from various committees during the business session. These included reports of planned planting of trees here on Arbor Day, help for Greece through UNICEF and the addition of a booth to the Halloween Party.

Mrs. J. M. Thorud informed the club of a campaign to raise $9,000 with which to beautify the nine-acre grounds for Samarcand Manor, a home for delinquent girls. This is a special project and the Federation of Woman's Clubs in North Carolina is seeking 100 per cent contributions from each club's membership. The Edenton Club voted to endorse and support this project.

Guests at the meeting included Mrs. Tay Byrum and Mrs. Harold Shore.

Hostesses were Mesdames C. A. Phillips, T. C. Byrum, Jr., W. D. Billings, James H. Griffin, Bruce Jones, Ed Bond and Miss Kathryn Brown.

Edenton's Aces will play their first Albemarle Conference game of the season Friday night on Hicks Field when they meet the Williamston Green Wave.

The Aces have been defeated in their first two games with non-conference foes, Roanoke Rapids, a Class AA team, and Wallace-Rose Hill, an AA-C outfit.

Coaches Bill Billings and Johnny Morris are well pleased with the improvement of the boys since the first game and feel confident the Aces will make a better showing against a team more in their class. The coaches have been working on errors the boys made in the two previous games, so that an improved ball club should trot out on Hicks Field Friday night.

Neither the coaches nor the boys, however, discount the strength of the Williamston outfit. In their first two outings they have chalked up impressive victories, first over Robersonville 19-0 and last week running rough shod over Tarboro 28-6.
