Married In Burlington

MRS. DEWEY ADMIRAL HODGIN, JR.

The wedding of Miss Lucy Bright Cofield and Dewey Admiral Hodgin, Jr., was solemnized in an informal ceremony in the chapel of the First Baptist Church at Burlington Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

The bride, who has made her home at Burlington for several years, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Erie Cofield, Sr., of Edenton, and Mr. Hodgin is the son of Mrs. Dewey Admiral Hodgin, Sr., and the late Mr. Hodgin of Burlington.

Dr. Carlton S. Prickett, pastor of the bride, heard the vows of the double ring service, and a program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Kathleen Merrill, organist, and two soloists, Bob Waddell and Mrs. Stephen Millikin, both of Greensboro.

The altar was decorated with a fan-shaped arrangement of white chrysanthemums and white candles in white wrought iron candelabra were used with Arca palms to complete the setting. Seats for family members were marked with white bows accented with sprays of ivy.

Entering the chapel with the bridegroom, the bride wore the gown worn by both of her sisters, Mrs. Ralph Norwood of Burlington and Mrs. Sheldon Gardner of Los Angeles, Calif., in their weddings. It is of candlelight bridal satin, designed with short sleeves and yoke of illusion, and the waltz length skirt is gathered to a fitted bodice. Her tiered veil of illusion fell from a pearl encrusted half-hat of satin, and gauntlets of Chantilly lace ended in points over the hands to complete her costume. On the white Bible presented to her by the Young Women's Auxiliary of her church, she carried a natural orchid with streamers tied with pearl-studded bridal leaves.

NOTICE

This is to advise my friends and customers that the Small Triangle will be closed from October 15 to November 3. We will re-open upon my return from the hospital.

Mrs. Bertie Warner

Burlington High School and attended Illinois Institute of Technology and the Art Institute at Chicago. He is now in program production at Television Station WFMY, Greensboro.

Ushers were Steve Cole and James Bowen of Burlington and the wedding director was Miss Frances Seymour of Alamance.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cofield wore a two-piece dress of maroon faille with pink hat, black accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Hodgin chose an ensemble of blue wool with matching hat and black accessories and her corsage was of pale blue carnations.

After a wedding trip to Nassau and Miami, the newlyweds will be at home at Burlington. For travel the bride changed to a suit of green tweed with accents of mink at the shoulder and at the pocket. She wore a black feather hat with black shoes and accessories, and at her shoulder was the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Hodgin, a graduate of Edenton High School, attended Burlington Business College and is employed in the payroll department at the Kayser-Roth Corporation. She is a member of the Beta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, and is president of the city's Beta Sigma Phi council.

Mr. Hodgin was graduated from price of stewing or baking hens. The price was listed at 37 cents per pound when it should have been 25 cents. The store sold the hens at 25 cents despite the advertised price of 37 cents.
