

Farmers Planning To Plant Forest Tree Seedlings On Idle Land Urged To Order At Once

Farmers and others planning to plant forest tree seedlings on idle acreages during the 1958-59 planting season are urged to place their orders as quickly as possible in order to assure delivery to them of the young trees.

Blanks for ordering seedling trees may be obtained from the County Agent, the County Forest Ranger, the local SCS and ASC offices, or by writing direct to the District Forester, Box 516, Elizabeth City, N. C.

Landowners are urged by E. W. Looney, District Forester of the Elizabeth City District, to take advantage of the Federal Soil Bank and ACP programs whereby the planters are paid for planting trees in land idled by crop curtailments or for other reasons.

Looney said seedling shipments will begin around the middle of November from the following state-owned nurseries: Little River Nursery, Goldsboro; the Holmes Nursery, Hendersonville; the Clayton Nursery, Clayton; and the Ralph Edwards Nursery, Morganton.

The supply of slash and red cedar seedlings being grown for 1958-59 planting is already exhausted, Looney said. At the present time, he added, there are plenty of yellow poplar, loblolly, shortleaf, pond and Virginia pine seedlings available.

Some 95 million seedlings are being grown this year by the four state-owned nurseries, Looney said, and they will be disposed of on a first-come, first-served basis as long as they last.

CHOWAN HD CLUB MEETS
The Chowan Home Demonstration Club met Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Chowan Community Building with eight members present and Miss Mairied Morris, home agent.

Miss Morris gave some tips on sewing that will be helpful to all and gadgets to be used in sewing. She also showed a cute little sewing box which everybody wondered just what it was. It was opened by unfolding. She also read a very good article on "Be What You Are."

The group sang "The Song of Peace" and the devotional was led by Mrs. R. H. Hollowell.

The club decided to see different painters by next meeting to see who would paint the club house for the most reasonable price. The president thanked the club members who solicited on the Farm Bureau drive. The husbands' supper was announced for November 19 at Wards and members were urged to buy tickets. The members also discussed "What Makes a Successful Club Meeting." The meeting adjourned with Mrs. C. J. Hollowell, hostess, serving delicious refreshments of soft drinks, little sandwiches, nuts, cookies, etc.

Aces Meet Plymouth In Crucial Game

ble of adding yardage if given half a chance. Guard Golden Simpson is also an outstanding offensive and defensive player.

The Aces played one of their best games against Ahsokie Friday night and Coaches Billings and Morris are hoping the squad will put up an equally good fight Friday night. There were no injuries in the game, but Jimmy White a rapidly improving defensive guard, is hospitalized due to an appendectomy operation on Monday night. His brother, Robert White, was confined to his home Tuesday due to a severe cold, but is expected to be in shape for the game. All other boys appear to be in the pink of condition and ready for the important game.

At Friday's game homecoming will be observed with the festivities sponsored by the Edenton Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America. The game will begin at 8 o'clock and will be preceded by a parade including Edenton and Plymouth bands and convertible automobiles displaying six lovely candidates from grades seven through twelve for Homecoming Queen. The Queen will be crowned during half time.

The game is expected to attract a capacity crowd so that tickets for the game, student and adult, will be on sale until game time Friday at Mitchener's Pharmacy and Leggett & Davis Drug Store, to eliminate the necessity of standing in line at the gate.

"What is man that Thou art mindful of him?" Perhaps it seems to David that man has fallen so low that it is a wonder God would even be mindful of man, especially when compared to the glory of creation. David expresses our need for divine guidance when he writes "Man is like vanity" (Psalm 144:4), and again, "verily every man at his best state is altogether vanity" (Psalm 39:5). This is really quite a depressing thought to consider, that no matter how hard we try, no matter what great success we achieve, our very best is considered vanity by God. Perhaps it seems that all is lost. What is the use of trying?

But David reexamines the situation. Perhaps he remembers that man is made in the image of God. Perhaps this is his reason for saying in the next verse (Psalm 8:5) that man is only a little lower than the angels. But then, this is only possible because of the grace of God. After all, it would be almost impossible for God to fail to notice man since He made man in His own image. Also, David realizes that he has received many blessings from God, that God is mindful of man, and He has given to man glory, honor, and dominion over the earth.

David ends his Psalm with a note of praise for God's excellence and in a tone of reassured hope, that we only really exist when we exist in and for God.

Weekly Devotional Column

By JAMES MacKENZIE

Today's column begins an original sermon by John Mitchener, 17-year-old student at the Edenton Junior-Senior High School, and a member of the Edenton Presbyterian Church.

Have you ever noticed how much curiosity the people of today have? This is the age when man's curiosity is constantly being aroused by the new cars, Sputniks, rockets and satellites. Although curiosity is a good thing to have, it seems we forget to become curious about the things that really count. Sometimes it seems that man's curiosity becomes side-tracked by the mysteries of this world, and he loses that real curiosity to know himself and his God in an intimate way.

Let us consider some questions and answers from which we have been side-tracked by the world. Man has always wanted to know the "inside story" of everything that happens. I wonder how many of us have truly desired to know the real story of man himself. The story of what man is, especially in his relationship to God.

David was one such man who desired earnestly to know what man actually is. He asked "What is man that Thou art mindful of him?" (Psalm 8:4). David here has brought before us this question in its proper perspective.

The question deals with man and God, and their relationship to each other. When David begins this Psalm he begins by praising God for His excellence and goodness. Next he points out the wonders and majestic glory of God's creation. It seems the very thought of God holds David in a feeling of great awe, wonder, and humility.

Plans are continuing to be made for the Mother and Daughter banquet which the FHA is going to sponsor. Another committee was selected at the FHA meeting Friday, October 24. The committee selected is the Invitation Committee with 4 girls on it. The date of the banquet will be decided when the advisor, Mrs. Rogerson, Estelle Taylor and Betty Bunch meet.

A special ceremony was given for the new members. The program was one which told the purposes of having an FHA. In the program the purposes were given by several of the chapter members. Karen Raines gave the creed and told the significance of the emblem. After that part of the program the new members were called forward to have FHA emblems pinned on them. They were then welcomed into the chapter by Beckie Harrell.

As usual, the FHA had an exhibit at the County Fair. The theme was "Do You Eat Some of These Each Day?" This booth won second prize when judged. The FHA wishes to express their appreciation to the Edenton Furniture Company and Byrum Hardware for the loan of some of the materials in the fair exhibit.

EDENTON GROUP ATTENDS DISTRICT ONE FHA RALLY

"Teens With a Purpose" was the theme of the District I Rally of the Future Homemakers of America held Saturday, October 11, at West Edgemore High School near Rocky Mount. The special guest speaker was the Rev. John S. Spong, pastor of Calvary Episcopal Church in Tarboro. He gave a very inspiring address on "The Importance of Womanhood." There were approximately 850 girls at the meeting.

Members of the Edenton Chapter who attended included Carolista Fletcher, Anna Williams, Mary Ann Hare, Imogene Kennan, Joyce Moore, Carol Phipps, Miss Ann Lassiter, chapter advisor and two guests, Miss Anne Mayo and Mrs. Robert Kennan.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Christian Church with the pastor, the Rev. E. C. Alexander, officiating. Burial was in Beaver Hill Cemetery.
