the local papers, Jackie Asbell; prompter, Jeanette Perry; student director, Estelle Taylor; and technical director, Clark Peale.

The story begins in the Maxwell house. Mr. Maxwell has just been elected as the new head of the citizen's committee. It seems that Betty Lou and Bernadine had been wanting to write a letter to Vester Blayne, who edits the love-lorn column. So they choose this day. They make up a letter filled with heartaches and wait for it to appear in the paper. Does it appear in the paper? No! Miss Blayne comes to see Mama Maxwell. There is plenty of excitement when the Marshall arrives, also.

A small admission will be charged and it is hoped many will attend and enjoy the play.

Medicine, Minutes and Money

"Couldn't the doctor have prescribed something cheaper?" patients sometimes ask. Perhaps. But often the high-priced, high-potency products cut the cost of illness by assuring rapid recovery. Our prices are based on an accurate record of costs. We are always glad to explain our charge for compounding a prescription.

A Letter To Our NON-CATHOLIC Neighbors

Catholics and non-Catholics, as a rule, get along right well together.

Our families live amicably next door to each other and often become lifetime friends. Our sons fight side by side on every battlefield. We work together in the same shops and factories...root for the same baseball teams...do business with one another in a spirit of mutual trust every day.

In these and other phases of everyday life, there is a close association which promotes understanding and respect. But in religion...where this close association does not exist...there is often a regrettable lack of understanding and a corresponding absence of good-will.

Many people, for instance, have all sorts of false ideas about Catholics and the Catholic Church. They actually believe that Catholics worship statues...that many sordid things happen behind convent walls...that Catholics do not believe in the Bible...that Catholic teaching is pure superstition and the Mass nothing but mumbo-jumbo.

All non-Catholics, of course, do not believe such things. But enough of these false rumors are in circulation to cause some sincere and intelligent non-Catholics to look upon the Catholic Church with suspicion, and to reject Catholic truth without even troubling to investigate it.

It is for this reason that the Knights of Columbus, a society of Catholic laymen, publishes advertisements like this explaining what Catholics really believe. We want our non-Catholic friends and neighbors to understand us and our Faith, even if they do not wish to join us. We want them to know the Catholic Church as it really is...

This column is presented to you by your Catholic neighbors. We invite you to share with us the happiness we enjoy through the True Faith. Those in doubt who are seeking religious certainty about Christ's Teachings in preparation for death are encouraged to attend an informal discussion at 8:00 P. M., every Wednesday at St. Ann's Church. To arrange for a private consultation on your spiritual problems call 2617.

not as it is so often misrepresented to be.

It is also important to you personally, however, to inquire into the teaching of the Catholic Church. For unless you do, you cannot know whether the Catholic Church is or is not the Church established by Jesus Christ for your salvation. You cannot intelligently accept or reject Catholic teaching until you investigate it and know what it really is.

A distinguished Catholic author has written "A Letter to a Friend Not of My Faith." This letter has been published in the form of a pamphlet which can be read in a few minutes...and which gives a remarkably clear and beautiful explanation of Catholic beliefs, worship and history. More importantly, it gives a blue print of Christian living which will deeply move you whether you accept or reject the Catholic viewpoint.

This highly interesting pamphlet is well worth the few minutes it will take you to read it. We will be glad to send you a copy free, on request. It will come in a plain wrapper—and nobody will call on you. Write today...ask for Pamphlet No. KC-23.

Book Circulation For Regional Library 10,711 During October

Mrs. Eugenia Babylon, director of the Pettigrew Regional Library reports that book circulation in the various libraries totaled 10,711 during October.

The circulation, broken down, was as follows: White bookmobile, 3,328; colored bookmobile, 2,382; Washington County Library, 1,771; Tyrrell County Library, 1,340; Brown-Carver Library, 1,089; Shepard-Pruden Library, 918; Washington County Negro Branch, 373.

Circulations for the bookmobile for colored by counties was: Chowan, 921; Tyrrell, 876; and Washington, 585. Brown-Carver Library again led all libraries in the number of reference questions answered which was 124 for October.

All libraries reported new registrations, both juvenile and adult. Many people never enter a library and so have no idea of the knowledge and enjoyment they could derive from it and library service is free. Magazines as well as books are checked out.

No matter what a person's taste may be, the library can satisfy it. "Support your library and it will broaden your life," says Mrs. Babylon.

Postmaster Expects Record Mail Business

Postmaster J. L. Chestnutt said early this week that he believes the Christmas mail this year will set an all time record, exceeding the 1957 season.

The postmaster expressed his thanks for the excellent response to his "Mail Early" appeal thus far, but warns, that only by stepping up all mailing of Christmas packages and greeting cards immediately, can this year's record mail load be processed and delivered before Christmas.

He went on to say, "It's later than you think! We all have a tendency to wait until mid-December comes before giving our Christmas mailing plans much attention; whereas, by taking a little extra care with Christmas mailings right now, you'll avoid disappointing friends and loved ones at Christmas time.

"Try to mail your Christmas cards for out of town destinations several days in advance of those for local delivery. Those for nearby points should all be mailed by at least a week before Christmas.

"Mail your gift packages for distant destinations by December 10th and those for nearby points should be mailed by December 15th."
