

$115,000 Is Raised Thus Far In Edenton's Campaign To Land Large Knitting Plant

Report Breakfast Is Scheduled For Friday Morning at the Edenton Restaurant

John W. Graham, general chairman of the local campaign to raise funds for a proposed industrial plant, announced Tuesday that $115,000 had been reached to date with many reports still to come in. Graham said that he was satisfied with progress made, but that a real push must be made by every campaigner to reach the goal of $253,000. As an incentive to spur the campaign on, Graham announced that a cash award of $25 would go to the campaigner in each of the four divisions who sold the highest amount of notes in his respective division. The prize money was made possible through the courtesy of John A. Mitchener, Jr. Several campaigners are running neck and neck in the contest.

A report breakfast for all division colonels, captains and campaigners will be held tomorrow (Friday) at 8:00 A. M., at the Edenton Restaurant. Each division colonel is requested to give Harry Smith, Jr., at the Chamber of Commerce office not later than this (Thursday) afternoon, the number in his division who will attend the breakfast.

Graham emphasized that each campaigner should see all of his prospects before the breakfast meeting as it is planned to advise the prospective manufacturer on how the campaign is progressing. "We are pleased that the total reached so far has come from only 20% of the total number of prospects so that we are justified in believing that the balance will come from the outstanding cards still in the hands."

34 Per Cent Of Students Failed One Or More Subjects During First Semester At Local School

Gerald James, principal of the Edenton Junior-Senior High School, announced Tuesday that 11% of the students made the honor roll for the first semester of the 1958-59 school year and that 34% of the students failed one or more subjects during the first semester. Mr. James is greatly concerned about the large number of failures and points out that the major contributing factor is lack of home work. He says that those on the honor roll are those students who take books home and study at home, while those who fail are for the most part those students who do not study at home. Mr. James says home work is absolutely essential if students expect to make satisfactory progress, for it is necessary to spend some time out of school in preparation for the next day's assignments. "It is the responsibility of parents to help boys and girls to organize out-of-school schedules," he says. "Parents should check with their children relative to home work and if their children do not study at home they should contact the school to learn if no home work has been assigned."

Honor roll students for the first semester are as follows:

12th Grade—Gene Ashley, Elton Bass, Janet Bunch and Gus Hughes.

11th Grade—Harriet Bond, Edwin Byrum, Mary Pearl Harrell.

William E. Bond, Jr., And Wm. H. Gardner, Jr., Named Leaders For Chowan Heart Fund Drive

The 1959 Heart Fund drive in Chowan County will be under the leadership of William E. Bond, Jr., and William H. Gardner, Jr., who were appointed to this post by Dr. Edward G. Bond, chairman of the Chowan County Heart Committee.

Money raised in the annual Heart campaign goes into the North Carolina and American Heart Associations' programs of research, professional services and public education, according to the county chairman. "The American Heart Association spends over half its funds for heart research at medical centers in the nation including those in our state," he commented. "The aim of the North Carolina Heart Association is to increase the amount of money spent on research projects in North Carolina to half of its budgetable funds. At present," he added, "well over $100,000 is supporting heart research in this state."

"We emphasize research," he continued, "because our doctors have told us that much more must be learned about the causes of heart disease before we can make effective gains in the fight against our country's number one killer." Other uses to which Heart Fund dollars are put, it was explained, are to purchase scientific publications and diagnostic aids, such as taped heart sounds, for local physicians, and to supply them with educational literature about the various forms of heart disease, which they can give their patients. The program of public information conducted by the local Heart Committee includes the use of films, school materials, exhibits, etc., which are bought out of money raised in the county. "The entire Heart program, both local, state and national depends on the voluntary giving of the public," said Dr. Bond. "We want our fund drive organization to be truly county-wide, for only in that way will everyone be given the opportunity to give and to work for the Heart cause," he concluded.
