Mrs. J. R. Campbell Speaker For DAR

The Edenton Tea Party of the Daughters of the American Revolution held its regular meeting Wednesday of last week in the Iredell house. After the business meeting a provocative talk centering around National Library Week was given by Mrs. J. Robert Campbell of Plymouth. Mrs. Campbell is chairman of the regional board of the Pettigrew Regional Library; chairman of the Washington County board of trustees and Washington County chairman for National Library Week, which is being celebrated April 12-18.

According to the speaker, many national leaders in various fields such as religion, medicine, business, sociology, political science, guidance and education are concerned over the general restlessness and nervous tension of many Americans as well as their concern over being informed on current affairs and the consequences of present economic conditions.

Mrs. Campbell gave some interesting statistics: 45,000,000 aspirin tablets are consumed daily; 20,000,000 sleeping tablets and 20,000,000 more get-awake pills are taken each day; and 40,000,000 tranquilizers are gulped each day by Americans. She stated that even though we are the wealthiest nation in history, these figures do not sound as though we were the happiest. The speaker went on to say that we should be the best read and best informed country in the world but that we are not due to this restlessness and lack of interest in education. She stated that the British read three times as much as we do.

Mr. Campbell asked pertinent questions of those present at the DAR meeting such as "Do you know where the money comes from that finances your local library program?" "Do you know that there is a strong Negro library in Edenton and do you know where it is?" Do you understand the service that the two bookmobiles give in Chowan, Tyrell and Washington counties?" She requested that those who did not know the answers make it their business to find out.

After a delightful social hour with Mrs. Ralph Parrish and Mrs. John Bond as hostesses, the meeting adjourned.

Leigh Dobson In Play At Greenville

"Kiss Me, Kate," popular operetta by Cole Porter, will be presented at East Carolina College April 21, 22, and 23, as the annual spring musical sponsored by the Student Government Association. Performances at 8 P. M. in the McGinnis auditorium are expected to attract capacity audiences from Greenville and other localities in Eastern North Carolina.

A cast of fourteen students, playing major roles, a 35-piece orchestra, a chorus of men and women, and a corps of dancers will appear in the production. Miss Leigh Dobson of Edenton will play one of the important roles in the play.

'Springtime' Will Be Presented At School April 24th

What happens when an American girl impersonates a European baroness? What happens when the real baroness arrives and the American is revealed as an impostor? It is around these questions that the plot of "Springtime," Edenton Junior-Senior High School's operetta for 1953, revolves.

"Springtime" is a modern adaptation of "Das Fruhlings-madel," a well known German operetta by Franz Steiner. After World War II, one of the American music publishing houses assumed the copyrights of a number of well known German operettas, modernized them in translation, adapted piano scores from the original orchestrations and made them available for American production for the first time. "Springtime" is one of these operettas, and musicians in the audience will find the score definitely reminiscent of Lehar and Strauss in parts.

"Springtime" tells the love story of Phoebe Rand, a caretaker's daughter, and Lee Cooper, nephew of the wealthy owner of an estate on Long Island. It is Lee who persuades Phoebe to join the week-end party there by impersonating the missing baroness, choruses of guests, servants and Lee's college friends provide a tuneful background and "Springtime" should provide an enjoyable evening's entertainment.

The performance will be given in the auditorium of the Junior-Senior High School on the night of Friday, April 24, at 8 o'clock. A small admission will be charged.

The Edenton Police Department will issue welcome stickers to out of town cars the two days of the tour, which will enable them to park without charge anywhere in town. The Police Department is urging local people to please leave vacant parking areas near the hotel and on the Court House Green, to give more parking facilities for visitors.

A check with several of Edenton's motels and the hotel show reservations have been made by people from numerous states. Many groups have requested reservations for two nights, and some have reserved reservations for Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Widespread publicity has been given the tour through newspapers throughout the country, 46 radio stations in several states and 16 TV stations.

In order that the school children of Edenton may have an opportunity to visit the historic places on tour, the Woman's Club is giving a special rate of $5.00 to classes, accompanied by a teacher and at least one other adult.

Hostesses are requested to pick up their ribbons with name tags and flags at headquarters. All instructions for those selling tickets will be stapled to the inside of the ticket boxes.
