

AROUND THE FARMS IN CHOWAN COUNTY

By C. W. OVERMAN, Chowan County Agent

The Cotton Insect Situation generally has not become serious this season. However, each grower should examine his own cotton field and determine whether or not he needs to start dusting. This can be done by examining 100 squares scattered all over the field, hold in the hand any punctured squares found and then counting the punctured squares when finished. If the punctured square count runs as much as five, I would start dusting.

Fourteen fields were examined on Monday by the Agent, cooperating 4-H Club members and cooperating growers. In seven fields no punctured squares were found. Three of the field had 1% and two fields 2% punctured squares. In Yeopim community one field had 19% infestation and at Hancock another field had 10% infestation. These were the only farms showing need for dusting. Red spider has occurred in one or two fields.

Chowan 4-H Demonstration Teams very ably represented Chowan County in the District Elimination Day held at Washington, N. C., on July 1. The Forestry Team, composed of Joe Nixon and Leon Evans, was District winner and the Wildlife Team, composed of Johnny Winborne and Scott Ober, was District winner. All of the teams were judged by the Danish system. Two other 4-H teams from Chowan County were placed in the blue ribbon group and the remainder of the teams were placed in the red ribbon group. We were very proud of the fact that the Chowan teams showed up well enough to be placed in the second and first groups.

Credit for training the 4-H boys' teams goes to former Assistant County Agent R. S. Marsh and also local leaders and parents who assisted. Mr. Marsh spent considerable time rehearsing the boys. Catherine Aman and her leaders and parents did a fine job coaching the girls' demonstration teams.

There Are Nine 4-H Campers from Chowan at Camp Millstone this week. Accompanying the campers are Miss Catherine Aman, Assistant Home Economics Agent and Sherwood Harrell, a former outstanding 4-H Club member.

Club members attending camp are Brenda White, Margaret Rountree, Johnny Winborne, Bryant White, Jimmy Ward, Dorsey Ward, Richard White, Jerry White and Fahey Byrum, Jr.

The week will be packed full of pleasant experiences, recreation and class instruction for the campers. Swimming periods will be held each day. The campers will return on Saturday afternoon.

Entries In Fishing Contest Increase

Continued from Page 1, Section 1 wan River, Albemarle Sound and Edenton Bay. These waters are quite clear and the cool air has created lots of activity.

The average weight is running between two and three pounds, but R. C. Holland of Edenton brought in a beauty tipping the scales at seven pounds. Willie Bunch, Walter Adams and Madison Phillips also report catches up to six and seven pounds, trolling with artificial lures.

Rock are hitting so good for Frank Twiddy and Rodney Harrell, Sr., that they brought in 24 averaging two and one-half to four pounds, emptied the boat and immediately returned to the hot spot.

The popular spots are the vicinity between the railroad bridge and the bell buoy and Cannon's Ferry, Chowan River.

Largemouth bass are holding their own. Terry Wright, casting in Queen Anne's Creek, brought in a six pound beauty. Pembroke and Rocky Hook Creeks are popular spots for bass.

White perch are running to about one pound, the bell buoy in the river being one of the active areas.

There has been an increase in entries made in the Chamber of Commerce monthly fishing contest, according to Joe Thorud, chairman of the tourist and recreation committee. He said the current contest closes July 20 and will be the final month in the spring event. Catches may be entered at the Edenton Marina, Byrum Hardware Company, Edenton Restaurant, Hughes-Parker Hardware Company and Western Auto Associate Store, official weighing stations. All of these firms also donated the monthly prizes.
